Three Arabic Treatises on Aristotle's Rhetoric Lahcen El Yazghi Ezzaher, 2015-05-22 Winner 2018 MLA Aldo and Jeanne Scaglione Prize for a Translation of a Scholarly Study of Literature It is increasingly well documented that western rhetoric s journey from pagan Athens to the medieval academies of Christian Europe was significantly influenced by the intellectual thought of the Muslim Near East Lahcen Elyazghi Ezzaher contributes to the contemporary chronicling of this influence in Three Arabic Treatises on Aristotle s Rhetoric The Commentaries of al Farabi Avicenna and Averroes offering English translations of three landmark medieval Arabic commentaries on Aristotle s famous rhetorical treatise together in one volume for the first time Elegant and practical Elyazghi Ezzaher s translations give English speaking scholars and students of rhetoric access to key medieval Arabic rhetorical texts while elucidating the unique and important contribution of those texts to the revival of European interest in the rhetoric and logic of Aristotle which in turn influenced the rise of universities and the shaping of Western intellectual life With a focus on Book I of Aristotle s Rhetoric the commentaries of al Farabi Avicenna and Averroes translated by Elyazghi Ezzaher are paramount examples of an extensive Arabic Muslim tradition of textual commentary while also serving as rich corollaries to the medieval Greek and Latin rhetorical commentaries produced in Europe Elyazghi Ezzaher s translations are each accompanied by insightful scholarly introductions and notes that contextualize both historically and culturally these immensely significant works while highlighting a comparative multidisciplinary approach to rhetorical scholarship that offers new perspectives on one of the field s foundational texts A remarkable addition to rhetorical studies Three Arabic Treatises on Aristotle s Rhetoric The Commentaries of al Farabi Avicenna and Averroes not only provides vibrant English translations of essential medieval Arabic rhetorical texts but also challenges scholars and students of rhetoric to consider their own historical cultural and linguistic relationships to the texts and objects they study

A history of the thesis concerning man as a replacement for fallen angels* Vojtěch Novotný,2014-06-01 This monograph has set itself the goal to examine outline elucidate and supplement the existing body of knowledge concerning a theme from patristic and medieval theology recalled in 1953 by Marie Dominique Chenu and that is the assertion that man was created as a replacement for fallen angels Yves Congar Créature de remplacement Louis Bouyer Angé de remplacement The study first shows that the idea of man having being created to take the place of fallen angels was introduced by St Augustine and developed by other church fathers It then identifies the typical contexts in which the subject was raised by authors of the early Middle Ages but goes on to focus on the discussion that developed during the twelfth century Anselm of Canterbury the school of Laon Rupert of Deutz Honorius of Autun which represents the high point of the theme under investigation culminating in the assertion that man is an original being created for its own sake for whom God created the world a world which together with and through man is destined for the heavenly Jerusalem The question as to whether man would have been created if the angels had not sinned cur homo bears a clear similarity to a further controversy the origins of which also go back to the twelfth century and that is whether the Son of God would have become incarnate if man had not sinned cur Deus homo Next the book sheds light on how the subject begins to gradually fade away through the twelfth and thirteenth centuries both within monastic tradition which nonetheless held onto Augustine s motif and within scholastic theology which asserted that man was created for his own sake The conclusion summarizes the findings and points to the surprisingly contemporary relevance of the foregoing reflections particularly in relation to the critique that the Swiss philosopher and theologian Romano Amerio 1997 offers concerning a statement in the pastoral constitution of the Second Vatican Council Gaudium et spes 24 according to which man is the only
