Replicant Night No 3:

Replicant Night K. W. Jeter, 1997 Acclaimed author K W Jeter adds another chapter to the adventures of Rick Deckard the android hunter hero created by SF legend Philip K Dick and brought to life in the 1982 Ridley Scott movie In the Los Angeles of the future Deckard is in dire need of cash To earn money he consults on a movie adaptation of his hunt for the original replicants as seen in the film Blade Runner But when a living replicant and Deckard s former LAPD partner are slain the movie fantasy becomes grimly real

The Cinematic Novel and Postmodern Pop Fiction Décio Torres Cruz, 2019-12-05 D cio Torres Cruz approaches connections between literature and cinema partly through issues of gender and identity and partly through issues of reality and representation In doing so he looks at the various ways in which people have thought of the so called cinematic novel tracing the development of that genre concept not only in the French cin roman and film scenarios but also in novels from the United States England France and Latin America The main tendency he identifies is the blending of the cinematic novel with pop literature through allusions to Pop Art and other postmodern cultural trends His prime exhibits are a number of novels by the Argentinian writer Manuel Puig Betrayed by Rita Hayworth Heartbreak Tango The Buenos Aires Affair Kiss of the Spider Woman and Pubis angelical Bringing in suggestive sociocultural and psychoanalytical considerations Cruz shows how in Puig s hands the cinematic novel resulted in a pop collage of different texts films discourses and narrative devices which fused reality and imagination into dream and desire

American Cities in Post-Apocalyptic Science Fiction Robert Yeates, 2021-11-15 Visions of the American city in post apocalyptic ruin permeate literary and popular fiction across print visual audio and digital media American Cities in Post Apocalyptic Science Fiction explores the prevalence of these representations in American culture drawing from a wide range of primary and critical works from the early twentieth century to today Beginning with science fiction in literary magazines before taking in radio dramas film video games and expansive transmedia franchises Robert Yeates argues that post apocalyptic representations of the American city are uniquely suited for explorations of contemporary urban issues Examining how the post apocalyptic American city has been repeatedly adapted and repurposed to new and developing media over the last century this book reveals that the content and form of such texts work together to create vivid and immersive fictional spaces in ways that would otherwise not be possible Chapters present media specific analyses of these texts situating them within their historical contexts and the broader history of representations of urban ruins in American fiction Original in its scope and cross media approach American Cities in Post Apocalyptic Science Fiction both illuminates little studied texts and provides provocative new readings of familiar works such as Blade Runner and The Walking Dead placing them within the larger historical context of imaginings of the American city in ruins

Blade Runner Matt Hills, 2011-12-13 More than just a box office flop that resurrected itself in the midnight movie circuit Blade Runner 1982 achieved extraordinary cult status through video laserdisc and a five disc DVD collector s set Blade Runner has become a network of variant texts and fan speculations a franchise created around just one film Some have dubbed the movie classroom cult for its participation in academic debates while others have termed it meta cult in line with the work of Umberto Eco The film has also been called design cult thanks to Ridley Scott's brilliant creation of a Los Angeles in 2019 the graphics and props of which have been recreated by devoted fans Blade Runner tests the limits of this authenticity and artificiality challenging the reader to differentiate between classic and flop margin and mainstream true cult and its replicants

The Blade Runner Experience Will Brooker,2006-02-21 Since its release in 1982 Ridley Scott's Blade Runner based on Philip K Dick's novel Do Androids Dream of Electric Sheep has remained a cult classic through its depiction of a futuristic Los Angeles its complex enigmatic plot and its underlying questions about the nature of human identity The Blade Runner Experience The Legacy of a Science Fiction Classic examines the film in a broad context examining its relationship to the original novel the PC game the series of sequels and the many films influenced by its style and themes It investigates Blade Runner online fandom and asks how the film's future city compares to the present day Los Angeles and it revisits the film to pose surprising new questions about its characters and their world

Simulacrum America Elisabeth Kraus, Carolin Auer, 2000 A collection of articles that analyses the role of the media in America from a deconstructionist viewpoint This collection of original essays is a response to the paradigm shift that has taken place in cultural studies in the wake of postmodernism and poststructuralism Such concepts as truth or reality have been increasingly called into question since the realization that our experience of the real is always mediated through an empire of signs as Roland Barthes put it After a predominantly optimistic evaluation of the effects of the media in the 1960s by Marshall McLuhan Hans Magnus Enzensberger and others a growing awareness of the total manipulation of society by mass media imagery has emerged The very concept of representation has become problematic witness the influential essay The Precession of Simulacra by the French sociologist Jean Baudrillard in which he defines simulation as the generation by models of a real without origin or reality a hyperreal the current boom in realityTV comes to mind In the seventeen years since the publication of Baudrillard's Simulacra and Simulation ever more sophisticated technologies based on the computer as the simulacrum machine par excellence have offered us powerful new means of manipulating data and consequently means of manipulating editing and inventing reality. The aim of this study is to unmask false representations showing history personal and cultural identity especially gender and racial identities the simulacrum of speed and American reality itself to be constructs.

Postmodern Metanarratives Décio Torres Cruz, 2014-07-29 Postmodern Metanarratives investigates the relationship between cinema and literature by analyzing the film Blade Runner as a postmodern work that constitutes a landmark of cyberpunk narrative and establishes a link between tradition and the post modern.

The History of Science Fiction Adam Roberts, 2016-08-04 This book is the definitive critical history of science fiction. The 2006 first edition of this work traced the development of the genre from Ancient Greece and the European Reformation through to the end of the 20th century. This new 2nd edition has been revised thoroughly and very significantly expanded. An all new final chapter discusses 21st century science fiction and there is new material in every chapter a wealth of new readings and original research. The author's groundbreaking thesis that science fiction is born out of the 17th century Reformation is here bolstered with a wide range of new supporting material and many hundreds of 17th and 18th century science fiction texts some of which have never been discussed before. The account of 19th century science fiction has been expanded and the various chapters tracing the twentieth century bring in more writing by women and science fiction in other media including cinema TV comics fan culture and other modes.
