Local Governments and Climate Change Maryke van Staden,Francesco Musco,2010-04-05 Global warming is changing the world as we know it Climate change can have catastrophic impacts in numerous cities across the world It is time for us to react quickly and effectively The European Community EC has been leading the fight against climate change making it one of its top priorities We have introduced the most ambitious targets of their kind known as the 20 20 20 by 2020 initiative within the Climate Action and Renewable Energy Package As a result European Member States have taken on a commitment to curb their CO emissions by at least 20% by 2020 2 These targets are indeed commendable however they are only the start if we are to avoid the consequences of global warming Whilst top level coordination from the European Institutions and Member State governments is vital the role of mitigating and adapting to climate change at local level must not be forgotten In fact here cities regions and their citizens play a significant a role It is therefore vital they become directly involved in the climate change challenge The European Commission therefore launched in 2008 a new initiative the Covenant of Mayors which brings together a network of European mayors in a voluntary effort to go beyond the European Union s already ambitious targets Half of our greenhouse gas emissions GHGs are created in and by cities

The European Environmental Conscience in EU Politics Thomas Hoerber,Gabriel Weber,2021-12-06 Based on empirical studies of European energy and environmental policies this book suggests that in combination these two policy fields form a consensus in the EU which might also become the basis for a new

European ideology namely European sustainabilism It asks why an environmental conscience has grown since the late 1960s in the industrialised world and shows that whilst there is undeniable environmental degradation during this time and that a European environmental conscience has mainly developed through successive steps of European integration in energy policy In this connection between energy and the environmental we find one driver for European integration and indeed European identity If sustainabilism should become a European ideology it will substantially influence the way future Europeans will live This book will be of key interest to scholars and students of European Studies International Relations Political Science History Economics Sustainability Studies Environmental and Energy Policies in Europe
