Royal Australian Navy:

The Royal Australian Navy in World War II David Stevens, 2005 The definitive account of the part the Royal Australian Navy played in the Second World War Royal Australian Navy, 1939-1942 George Hermon Gill, 1957 This volume tells briefly the story of the Royal Australian Navy and of Australian naval policy between the wars and then records the part played by the ships and men of that Navy on every ocean and particularly in the eastern Mediterranean and Indian and Pacific Oceans from 1939 until the end of the first quarter of 1942 When the volume ends most of the surviving ships are on the Australia Station again and the Japanese fleets dominate half the Pacific Ocean and the seas to the north of Australia The author describes not only the actions of the Australian ships but the problems and policies of the British fleets of which they often formed a part and discusses the strategical and administrative questions encountered by the senior leaders in Australia Publisher's description The Royal Australian Navy David Stevens, 2001 A New Aircraft Carrier for the Royal Australian Navy? Gary Brown, Derek Woolner, 1982 No Pleasure Cruise T. R. Frame, 2004-07 In 1901 Australia's fledgling Federal Government assumed the responsibility for the new nation's defence Their first task was to take the aged and obsolete remnants of the colonies navies and create a national navy to defend our island's coastal waters and overseas trade routes For the first 40 years the Royal Australian Navy RAN was designed to serve alongside the Royal Navy and resembled it in everything but scale After the Second World War the RAN developed along US lines but despite these overseas ties the RAN has developed its own proud character and tradition and has entered the twenty first century as a confident and independent force in its own right In No Pleasure Cruise Australia's best known naval historian Dr Tom Frame charts the RAN's emergence as one of the world's strongest and most respected navies and its evolving relationship with the Australian public press and parliament Of Nautilus and Eagles Peter C. Royal Australian Navy,1962 The ABC of Royal Australian Navy Corvettes Libby Pearce,Able Seaman,2019-08-20 The tradition of naming ships of the Royal Australian Navy s fleet after our nation s cities and towns began when the Royal Australian Navy Fleet Unit was created in the years immediately preceding World War I When the Australian Fleet Unit first arrived in Sydney on 4 October 1913 it was led into Port Jackson by the flagship HMAS Australia I followed closely by two brand new cruisers each carrying the name of Australia s largest cities Melbourne and Sydney Later more cruisers were ordered and over time the names of other capital cities were added including Adelaide Brisbane Canberra Perth and Hobart The citizens of those major cities took much pride in having state of the art Australian warships so named particularly as most knew someone serving in them It followed that the exploits and adventures of those men and ships were reported with great enthusiasm and pride by hometown newspapers Soon after the outbreak of World War II an order was placed for sixty minesweepers of simple design to be constructed in Australian shipyards as part of the Commonwealth Government s wartime shipbuilding programme Rapidly produced these vessels were capable of patrol work shore bombardment minesweeping escort and survey duties and troop transport They became popularly known as corvettes and with so many ships commissioning the Navy turned its attention to regional towns and communities in search of worthy names The lead ship of the class was named HMAS Bathurst after the town in the central tablelands of NSW and those that followed each took their names from other regional towns dotted around the country This linkage between the Navy and the Nation forged strong and enduring links between the RAN and the communities it drew upon to crew its fighting ships at a time when Australia never felt more threatened Altogether 56 Bathurst class corvettes saw active service in the RAN during World War
