Sexual Incompatibility in Plants Dan Lewis, 1979 International Review of Cytology, 1999-09-01 International Review of Cytology presents current advances and comprehensive reviews in cell biology both plant and animal Articles address structure and control of gene expression nucleocytoplasmic interactions control of cell development and differentiation and cell transformation and growth Authored by some of the foremost scientists in the field each volume provides up to date information and directions for future research Unusual Autonomic Ganglia Embryonic Genome Activation in Mammal Embryos Temporal and Spatial Coordination Plastid Components Sexual Incompatibility in Plants and Fungi

Introduction to Plant Tissue Culture M. K. Razdan, 2003 Introduction and techniques Introductory history Laboratory organisation Media Aseptic manipulation Basic aspects Cell culture Cellular totipotency Somatic embryogenesis Applications to plant breeding Haploid production Triploid production In vitro pollination and fertilization Zygotic embryo culture Somatic hybridisation and cybridisation Genetic transformation Somaclonal and gametoclonal variant selection Application to horticulture and forestry Production of disease free plants clonal propagation General applications Industrial applications secondary metabolite production Germplasm conservation Plant Reproductive Ecology : Patterns and Strategies Jon and Lesley Lovett-Doust Professor of Biology the University of Windsor, 1988-07-07 This collection of reviews by leading investigators examines plant reproduction and sexuality within a framework of evolutionary ecology providing an up to date account of the field The contributors discuss conceptual issues showing the importance of sex allocation sexual selection and inclusive fitness and the dimensions of paternity and maternity in plants The evolution maintenance and loss of self incompatibility in plants the nature of sex choice in plants and sex dimorphism are all explored in detail Specific forms of biotic interactions shaping the evolution of plant reproductive strategy are discussed and a taxonomically based review of the reproductive ecology of non angiosperm plant groups such as bryophytes ferns and algae is presented Together these studies focus on the complexities of plant life cycles and the distinctive reproductive biologies of these organisms while showing the similarities between nonflowering plants and the more thoroughly documented flowering species Self-Incompatibility in Flowering Plants Veronica E. Franklin-Tong, 2008-07-30 Great progress has been made in our understanding of pollen pistil interactions and self incompatibility SI in flowering plants in the last few decades This book covers a broad spectrum of research into SI with accounts by internationally renowned scientists It comprises two sections Evolution and Population Genetics of SI Molecular and Cell Biology of SI Systems The reader will gain an insight into the diversity and complexity of these polymorphic cell cell recognition and rejection systems Heteromorphic and homomorphic SI systems and our current understanding of the evolution and phylogeny of these systems based on the most recent molecular sequence data are covered Further the book presents major advances in our knowledge of the pistil and pollen S determinants and other unlinked components involved in SI as well as the apparently diverse cellular regulatory mechanisms utilised to ensure inhibition of self pollen Biochemical Basis of Plant Breeding Carlos A. Neyra, 2019-07-17 First published in 1985 This book presents a comprehensive survey of progress and current knowledge of those biochemical processes with greater potential for the development of superior cultivars Photosynthesis photorespiration nitrate assimilation biological nitrogen fixation and starch and protein synthesis Somatic Hybridization in Crop Improvement I Y. P. S. Bajaj, 2012-12-06 Thirty five chapters on various aspects of fusion of plant protoplasts and somatic hybridization deal with the regeneration of interspecific and intergeneric somatic hybrids and cybrids in various plants cereals grasses legumes potato tomato eggplant lettuce Brassica Datura Hyoscyamus Nicotiana Catharanthus Rauwolfia Citrus Poncirus Prunus Pyrus Populus algae bryophytes and ferns The implications of somatic hybridization in gene transfer in wide crosses and for the induction of genetic variability in various crops are discussed The book is an invaluable source of information for advanced students teachers and research scientists in the field of plant breeding genetic engineering plant tissue culture and general plant biotechnology Plant Propagation Concepts and Laboratory Exercises Caula A. Beyl, Robert N. Trigiano, 2008-06-09 A complete teaching guide with hands on laboratories this book is edited by two of the leading experts in the field The text develops a working knowledge of the principles of plant propagation as they apply in temperate and tropical environments In addition to presenting the essential fundamentals this carefully conceived w Growth, Differentiation and Sexuality Ursula Kües, Reinhard Fischer, 2006-07-19 Since publication of the first edition of Volume I in 1994 the field of fungal biology has developed tremendously mainly through the advancement of various molecular techniques and international fungal genome projects To accommodate these developments the second edition has been completely updated Six chapters have been revised by former authors others by newly recruited experts and also novel subjects emerged in more recent years have been added to the book Leading scientists in the field have compiled comprehensive overviews as well as latest results obtained from cytological genetic and molecular studies Topics include cellular and colony growth of fungi cellular fusion and incompatibility senescence and programmed cell death environmental and physiological signalling in differentiation processes asexual and sexual reproduction mitosis and meiosis of various types of fungi Both parallels and differences become visible between individual fungi as well as between fungal classes Developmental Regulation of Plant Gene Expression Don Grierson, 2013-03-12 The intricacies of plant growth and development present a fascinating intellectual challenge and yet our understanding of the subject has increased relatively slowly despite the application of many different experimental approaches Now however the introduction of molecular methods coupled with genetic transformation technology has provided a change in pace and fundamental advances are occurring rapidly This volume the second in our Plant Biotechnology series shows how we are beginning to understand the molecular basis of plant growth and development and are thus moving from the descriptive to the predictive stage The ability discussed in chapter one to generate a fivefold change in plant height by overexpression of a single gene for the photoreceptor phytochrome heralds not only a new phase in plant photobiology but also highlights the close relationship between fundamental knowledge and commercial application. Other chapters review progress in our understanding of the molecular basis of hormone action and processes such as tuber development, seed protein synthesis and deposition, fruit ripening and self recognition during pollination. The successful uses of antisense genes to alter the colour and pattern of flowers and to change the enzymic composition of ripening fruit are also discussed together with identification and down regulation of a gene involved in ethylene synthesis by antisense technology. Opportunities are considered for altering the composition and quality of harvested plant organs and for using plants to synthesise novel products.
