Land Anne Doughty,2015-10-22 It is 1942 and the Second World War has been going on for three wearying years Work is hard in the Ulster mills in Northern Ireland where Alex Hamilton struggles to keep overworked machines going just as his wife Emily tries to provide food and comfort not only for their own children but for the many young American soldiers stationed nearby Bad news comes daily but there is still a welcome for friends and strangers and moments of happiness come at even the darkest of times Shadow on the Land Wayne D. Transportation is still by stagecoach and freight wagon There is a movement afoot for a people s railroad paid for by the state to bring the benefits of rails to the area to make it easier to ship livestock and produce and to encourage settlement For years the competing railroad barons James J Hill and Edward H Harriman have done nothing toward building a line in central Oregon but now under the impetus of the people s railroad bill they both set out to do just that Lee Dawes a front man buying rights of way for the Hill interests is charged with besting Mike Quinn who is acquiring rights of way for the Harriman line Dawes and Quinn have competed in this kind of work for years as they have competed for women An essential property on the way to Bend is owned by Hanna Racine and both Dawes and Quinn want the right of way across her land The two vie to come up with a strategy to seduce her into committing to the interest they represent while an unknown third party is intent on frustrating them both through brutal violence The Land Without Shadows Abdourahman A. No Magic Bullet Allan M. Brandt, 1987 The recent epidemic of AIDS and herpes virus has called into question not only the ability of the medical profession to treat venereal disease but its willingness to do so No Magic Bullet a perceptive analysis of the treatment of venereal diseases since the 1880s places these questions in critical historical perspective Beginning with Victorian hysteria about syphilis and continuing to our current concerns about AIDS Allan Brandt recounts the various medical military and public health responses to venereal diseases that have arisen over the years Brandt demonstrates that Americans tendency to view sexually transmitted disease as both a punishment for sexual misconduct and an index of social decay has seriously impeded efforts to develop magic bullets the miracle drugs that would effectively halt the spread of infection Resolving the conflicts between the medical and moral approaches to venereal disease he argues is the first step toward developing effective policies for disease control

Shadow Over the Land D. G. Alderton,2022-04-26 This is a journey to a time when the eastern half of what would become known as the United States was being transformed by the settlers there The western half was still relatively unknown This story takes an imagined look at the affairs of some of the native tribes that inhabited the northwestern part of this country primarily the Nez Perce people I take some historical facts and go back in time from there with a tale of adventure romance and revenge I work this tale back toward that point of history It being a pristine land with wide open possibilities that one s imagination could very much appreciate Where we can consider the goals desires and struggles of such a place and time and the interactions with nature and a focus on their horse culture that they gave their wholehearted attention to Come with me and enter that place and time for what I believe will be a pleasant distraction from the cares of now which we all find ourselves There is some violence depicted but it is not intended to incite anyone to any violence of any kind

A Shadow on the Household Bryan Prince,2012-12-04 The extraordinary story of one couple s determination to free themselves and their children from slavery and make a new life in Canada Prior to abolition in 1865 as many as 40 000 men women and children made the perilous trip north from enslavement in the United States to freedom in Canada. Many were aided by networks that came to be known as the Underground Railroad. And the stories that emerge from the past about these journeys are truly remarkable. In A Shadow on the Household, Bryan Prince, a descendant of slaves, brings to life the heart-wrenching story of the Weems family and their struggle to liberate themselves from slavery. John Weems, a man who purchased his own freedom, paid the owner of his enslaved wife and eight children an annual fee to keep them together at one plantation. But when that owner died, the Weemses were cruelly separated and scattered throughout the South. Heartbroken and desperate, John resolved to raise the money to buy his family's freedom and reunite them. Mining newspapers, private letters, diaries, estate records, marriage registries, and abolitionist papers for details of a story cloaked in secrecy, Bryan Prince has rescued the Weems family and their plight from historical oblivion. An unforgettable story of love and persistence played out in four countries—the United States, Canada, Jamaica, and the United Kingdom—against the backdrop of the publication of Uncle Tom's Cabin, a growing abolitionist movement, and the heroic efforts of the Underground Railroad, the Weems family saga must be read to be believed.
