

Natural Selection

When a population exceeds its carrying capacity, the organisms with the best adaptations are most likely to survive and reproduce. This helps increase the frequency of beneficial alleles within the population.

Natural Selection Of Populations And Communities:

The Natural Selection of Populations and Communities David Sloan Wilson, 1980      Darwinian Populations and Natural Selection Peter Godfrey-Smith, 2009-03-26 In 1859 Darwin described a deceptively simple mechanism that he called natural selection a combination of variation inheritance and reproductive success He argued that this mechanism was the key to explaining the most puzzling features of the natural world and science and philosophy were changed forever as a result The exact nature of the Darwinian process has been controversial ever since however Godfrey Smith draws on new developments in biology philosophy of science and other fields to give a new analysis and extension of Darwin's idea The central concept used is that of a Darwinian population a collection of things with the capacity to undergo change by natural selection From this starting point new analyses of the role of genes in evolution the application of Darwinian ideas to cultural change and evolutionary transitions that produce complex organisms and societies are developed Darwinian Populations and Natural Selection will be essential reading for anyone interested in evolutionary theory      The Statistics of Natural Selection on Animal Populations Brian F. Manly, 2013-03-09 In the concluding chapter of his famous book on the theory of evolution by natural selection Charles Darwin 1859 remarked that When the views entertained in this volume on the origin of species or when analogous views are generally admitted we can dimly foresee that there will be a considerable revolution in natural history This proved of course to be completely correct At present there is a great divergence of opinion about the general importance of natural selection in the evolutionary process Nevertheless biologists are on the whole united in their acceptance of the potential power of selection in changing populations Given this situation it is not surprising to find that many attempts to detect the effects of natural selection have been made since the time of Darwin This area of study has been called ecological genetics It involves the collection of data of various kinds and in many cases the development of special methods for analysing these data This book is a summary of methods for data analysis concentrating on those that are applicable to animal populations particularly wild populations      Carbon Dioxide, Populations, and Communities Fakhri A. Bazzaz, 1996-07-17 In past decades and in association with a continuing global industrial development the global atmospheric concentration of carbon dioxide has been rising Among the many predictions made concerning this disturbing trend is global warming sufficient to melt polar ice caps thereby dramatically altering existing shorelines This book will help fill an obvious gap in the carbon dioxide debate by substituting data for speculation Includes contributions from leading authorities around the world Serves as a companion to Carbon Dioxide and Terrestrial Ecosystems The first book of its kind to explore evolutionary responses of both populations and communities to elevated carbon dioxide      On the Origin of Societies by Natural Selection Jonathan H. Turner, Alexandra Maryanski, 2015-11-17 Kinship religion and economy were not natural to humans nor to species of apes that had to survive on the African savanna Society from its very beginnings involved an uneasy necessity that often stood in conflict with humans ape ancestry these tensions only grew along with later more complex eventually colossal sociocultural systems The ape in us was not extinguished nor obviated by culture indeed our ancestry continues to place pressures on individuals and their sociocultural creations Not just an exercise in history this pathbreaking book dispels many myths about the beginning of society to gain new understandings of the many pressures on societies today Experimental Evolution Theodore Garland, Michael R. Rose, 2009-12-03 Experimental approaches to evolution provide indisputable evidence of evolution by directly observing the process at work Experimental evolution deliberately duplicates evolutionary processes forcing life histories to evolve producing adaptations to stressful environmental conditions and generating lineage splitting to create incipient species This unique volume summarizes studies in experimental evolution outlining current techniques and applications and presenting the field's full range of research from selection in the laboratory to the manipulation of populations in the wild It provides work on such key biological problems as the evolution of Darwinian fitness sexual reproduction life history athletic performance and learning Population-Level Ecological Risk Assessment Lawrence W. Barnhouse, Jr. Munns, Mary T. Sorensen, 2007-09-25 Most ecological risk assessments consider the risk to individual organisms or organism level attributes From a management perspective however risks to population level attributes and processes are often more relevant Despite many published calls for population risk assessment and the abundance of available scientific research and technical tool The Statistics of Natural Selection on Animal Populations Bryan F. J. Manly, 1987 Environmental Science: Foundations and Applications Andrew Friedland, Rick Relyea, David Courard-Hauri, 2011-02-25 Watch a video clips and view sample chapters at www.whfreeman.com/friedlandpreview Created for non majors courses in environmental science environmental studies and environmental biology Environmental Science Foundations and Applications emphasizes critical thinking and quantitative reasoning skills Students learn how to analyze graphs measure environmental impact on various scales and use simple calculations to understand key concepts With a solid understanding of science fundamentals and how the scientific method is applied students are able to evaluate information objectively and draw their own conclusions The text equips students to interpret the wealth of data they will encounter as citizens professionals and consumers Friedland/Relyea Environmental Science for AP* Andrew Friedland, Rick Relyea, David Courard-Hauri, 2011-02-15 Friedland Relyea Environmental Science for AP was specifically developed to meet the requirements of the AP Environmental Science course and the needs of its students and teachers This highly anticipated new textbook explores the science behind environmental science and involves students with the fundamental concepts and findings that inform environmental decision making at all levels from personal choices to national and international policy This site will be the source for periodic updates on this exciting project as it draws closer to publication For the latest developments or if you would like to be a part of this project as a reviewer or class tester please contact Carlise Stembridge Introduction to Insect Pest Management Robert L. Metcalf, William H. Luckmann, 1994-07-27 Contributed papers by experts in the field detail how to put integrated pest management to work

Presents the philosophy and practice ecological and economic background as well as strategies and techniques including not only the use of chemical pesticides but also biological genetic and cultural methods to manage the harm done by insect pests Covers such key crops as cotton corn apples and forage This edition reports important advances of the last decade including an increased environmental and ecological awareness and a trend toward lower chemical pesticide use

Individual-Based Models and Approaches In Ecology D. L. DeAngelis, 2018-01-18 Until fairly recently populations were handled as homogenized averages which made modeling feasible but which ignored the essential fact that in any population there is a great variety of individuals of different ages sizes and degrees of fitness Recently because of the increased availability of affordable computer power approaches have been developed which are able to recognize individual differences Individual based models are of great use in the areas of aquatic ecology terrestrial ecology landscape or physiological ecology terrestrial ecology landscape or physiological ecology and agriculture This book discusses which biological problems individual based models can solve as well as the models inherent limitations It explores likely future directions of theoretical development in these models as well as currently feasible management applications and the best mathematical approaches and computer languages to use The book also details specific applications to theory and management

Ecological Restoration in the Midwest Christian Lenhart, Peter C. Smiley, Jr., 2018-06-01 Most people do not realize it but the Midwest has been at the forefront of ecological restoration longer than perhaps any other region in the United States dating back to the 1930s Because of its industrial history agricultural productivity and natural features such as the Great Lakes the Midwest has always faced a unique set of ecological challenges Focusing on six cutting edge case studies that highlight thirty restoration efforts and research sites throughout the region Iowa Indiana Illinois Wisconsin Michigan Minnesota and Ohio editors Christian Lenhart and Peter Rocky Smiley Jr bring together a group of scholars and practitioners to show how midwestern restoration efforts have developed as well as where they are headed Whether cleaning up contamination from auto plants in Ohio or restoring native prairie grasses along the Iowa highway the contributors uncover a vast network of interested citizens and volunteer groups committed to preserving the region's environment This study intended for researchers students and practitioners also provides an updated synthesis of restoration theory and practice and pinpoints emerging issues of importance in the Midwest such as climate change and the increase in invasive species it will bring to the region Though focusing exclusively on the Midwest the contributors demonstrate how these case studies apply to restoration efforts across the globe Contributors Luther Aadland David P Benson Andrew F Casper Hua Chen Joe DiMisa Steve Glass Heath M Hagy John A Harrington Neil Haugerud Constance Hausman Michael J Lemke Christian Lenhart Jen Lyndall Dan Shaw John A Shuey Peter C Smiley Jr Daryl Smith
