Picabo And Photography The Dark Mirror:

Picasso and Photography Anne Baldassari, Pablo Picasso, Museum of Fine Arts, Houston, 1997 The extent to which photography influenced the work of Pablo Picasso is now considered by scholars to be of great importance in the understanding of the artist's entire oeuvre. Linked to a major exhibition, this beautifully illustrated book presents a unique view into Picasso's relationship with the photographic arts. The presence in his personal estate of several thousand photographic images donated to the French government upon his death prompted this study and bears powerful witness to the artist's versatility and imaginative depth. The collection featured here includes nineteenth-century portraits, postcards featuring colonial themes or ethnic groups in regional dress as well as portraits, self-portraits and studio views taken by Picasso himself. Already at the turn of the century they contributed to the artist's figurative expression as well as to his major cubist interpretations. The artist commanded a wealth of themes, styles and media over his long and productive career and he explored drawing, painting and sculpture. His voracious appetite for experimentation led him to push the medium to unorthodox extremes both stylistically and technically. The range of Picasso's photographic production comprises a variety of forms and techniques and resulted in independent works of art: superimposed photographs, cliché verres, photo-based engravings, photograms and original drawings on photographs, slides, collages and photographic cutouts. His collaborations with other artists such as Dora Maar, Brassai, Gjon Mili and André Villers reveal a playful inventiveness and demonstrate his ability to push photography in unexpected directions. The works featured in this study provide new insight into Picasso's creative world. An outstanding text by Anne Baldassari makes a major contribution to Picasso scholarship by examining what could be the last unknown area of the artist's work. Books Rose Army, 1997 The Dark Mirror [pressbook], 1946 Dark Mirrors Stanley Wolukau-Wanambwa, 2021 Dark Mirrors assembles sixteen essays by photographer and critic Stanley Wolukau-Wanambwa focusing on contemporary fine art photographic and video practices that are principally though not exclusively rooted in the United States, written between 2015 and 2021. Wolukau-Wanambwa analyses the image's relationship to the urgent and complex questions that define our era through the lens of artistic practices and works which insightfully engage with the ongoing contemporaneity of disparate histories and the ever-changing status of the visual in social life. The book sets out an argument that one of the most dynamic sites of artistic invention in photographic practice over the past decade has been the photographic book and thus many of the essays in the volume assess artistic works as they are bodied forth in that form. Among the recurrent themes that emerge from these rigorous probing essays are the complex interrelationship of anti-blackness and visibility, the fragility and complexity of embodied difference in portraiture, the potency of verbal and visual media as social forms and the politics of attention. With essays on Deana Lawson, Dana Lixenberg, Paul Pfeiffer, Arthur Jafa, Katy Grannan and Robert Bergman among others. The Dark Mirror Suzanne Harper, 1989 The Dark Mirror Basil COPPER, 1997 The Dark Mirror
