Weiner,Mayzie Hough,2012-06-21 This study of medical treatment in the antebellum South argues that Southern physicians scientific training and practice uniquely entitled them to formulate medical justification for the imbalanced racial hierarchies of the period Challenged with both helping to preserve the slave system by acknowledging and preserving clear distinctions of race and sex and enhancing their own authority with correct medical diagnoses and effective treatment doctors sought to understand bodies that did not necessarily fit into neat dichotomies or agree with suggested treatments Expertly drawing the dynamic tensions during this period in which Southern culture and the demands of slavery often trumped science Weiner explores how doctors struggled with contradictions as medicine became a key arena for debate over the meanings of male and female sick and well black and white North and South

Fashioning Inland Communities Yaari Felber-Seligman, 2025 When viewed from the economic centers of the Indian or Atlantic Oceans the Ruvuma region of East Africa crossing what is now Tanzania Malawi and Mozambique would look like a periphery But the same factors that marginalize the region historically brought distinct opportunities In Fashioning Inland Communities Yaari Felber Seligman traces the long history from the first millennium CE into the twentieth century of Ruvuma trade practices within a changing world Felber Seligman argues that Ruvuma trade should be understood fundamentally as a set of voluntary choices undertaken and revised to further communities aspirations Ruvuma used fashion to build varied communities from local to pan regional reflecting the dynamic relationships among inland groups Examples of Ruvuma popular fashions reveal processes of meaning making and community building that call for us to expand our attention to the ways in which East African peoples interacted alongside as well as beyond trade networks that sourced prestige and commercial goods Popular culture here emerges as a heterarchical force that shaped lasting multidirectional connections across and between Ruvuma and their neighbors As both a subject and a strategy for analysis the history of popular fashion shifts how we view histories of small decentralized societies as they encounter larger economies Felber Seligman demonstrates that this has implications for our understanding not only of trade but of material culture community gender and family

Fernandes,2017-08-10 Storytelling has proliferated today from TED Talks and Humans of New York to a plethora of story coaching agencies and consultants Heartbreaking accounts of poverty mistreatment and struggle may move us deeply But what do they move us to do And what are the stakes in the crafting and use of storytelling In Curated Stories Sujatha Fernandes considers the rise of storytelling alongside the broader shift to neoliberal free market economies She argues that stories have been reconfigured to promote entrepreneurial self making and restructured as easily digestible soundbites mobilized toward utilitarian ends Fernandes roams the globe and returns with stories from the Afghan Women's Writing Project the domestic workers movement and the undocumented student Dreamer movement in the United States and the Misi n Cultura project in Venezuela She shows how the conditions under which certain stories are told the tropes through which they are narrated and the ways in which they are responded to may actually disguise the deeper contexts of global inequality Curated stories shift the focus away from structural problems and defuse the confrontational politics of social movements Not just a critical examination of the contemporary use of narrative and its wider impact on our collective understanding of pressing social issues Curated Stories also explores how storytelling might be reclaimed to allow for the complexity of experience to be expressed in pursuit of transformative social change Turning Archival Daniel Marshall, Zeb Tortorici, 2022-09-06 The contributors to Turning Archival trace the rise of the archive as an object of historical desire and study within queer studies and examine how it fosters historical imagination and knowledge Highlighting the growing significance of the archival to LGBTQ scholarship politics and everyday life they draw upon accounts of queer archival encounters in institutional grassroots and everyday repositories of historical memory The contributors examine such topics as the everyday life of marginalized queer immigrants in New York City as an archive secondhand vinyl record collecting and punk bootlegs the self archiving practices of grassroots lesbians and the decolonial potential of absences and gaps in the colonial archives through the life of a suspected hermaphrodite in colonial Guatemala Engaging with archives from Africa to the Americas to the Arctic this volume illuminates the allure of the archive reflects on that which resists archival capture and outlines the stakes of queer and trans lives in the archival turn Contributors Anjali Arondekar Kate Clark Ann Cvetkovich Carolyn Dinshaw Kate Eichhorn Javier Fernandez Galeano Emmett Harsin Drager Elliot James Marget Long Martin F Manalansan IV Daniel Marshall Mar a Elena Mart nez Joan Nestle Iv n Ramos David Serlin Zeb Tortorici

E. Lorcin, Todd Shepard, 2016-05 While the Mediterranean is often considered a distinct unified space recent scholarship on the early modern history of the sea has suggested that this perspective is essentially a Western one devised from the vantage point of imperial power that historically patrolled the region's seas and controlled its ports. By contrast for the peoples of its southern shores the Mediterranean was polymorphous shifting with the economic and seafaring exigencies of the moment. Nonetheless by the nineteenth century the idea of a monolithic Mediterranean had either been absorbed by or imposed on the populations of the region. In French Mediterraneans editors Patricia M. E. Lorcin and Todd Shepard offer a collection of scholarship that reveals the important French element in the nineteenth and twentieth century creation of the singular Mediterranean. These essays provide a critical study of space and movement through new approaches to think about the maps, migrations and margins of the sea in the French imperial and transnational context. By reconceptualizing the Mediterranean this volume illuminates the diversity of connections between places and polities that rarely fit models of nation-state allegiances or preordained geographies.

In this long-term community study of the freedom movement in rural majority black Claiborne County, Mississippi, Emilye Crosby explores the impact of the African American freedom struggle on small communities in general and questions common assumptions.

Contesting Bodies and Nation in Canadian History Patrizia Gentile, Jane Nicholas, 2013-12-06. From fur coats to nude paintings and from sports to beauty contests, the body has been central to the literal and figurative fashioning of ourselves as individuals and as a nation. In this first collection on the history of the body in Canada, an interdisciplinary group of scholars explores the multiple ways the body has served as a site of contestation in Canadian history in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries. Showcasing a variety of methodological approaches, Contesting Bodies and Nation in Canadian History includes essays on many themes that engage with the larger historical relationship between the body and nation: medicine and health, fashion and consumer culture, citizenship and work, and more. The contributors reflect on the intersections of bodies with the concept of nationhood as well as how understandings of the body are historically contingent. The volume is capped off with a critical introductory chapter by the editors on the history of bodies and the development of the body as a category of analysis.

Soundscapes of Uyghur Islam Rachel Harris, 2020-11-03. China's Xinjiang Uyghur Autonomous Region is experiencing a crisis of securitization and mass incarceration. In Soundscapes of Uyghur Islam, author Rachel Harris examines the religious practice of a group of Uyghur women in a small village now engulfed in this chaos. Despite their remote location, these village women are mobile and connected, and their religious soundscapes flow out across transnational networks. Harris explores the spiritual and political geographies they inhabit, moving outward from the village to trace connections with Mecca, Istanbul, Bishkek, and Beijing. Sound, embodiment, and territoriality illuminate both the patterns of religious change among Uyghurs and the policies of cultural erasure used by the Chinese state to reassert its control over the land the Uyghurs occupy. By drawing on contemporary approaches to the circulation of popular music, Harris considers how various forms of Islam that arrive via travel and the internet come into dialogue with local embodied practices Synthesized together these practices create new forms that facilitate powerful affective experiences of faith

Radium Girls Claudia Clark, 2000-11-09 In the early twentieth century a group of women workers hired to apply luminous paint to watch faces and instrument dials found themselves among the first victims of radium poisoning Claudia Clark's book tells the compelling story of these women who at first had no idea that the tedious task of dialpainting was any different from the other factory jobs available to them But after repeated exposure to the radium laced paint they began to develop mysterious often fatal illnesses that they traced to conditions in the workplace Their fight to have their symptoms recognized as an industrial disease represents an important chapter in the history of modern health and labor policy Clark's account emphasizes the social and political factors that influenced the responses of the workers managers government officials medical specialists and legal authorities involved in the case She enriches the story by exploring contemporary disputes over workplace control government intervention and industry backed medical research Finally in appraising the dialpainters campaign to secure compensation and prevention of further incidents efforts launched with the help of the reform minded middle class women of the Consumers League Clark is able to evaluate the achievements and shortcomings of the industrial health movement as a whole
