Bowman, 2013-02-05 This the fourth volume of a five part work that provides a comprehensive insight into all aspects of RAF Bomber Command in World War Two begins in the spring of 1944 with a completely new insight on the catastrophic raid on Nuremburg on the night of 30 31 March and follows with the disastrous attack on Mailly le Camp in May Gradually the Allied Bomber Offensive began to bear fruit and in June 1944 the invasion of Normandy took place under an umbrella of almost total Allied air superiority RAF Bomber Command was to play a huge part in what proved to be the final steps to ultimate victory returning to the mass raids on German cities by night and even mounting raids on the Reich by day The authors well tried formula of using background information interspersed with the crews personal narrative takes you raid by raid through each tour of ops while carrying full bomb loads in sub zero temperatures blighted by atrocious weather conditions and dogged by fear of fire death or serious injury or having to endure months if not years of miserable existence and near starvation behind the wire in notorious PoW camps The path to peace was paved with the unmitigated slow ebbing of courage with an ever present possibility of death unannounced from a prowling night fighter nondescript and unseen as night after incessant night shattered and ailing bombers could run out of luck to crash in some foreign field while other crews almost home almost empty ran out of fuel and died horrible tortuous deaths in twisted and tangled wreckage Not for them the glory that was accorded The Few but as Winston Churchill said Fighters are our salvation but the bombers alone provide the means of victory Royal Air Force Bomber Command Losses of the Second World War: Aircraft and crews lost during 1939-1940 W. R. Chorley, 1992 This is the first volume in the series which deals with the losses sustained by the RAF Bomber Command during the 2nd World War It has already found favour with historians and those friends and relatives affected by the loss RAF Bomber Command Losses of the Second World War 8 W. Bowman, 2012-10-24 This massive work provides a comprehensive insight to the experiences of Bomber Commands pilots and aircrew throughout WWII From the early wartime years when the RAFs first attempts to avenge Germanys onslaught were bedeviled by poor navigation and inaccurate bombing to the last winning onslaught that finally tamed Hitler in his Berlin lair these volumes trace the true experiences of the men who flew the bombers Hundreds of

Bowman,2016-07-07 Of the 7 953 Bomber Command aircraft lost on night operations during the Second World War an estimated 5 833 fell victim to Luftwaffe night fighters In this detailed re enactment of the air war over Western Europe and the raids flown by the men of RAF Bomber Command author Martin Bowman pieces together official data with the words and memories of the pilots and air crew who took part Detailing many unique experiences during the night bombing raids that were hurled against Hitler s war machine these truly epic stories span the period between November 1939 and 1945 and form an appropriate epitaph to the men of RAF Bomber Command The Greatest Escape Martin Barratt,2023-06-30 This is the story of a wartime bomber its crew and of a tantalizing detective story unfolding over nearly a quarter of a century of intensive research It is also a story of courage fortitude and endurance and of one man s will to survive against seemingly insurmountable odds Bomber Command s horrific loss rate during the Second World War cannot be underestimated Of the 120 000 young aircrew who served 55 373 were to perish most of them losing their lives over the night skies of Europe The Battle of the Ruhr the campaign to destroy the industrial heartland of Germany which raged between March and July 1943 was both savage in intensity and costly in terms of aircrew Prospects for survival for anyone involved in operational flying with Bomber Command at that time were particularly bleak Young aircrew could expect a lifespan measured in terms of weeks where seemingly only a fiery death in an exploding aircraft or captivity as a Prisoner of War awaited It is with this period that the book is primarily concerned and more specifically with the crew of Halifax JB869 of 102 Squadron of which the author s father was the navigator and its loss on the night of 4 May 1943 He survived baling out and later an attempted lynching on the ground to become a Prisoner of War But his escape from his shattered aircraft was only the first of many episodes in his two and a half years of captivity that would see him pushed to the limits of endurance and face death more than once Like so many veterans the author s father chose not to speak about his wartime experiences until quite late in his life and it was only after his death and the chance discovery of an archive of letters logbooks accounts and other material that the full story of his incredible series of escapes came to light Through extensive research including face to face interviews and correspondence with a significant number of ex aircrew the author has painstakingly pieced together the complete story of the crew of this aircraft identifying and contacting relatives of each crew member and for some bringing closure after decades of not knowing how or in some cases where their loved one had met their deaths

The Night Air War Martin W. Bowman, 2015-07-31 Of the 7 953 Bomber Command aircraft lost on night operations during the Second World War an estimated 5 833 fell victim to Luftwaffe night fighters In this detailed re-enactment of the air war over Western Europe and the raids flown by the men of RAF Bomber Command the author has pieced together official data and the words and memories of the pilots and air crew who participated in the proceedings Across fifteen chapters many unique experiences are regaled enlivening the history of the night bombing raids that were hurled against Hitler s war machine during the latter half of the Second World War They span the period between November 1943 and 1945 and cover the encounters between the Luftwaffe and RAF Bomber Command during their heyday No Operation Was Easy was a commonly coined phrase amongst this group who night after night struck out at targets such as the The Big City Berlin Stuttgart and the Ruhr These truly epic stories gleaned from the memories of the men who made up Bomber Command serve as an appropriate epitaph to their collective effort
