purpose of safety management is to make sure that the number of accidents and incidents is kept as low as possible or as low as is reasonably practicable. This means that safety management must start from the manifestations of the absence of safety and that paradoxically safety is measured by counting the number of cases where it fails rather than by the number of cases where it succeeds. Focusing on what goes right rather than on what goes wrong changes the definition of safety from avoiding that something goes wrong to ensuring that everything goes right. From a Safety II perspective the purpose of safety management is to ensure that as much as possible goes right in the sense that everyday work achieves its objectives. This means that safety is managed by what it achieves: successes, things that go right, and that likewise it is measured by counting the number of cases where things go right. In order to do this, safety management cannot only be reactive; it must also be proactive.
