Literary Theories of Uncertainty Mette Leonard Hoeg, 2021-08-26 As the first study to examine the concept of uncertainty of meaning as it relates to modern and contemporary literature and literary theory Literary Theories of Uncertainty demonstrates how this notion functions as a literary feature narrative device and theoretical concept in 20th and 21st century texts Calling upon theories of interpretation and challenging the distinction between literature and theory this exploration is broken down into three sections Poststructuralist legacies of uncertainty life writing and uncertainty and contemporary literary uncertainties The volume takes into account related terms such as undecidability indeterminacy ambiguity unreadability and obscurity and the topics examined include undecidability and the motif of suspension in deconstruction Derrida and Bataille poetry as a mode of critical discourse and point of convergence between logico mathematical ideas of undecidability and literary forms of uncertainty uncertainty in relation to speech and the impact of Robert Antelme on Mascolo and Blanchot Proust and temporal uncertainty uncertainty in relation to death trauma and autobiography moral uncertainty in the Scandinavian welfare state and Nordic Noir the aesthetically disruptive and anti authorian effect of uncertainty in the works of German Turkish writer Emine Sevgi Ozdamar uncertainty in the form of the double and in relation to meta fiction and many more Literary Theories of Uncertainty collates original and diverse discussions by some of the most prominent inquiring minds in literary cultural and critical theory today to map out the contours of the field of theory of uncertainty

Archival Afterlives Laura Hughes, 2023-11-15 A capacious analysis of a legendary intellectual friendship and the material legacies it left behind Over the course of their decades long friendship Hélène Cixous and Jacques Derrida assembled overlapping archives of written experiments and exchanges that document a shared interest in their literary afterlives In this incisive account Laura Hughes shows how pushing against the limits of writing and of life itself means not only imagining but manifesting a community of future readers Archival Afterlives Cixous Derrida and the Matter of Friendship examines the embodied nature of literary creation taking letters fragments notes and other ephemera as objects of critical analysis and care Combining close readings of key texts and previously unexamined archival materials Hughes traces critical connections between Cixous and Derrida between the theoretical and the autobiographical and between life writing and its limits In putting deconstruction into dialogue with new material analyses and archive studies Archival Afterlives positions this historical and intellectual relationship as a lens through which to reexamine the legacy of critical theory itself

Reflets Réciproques Pamela Marie Hoffer, 2006 Reflets r ciproques A Prismatic Reading of Stéphane Mallarmé and Hélène Cixous evokes the refractory aspect of a prism that bends and deflects light in order to produce a spectrum of twentieth century thought emanating from the late nineteenth century French literary avant garde Because the works of Mallarmé and Cixous are often described as hermetic and illisible Jacques Derrida intervenes to play the role of intermediary through his separate writings on these poets Important questions arise How does the elliptical writing of Mallarmé relate to the hyperbolic writing of Cixous? What common strategies emerge and how do these strategies address the critical areas of sexual difference and political testimony for each writer? Shifting Subjects

Natalie Edwards, 2011-04-18 There are many different ways to say I. This book examines the ways in which four contemporary women writers Hélène Cixous, Assia Djebar, Gisèle Halimi, and Julia Kristeva have written their autobiographical I as a plural concept. These women refuse the individual I of traditional autobiography by developing narrative strategies that multiply the voices in their texts. They similarly cast doubt upon current theorizations of the female self in autobiography by questioning the possibility of plural selfhood in narrative and its seemingly cathartic effects. Each writer approaches autobiography as a site of catharsis for a specific trauma and each tells her story through multiple narrative voices in order to find atonement. The women's experiments with narrative voice are designed to render the female self accurately in narrative but they simultaneously expose the difficulties inherent in writing the self plurally. Taken together, the women who form the corpus of this study move beyond critics' current understandings of textual representations of selfhood. Informed by postcolonial and feminist approaches to selfhood, this book charts the history of theories of autobiography and plots new ways of imagining this genre. This cross-section of international writers calls for a new understanding of the inscription of female identity in narrative, not as a binary of individual versus plural selfhood but as a cluster of categories of identity beyond I and we.

Historical Dictionary of Algeria Phillip C. Naylor, 2015-05-07 Algeria's strategic regional and global importance continues to grow. Its hydrocarbon wealth, namely natural gas and oil, is impressive and its receipts are crucial to the national economy. The European Union is a particularly valued hydrocarbon importer and overall commercial partner. The bilateral relationship with France remains problematic and paradoxical. Algeria has demanded an apology for the imposition of colonialism but it also recognizes the importance of France economically, politically, and militarily, e.g., the unrest in the Sahel, notably Mali. Furthermore, Algeria continues to recover from its recent tragic civil strife characterized by terrorism and extremism. Its uncertain future, given its ageing leadership, rentier economy, and frustrated youth, is a critical concern. This fourth edition of Historical Dictionary of Algeria covers its history through a chronology, an introductory essay, appendixes, and an extensive bibliography. The dictionary section has over 700 cross-referenced entries on important personalities, politics, economy, foreign relations, religion, and culture. This book is an excellent access point for students, researchers, and anyone wanting to know more about Algeria.

Cixous after / depuis 2000 Elizabeth Berglund Hall, Frédérique Chevillot, Eilene Hoft-March, Maribel Penalver Vicedo, 2017-11-27 The essays in Cixous after / depuis 2000, edited by Hall, Chevillot, Hoft-March, and Penalver Vicedo, center on the events from 2000 to 2015 that mark Hélène Cixous's life and writing: the donation of her archives to the Bibliothèque Nationale de France; her return to Algeria; the death of her friend Jacques Derrida; the 40th anniversary of her essay Le Rire de la Mère; and finally, of greatest import in her work of the 21st century, the last years and death of her mother, Eve. The essays explore an important movement in Hélène Cixous's oeuvre as it shifts its focus not away from questions of the body
