Annotated List of the Lepidoptera of Alberta, Canada Greg Pohl, Gary Anweiler, Christian Schmidt, Norbert

Kondla, 2010-03-05 This checklist of the Lepidoptera butterflies and moths of Alberta lists 2367 species reported to occur in the province as well as 138 species whose occurrence in Alberta is probable. Each species entry includes adult flight time and distribution status in the Cordilleran Boreal and Grasslands ecozones as well as references to taxonomic works and to the literature and public collection sources of the records. Detailed notes on taxonomy, nomenclature, distribution, habitat, and biology are given for 1524 of the listed species. An additional section provides details on 171 species erroneously reported from Alberta in previous works. The authors hope it will be a useful resource for anyone carrying out species level work on Lepidoptera in western Canada or taxonomic work on Lepidoptera in general. An introductory section provides a general overview of the order Lepidoptera and the natural regions of Alberta and the history and current state of knowledge of Alberta Lepidoptera. Each of the 63 families and selected subfamilies occurring in Alberta is briefly reviewed with information on distinguishing features, general appearance, and general biology. The list is accompanied by an appendix of proposed nomenclature changes consisting of revised status for 25 taxa raised from synonymy to species level and new synonymy for 20 species level and one genus level taxa here considered to be subjective synonyms with resultant revised synonymy for one taxon and formalization of seven new combinations. Olethreutine Moths of Australia Marianne Horak,, with contributions by Furumi Komai, 2006-06-28 Olethreutine moths often have fruit boring larvae and this economically important group includes many horticultural pests such as codling moths, Oriental fruit moths, and macadamia nut borers. This volume is the first reference to describe the 90 olethreutine genera present in Australia. It provides generic definitions, a key to genera, generic descriptions, and illustrations of adults' heads, venation, genitalia of both sexes, and other diagnostic structures of all genera. Summaries of biology and distribution and a checklist for all named Australian species are given for each genus. Importantly, it includes a comprehensive reorganisation of olethreutine classification based on generic revisions with a worldwide impact. The volume contains copious illustrations, two species per genus where possible, to convey generic concepts and to allow identification of this economically important group. Nearly all olethreutine genera present in Australia extend into Asia and beyond, so the book will be relevant to horticultural pests throughout Asia and crucial to an understanding of olethreutine evolution worldwide. The diverse Australian olethreutine fauna is particularly rich in enarmoniine and grapholitine genera, several new to science, and adding significantly to the concepts of these two tribes. Given the wealth of biological information, the book will be important for ecological work on phytophagous insects well beyond Australia. Bulletin, 1922 Guide to the Olethreutine Moths of Midland North America (Tortricidae) William E.
