Fiedler, Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 1994-01-01 Insect Pests of Stored Grain Ranjeet Kumar, 2017-07-06 Stored products of agriculture and animal origin are attacked by more than 600 species of beetles 70 species of moths and about 355 species of mites causing huge quantitative and qualitative losses and insect contamination in food commodities This is an important quality control problem This book Insect Pests of Stored Grain Biology Behavior and Management Strategies provides comprehensive coverage of stored product entomology for the sustainable management of insects and other noninsect pests such as mites birds rodents and fungi with the aim to mitigate and eliminate these losses of food from grains The author who has studied sustainable and herbal management of stored grain and seed insect pests in his research considers sustainable management of stored grain insect pests and eco friendly approaches along with the utilization of waste materials Starting with a history of stored product entomology from the beginning to the modern era in detail along with an introduction of storage entomology the book then goes on to cover a range of important issues including Significant developments in the field of storage entomology Classification and identification of important stored grain insects Major stored product coleopteran and lepidopteran insects that infest stored commodities Estimation of losses caused by stored grain insect pests Factors responsible for infestation of stored grain insects Different storage structures Alternative methods for the management of stored grain insects by utilization of behavior modification techniques or utilization of secondary metabolites of plants Fumigation of stored grains for the protection of infestation Insect Pests of Stored Grain Biology Behavior and Management Strategies covers a vast amount of valuable information on stored product entomology for the sustainable management of insects and other noninsect pests Rodent Pests of Iowa and Their Control H. Gunderson, George Clemens Decker, 1942 Stored-Grain Ecosystems Digvir S. Jayas, Noel D. G. White, William E. Muir, 1994-10-20 This work takes a multidisciplinary approach to grain storage research applying knowledge from the fields of biology cereal chemistry economics engineering mathematical modelling and toxicology to the study of the complex interactions among physical and biological variables in stored grain bulks that cause the deterioration of stored grain Details the prevention and control of pests and contaminants Advances in postharvest management of cereals and grains Prof. Dirk E. Maier, 2020-08-25 Reviews latest research on causes of cereal postharvest losses Comprehensive review of the strengths and weakness of different technologies to control postharvest insect pests of cereals Covers latest research on the detection and control of fungal contaminants Crop Protection Research Advances Earl N. Burton, Peter V. Williams, 2008 Book CD Most crop protection deals with the development and promotion of socially and environmentally acceptable technologies to reduce crop losses from pests Crop protection also deals with protecting crops from weeds insects and diseases primarily to increase yield The use of crop protection products secures yields reduces crop losses and helps provide a sufficient and sustainable supply of healthy and safe food at affordable prices Ultimately crop protection tries to increase global food demand It also deals with efforts to assure food quality and safety This book presents the latest research from around the globe Sugarcane Glyn James, 2008-04-15 From enhancing the flavour of food to providing a substrate for fermentation sugar is renowned worldwide for its importance as a commodity For many centuries sugarcane has been cultivated and developed and we now have a huge range of crop varieties Based on Blackburn's highly successful Sugarcane originally published in 1984 this new edition has been fully revised and expanded by an international team of widely respected sugarcane specialists Focussing on the agricultural aspects of the crop this book follows a logical progression from the botany and breeding through to planning cultivation control of weeds pests and diseases harvest management and payment for cane An invaluable asset to those involved in planning or running sugar estates as well as small producers An easy to follow reference for students and agriculturalists alike Comprehensive reference sections and further reading Integrated Pest Management Dharam P Abrol, 2013-08-28 Integrated Pest Management Current Concepts and Ecological Perspective presents an overview of alternative measures to traditional pest management practices using biological control and biotechnology The removal of some highly effective broad spectrum chemicals caused by concerns over environmental health and public safety has resulted in the development of alternative reduced risk crop protection products These products less toxic to the environment and easily integrated into biological control systems target specific life stages or pest species Predation recognized as a suitable long term strategy effectively suppresses pests in biotechnological control systems Integrated Pest Management covers these topics and more It explores the current ecological approaches in alternative solutions such as biological control agents parasites and predators pathogenic microorganisms pheromones and natural products as well as ecological approaches for managing invasive pests rats suppression of weeds safety of pollinators role of taxonomy and remote sensing in IPM and future projections of IPM This book is a useful resource to entomologists agronomists horticulturists and environmental scientists Fills a gap in the literature by providing critical analysis of different management strategies that have a bearing on agriculture sustainability and environmental protection Synthesizes research and practice on integrated pest management Emphasizes an overview of management strategies with critical evaluation of each in the larger context of ecologically based pest management

Achieving sustainable cultivation of rice Volume 2 Prof. Takuji Sasaki, 2017-05-22 Summarises advances in cultivation practices to close yield gaps including more efficient irrigation and nutrition techniques Discusses innovative methods of climate smart cultivation such as integrated crop management and the system of rice intensification SRI Reviews the latest research on insect pests weeds and integrated pest management Protecting Plants from Animal Pests Carol Kopolow, 1990 Vertebrate Pests in Agriculture S. Sridhara, 2016-06-01 Vertebrate pests cause considerable damage to environment agriculture and biodiversity apart from transmitting diseases The problem is more pronounced in tropical Asia and Africa with non human primates elephants several species of ungulates rodents frugivorous and grainivorous birds causing agricultural losses In Europe and America the damage is due to carnivore predation on livestock bird damage in cereal crops and rodent problem in urban and agricultural situations Although there are several excellent books on rodent pest management both in India and at global level there is a conspicuous lacuna of published books on vertebrate pest management Even the few publications on the subject mostly deal with birds rodents bears rabbits foxes etc because they are written by Americans or Britishers Because their emphasis is on the problem prevalent in their countries and evaluation of management options available to them In contrast the problem in tropics especially in India is unique Rodents of course are the most destructive But what rodents do over twelve months of year is matched by a few nights of devastating crop raids by elephants or week long foraging by monkeys Sporadic and localized damage is inflicted by several species of birds bats wild boar blue bull bears hares peacock etc The damage is sometimes so high it is impossible for a subsistence farmer to accept stoically the loss of his entire food source over a couple of days and nights However his options are limited in view of conservations and protection status enjoyed by some of these animals The problem is compounded by religious sentiments associated with a few of them This book is an attempt to find an acceptable solution to the problem of crop losses of these less studied but economically important groups of vertebrate pests Sincere efforts have gone into formulation of recommendations keeping in mind the biological needs of vertebrate pests their conservation status and suffering of the poor farmer Many a time the sympathies deservedly go to the speechless marauders of crops as it is man who has shrunk degraded and destroyed their habitat deprived them of their natural source of food There are no choices for vertebrate pests but raid the crops in their range but we humans have several to survive The book is an attempt to understand this dilemma
