legitimate knowledge and practice The discussion reconstructs the changing roles of astrology in Western science theology and culture from 1250 to 1500 The author considers both the how and the why He analyzes and integrates a broad range of sources This analysis shows that the history of astrology in particular the story of the protracted criticism and ultimate removal of astrology from the realm of legitimate knowledge and practice is crucial for fully understanding the transition from premodern Aristotelian Ptolemaic natural philosophy to modern Newtonian science This removal the author argues was neither obvious nor unproblematic Astrology was not some sort of magical nebulous hodge podge of beliefs Rather astrology emerged in the 13th century as a richly mathematical system that served to integrate astronomy and natural philosophy precisely the aim of the New Science of the 17th century As such it becomes a fundamentally important historical question to determine why this promising astrological synthesis was rejected in favor of a rather different mathematical natural philosophy and one with a very different causal structure than Aristotle's

The seventeenth century Lynn Thorndike, 1958 Knowledge, Discipline and Power in the Middle Ages, 2011-05-23 This collection of essays is based on a conference in honour of David Luscombe held at the University of Sheffield in September 2006 under the title Knowledge Discipline and Power in the Middle Ages The 14 contributions to this Festschrift by leading scholars in the field show the strength and variety of recent work on the intellectual history of the middle ages A group of papers deals with changes in the intellectual landscape during this period Other papers focus particularly on the theme of jurisdiction while a third group deals with knowledge and its uses The papers fittingly reflect the breadth and inventiveness of David Luscombe's scholarship and in particular his work on Peter Abelard Contributors are Christopher Brooke Charles Burnett Joseph Canning Giles Constable William J Courtenay Martin Kintzinger Robert E Lerner Brian Patrick McGuire John Marenbon Gert Melville Constant J Mews Jurgen Miethke Amanda Power Andreas Speer and Martial Staub Roger Bacon and the Defence of Christendom Amanda Power, 2013 The English Franciscan Roger Bacon c 1214-92 holds a controversial but important position in the development of modern science He has been portrayed as an isolated figure at odds with his influential order and ultimately condemned by it This major study the first in English for nearly sixty years offers a provocative new interpretation of both Bacon and his environment Amanda Power argues that his famous writings for the papal curia were the product of his critical engagement with the objectives of the Franciscan order and the reform agenda of the thirteenth century church Fearing that the apocalypse was at hand and Christians unprepared Bacon explored radical methods for defending renewing and promulgating the faith within Christendom and beyond Read in this light his work indicates the breadth of imagination possible in a time of expanding geographical and intellectual horizons Creational Theology and the History of Physical Science: The Creationist Tradition from Basil to Bohr Christopher B. Kaiser, 2021-12-06 This volume documents the role of creational theology in discussions of Westminster and Foreign Quarterly Review ,1863 Cultural Transfers in Dispute Bee Yun,2011-08-08 Our conception of cultures and cultural change has altered dramatically in recent decades no longer do we understand cultures as isolated units rather we see them as hybrid formations constantly engaged in a multidirectional process of exchange and influence with other cultures Yet the very process by which we represent these cultural transfers is itself subject to cultural political and ideological conditions that affect our understanding acknowledgment and representation of them Built around concrete examples of controversial representations of cultural transfer from Asia the Arab world and Europe Cultural Transfers in Dispute presents a critical self reflection on the scholarly practices that underpin our attempts to study and describe other cultures College Entrance and Regents Ancient and Medieval History (with Maps) Lucian Lamm,1928
