Kemp, 1985 Rolemaps Diane Dormant, 1980 Teaching Management James G. S. Clawson, Mark E. Haskins, 2006-08-03 How can every management class be a dynamic unforgettable experience This much needed book distills over half a century of the authors combined experience as university professors consultants and advisors to corporate training departments In a lively hands on fashion it describes the fundamental elements in every learning situation allowing readers to adapt the suggestions to their particular teaching context It sparks reflection on what we do in the classroom why we do it and how it might be done more effectively The chapters are broadly organized according to things you do before class things you do during class and things you do in between and after class so that every instructor whether newly minted PhDs facing their first classroom experience experienced faculty looking to polish their teaching techniques consultants who want to have more impact or corporate trainers wishing to develop in house teaching skills can benefit from the invaluable advice given The Process of Drama John O'Toole, 2003-09-02 An original and invaluable model of the elements of drama in context O Toole demonstrates how dramatic meaning emerges shaped by its multiple contexts and illuminates the importance of all participants to the dramatic process Drama and Curriculum John O'Toole, Madonna Stinson, Tiina Moore, 2009-03-17 Here s a knocking indeed says the Porter in Shakespeare s Scottish play Act II Scene 3 and immediately puts himself into role in order to deal with the demands of such an early call after a late night of drinking and carousal If a man were porter of hell gate But what roles does the porter of curriculum gate take on in order to deal with drama s persistent demands for entry Ah that depends upon the temperature of the times We who have been knocking for what seems to be a very long time know well that when evaluation and measurement criteria are demanded as evidence of drama's efficacy an examiner stands as gatekeeper When the educational landscape is in danger of overcrowding we meet a territorial governor And how often has the courtesan turned out to be only a tease because the arts are for a brief moment in the spotlight for their abilities to foster out of the box thinkers In this text we meet these commissionaires and many more The gatekeeping roles and what they represent are so familiar that they have become clichés to us We know them by their arguments ripostes dismissals their brief encouragement and lack of follow up And we know that behind each one however firmly they think they keep the keys is a financial and political master whose power controls the curriculum building and everything in it Resources in Education ,1999-04
