Mass Media Christianity Jerry D. Cardwell, 1984-10-31 Media in Church and Mission Viggo Sogaard, Viggo Søgaaard, 1993 Summarizing the Dimensions of Christian Communication Too many today are borrowing uncritically from the world of secular marketing and seem to be blithely unaware that the gospel is not a consumer product to be sold persuasively to a waiting world There is a great temptation to be so focused on felt needs that the gospel ceases being the narrow way and becomes instead a broad way to human fulfillment Unless real caution is exercised masses are attracted and churches become filled with those to whom Christianity is only a veneer over an otherwise secular life S gaard succeeds in driving home the sometimes forgotten point that strategies no matter how skillfully they are conceived are destined to failure unless it is fully recognized that the Holy Spirit is the ultimate persuader There is in short a mysterious interworking between strategies and the ministry of the Holy Spirit An imbalance on either side of this equation is untenable The majority of the chapters offer practical insights into how such media as audio cassettes radio film and television can if properly used play an important role in conversion and spiritual growth But the author never loses sight of the fact that the single most important medium is face to face communication in the context of the local Christian fellowship
