Understanding War Through Intersectional Lens Keshab Giri,2025 The exponential growth in literature on female combatants in rebel groups so far has explored why women rebel where women rebel and when women rebel Yet existing literature largely assume women combatants as homogenous universal category having similar experiences of war and post war In this milieu this book focuses on how women rebel given their multiple intersecting identities and social subjectivities It looks how female combatants experience war and post war both in public and private spheres by using intersectionality both as a theoretical framework and methodological tool inspired by feminist research methodology to explore complex experiences of women combatants during and after the war This book is based on thirty nine in depth interviews with Maoist female ex combatants their leaders and experts in Nepal between 2017 and 2018 complemented by wide ranging primary and secondary sources such as key Maoist statements and policy documents from the war era women ex combatants memoirs media sources and academic literature The book finds that female combatants experiences of war and post war both in public and private spheres are conditioned by their interlocking systems of oppression and identities such as class caste ethnicity social status educational status and geographical location The book makes an important contribution to the feminist IR literature feminist security studies and has significant policy implications particularly concerning reintegration of female combatants peacebuilding and Women Peace and Security agenda Teaching

Introduction to Women's Studies Carolyn DiPalma, Barbara S. Winkler, 1999-10-30 This edited collection addresses the institutional context and social issues in which teaching the women s studies introductory course is embedded and provides readers with practical classroom strategies to meet the challenges raised The collection serves as a resource and preparatory text for all teachers of the course including experienced teachers less experienced teachers new faculty and graduate student teaching assistants The collection will also be of interest to educational scholars of feminist and progressive pedagogies and all teachers interested in innovative practices The contributors discuss the larger political context in which the course has become a central representative of women s studies to a growing although less feminist identified population Increased enrollments and changes in student population are noted as a result in part of the popularity of Introduction to Women s Studies courses in fulfilling GED and diversity requirements New forms of student resistance in a climate of backlash and changes in course content in response to internal and external challenges are also discussed Evidence is provided for an emerging paradigm in the conceptualization of the introductory course as a result of challenges to racism heterosexism and classism in women s studies voiced by women of color and others in the 1980s and 1990s Sensationalist charges that women s studies teachers including those who teach the Introduction to Women s Studies course are the academic shock troops of a monolithic feminism are challenged and refuted by the collection s contributors who share their struggles to make possible classrooms in which informed dialogue and disagreement are valued Theology and Embodiment Melissa

Raphael, 1996-03-01 Theology and Embodiment both analyses and contributes to spiritual feminism s postmodern construction of the female body as a metaphor and medium of divine generativity Addressing religious studies and women s studies students and all those interested in contemporary spirituality Raphael counters reformist feminism s recurrent criticism of goddess feminism as naively essentialist and sub political She presents spiritual feminism as a set of religious political manoeuvres that powerfully resist such patriarchal degradations of female natural generativity as environmental

Erich Fromm and Critical Criminology Kevin Anderson, Richard Quinney, 2000 Linking the writings of the great humanist psychologist Erich Fromm to criminology this collection shows how viewing crime patterns and the criminal justice system from Fromm s humanist perspective opens a path to more effective and more humane ways of understanding and dealing with crime and criminals Contributors to Erich Fromm and Critical Criminology draw on Fromm s writings on alienation sadomasochism and patriarchal matriarchal values to assess the kinds of crimes being committed and the kinds of people committing them They explore the spiritual and intellectual sources of Fromm s thought including Jewish theology Freudian psychoanalysis Marxism and Buddhism and demonstrate how his socialist humanism points toward a society free of crime and violence This volume also includes translations of two of Fromm s early articles on criminal justice never before available in English in which he develops a psychoanalytic Marxist critique of the role of criminal justice in a class society At a time when American society seems bent to an unprecedented degree on imprisonment executions and other violent responses to the problem of crime Fromm s humanist critique offers a unique vantage point from which to renew and develop a critical criminology Men Doing Feminism Tom Digby, 2013-10-28 The relation between feminism and men is often presumed to be antagonistic so that men are expected to resist feminism and feminists are assumed to hate men That pattern of opposition is disrupted however by the continually increasing numbers of men who are participating in feminist theory and practice trying to integrate feminist perspectives into their scholarship teaching work play friendships and romantic involvements Responses to this male feminism have varied Sometimes male feminists find some female feminists critical of men who oppose or decline to join feminist projects but also rebuff the few men who do undertake feminist projects On the other hand some women feminists have unequivocally welcomed men as allies in political business religious and academic contexts The essays in Men Doing Feminism reveal that there is justification for both views the skeptical and the enthusiastic because feminist men are as diverse as feminist women Many of the eighteen contributors to this book women men blacks whites gays straights transsexuals use personal narrative to show ways that men s lives can shape their approaches to doing feminism and to convey the opportunities and challenges involved in integrating feminism into a man s life Some authors argue that men s experiences prepare them to make contributions that are of crucial importance to feminist theory Others argue that men must radically reform or even abandon manhood and masculinity if they are to be feminists In Men Doing Feminism feminist theory is used to illuminate men's lives and men's lives serve as a basis for feminist theory Contributors Michael Awkward Susan Bordo Harry Brod Tom Digby Judith K Gardiner C Jacob Hale Sandra Harding Patrick Hopkins Joy James David Kahane Michael Kimmel Gary Lemons Larry May Brian Pronger Henry Rubin Richard Schmitt James P Sterba Laurence Mordekhai Thomas and Thomas E Wartenberg

Burdens of History Antoinette Burton, 2000-11-09 In this study of British middle class feminism in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries Antoinette Burton explores an important but neglected historical dimension of the relationship between feminism and imperialism Demonstrating how feminists in the United Kingdom appropriated imperialistic ideology and rhetoric to justify their own right to equality she reveals a variety of

feminisms grounded in notions of moral and racial superiority According to Burton Victorian and Edwardian feminists such as Josephine Butler Millicent Garrett Fawcett and Mary Carpenter believed that the native women of colonial India constituted a special white woman's burden Although there were a number of prominent Indian women in Britain as well as in India working toward some of the same goals of equality British feminists relied on images of an enslaved and primitive Oriental womanhood in need of liberation at the hands of their emancipated British sisters Burton argues that this unquestioning acceptance of Britain's imperial status and of Anglo Saxon racial superiority created a set of imperial feminist ideologies the legacy of which must be recognized and understood by contemporary feminists Working Out Hilary Hinds, Ann Phoenix, Jackie Stacey, 2003-09-02 Addresses issues of concern in the area of women's studies aiming to offer fresh perspectives on sexuality paid work the development process equal opportunities legislation lesbian history and women's writing The book is also concerned with the politics and practice of women's studies Routledge Handbook of Masculinities, Conflict, and Peacebuilding Henri Myrntinen, Chloé Lewis, Heleen Touquet, Philipp Schulz, Farooq Yousaf, Elizabeth Laruni, 2025-01-30 This handbook engages with and broadens current debates on men and masculinities in conflict and peacebuilding Through an expansive range of chapters across a unique array of geographical settings the volume shatters prevailing assumptions about men's relationship to conflict and its wake Situated across scholarship policy and practice the contributions offer new possibilities for a more complex and complete picture of the gendered tapestries of conflict peace and the spaces in between The handbook combines feminist intersectional relational decolonial and queer perspectives on the conceptualisation of masculinities in conflict and peacebuilding This approach provides us with the tools to go beyond direct physical conflict related violence to examine less visible forms of violence and power as well as other ways in which masculinities interact with conflict and peace In doing so the book permits a multi faceted view of men's roles relationships vulnerabilities and non violent agencies in conflict and peacebuilding across scholarship policy and practice This book will be of much interest to students of gender masculinities peace and conflict studies and international relations Chapter 1 3 9 13 and 30 of this book are freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license Chapters 19 and 25 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution CC BY 4.0 license
