Return to a Chinese Village Jan Myrdal,1984 Return to a Chinese Village Jan Myrdal,1984 A Chinese Village Martin C. Yang,2013-07-04 This is Volume I of six in a collection on the Sociology of East Asia Originally published in 1948 this study looks at the village of Taitou in the Shantung Province Moral Politics in a South Chinese Village Hok Bun Ku,2003-08-25 Exploring sensitive issues often hidden to outsiders this engaging study traces the transformation and economic development of a south China village during the first tumultuous decade of reform Drawing on a wealth of intimate detail Ku explores the new sense of risk and mood of insecurity experienced in the post reform era in Ku Village a typical hamlet beyond the margins of richer suburban areas or fertile farmland Villagers dissatisfaction revolves around three key issues the rising cost of living mounting agricultural expenses and the forcible implementation of birth control quotas Faced with these daunting problems villagers have developed an array of strategies Their weapons include resisting policies they consider unreasonable by disregarding fees evading taxes and ignoring strict family planning regulations challenging the rationale of official policies and the legitimacy of the local government and its officials and reestablishing clan associations to supercede local Party authority Using lively everyday narratives and compelling personal stories Ku argues that rural people are not in fact powerless and passive instead they have their own moral system that informs their everyday family lives work and political activities Their code embodies concepts of fairness and justice a concrete definition of the relationship between the state and its citizens an understanding of the boundaries and responsibilities of each party and a clear notion of what constitutes good and bad government and officials On the basis of these principles they may challenge existing policies and deny the authority of officials and the government thereby legitimizing their acts of self defense Through his richly realized ethnography Ku shows the reader a world of memorable fully realized individuals striving to control their fate in an often arbitrary world Marriage, Gender and Sex in a Contemporary Chinese Village Sun-Pong Yuen,Pui-Lam Law,Yuk-Ying Ho,Fong-Ying Yu,2015-07-17 This book explores changing concepts of marriage and gender relationships and attitudes toward sex in a rural Chinese community over the past five decades The book is based on a study of an industrialized peasant village in Guangdong Province from 1994 to 1996 and subsequent visits from 2000 to 2002 According to the authors the rural economic reforms of the 1980s in southern China have challenged and reinforced the deep structure of Chinese familism and this has lead to tensions between tradition and modernity The first section of the book explores how attitudes toward marriage and courtship have changed over the past fifty years through personal accounts of three different marriages from different generations In Part II the transition from a traditional to a modern society is discussed from the perspective of several women from different generations The third section focuses on sexual relationships and the growing sex trade in the village Part IV includes updates to the original survey and takes a look at village politics Chinese Transnational Networks Chee-Beng Tan,2006-10-19 This innovative volume examines both China and Chinese overseas in relation to

Williams, 2018-01-16 Employing the classic Chinese saying returning home with glory man zai rong gui as the title Michael Williams highlights the importance of return and home in the history of the connections established and maintained between villagers in the Pearl River Delta and various Pacific ports from the time of the Californian and Australian gold rushes to the founding of the People's Republic of China Conventional scholarship on Chinese migration tends to privilege nation state factors or concepts which are dependent on national boundaries Such approaches are more concerned with the migrants settlement in the destination country downplaying the awkward fact that the majority of the overseas Chinese huaqiao originally intended to and eventually did return to their home villages qiaoxiang Williams goes back to the basics by considering the strong influence exerted by the family and the home village on those who first set out in order to give a better appreciation of how and why many modest communities in southern China became more modern and affluent He also gives a voice to those who never left their villages women in particular Designed as a single case study this work presents detailed research based on the more than eighty villages of the Long Du district near Zhongshan City in Guangdong Province as well as the three major destinations Sydney San Francisco and Honolulu of the huaqiao who came from this region Out of this analysis of what truly mattered to the villagers the choices they had and made and what constituted success and failure in their lives a sympathetic portrayal of the huaqiao emerges Returning Home with Glory inaugurates the Hong Kong University Press book series Crossing Seas From the very local qiaoxiang or home village of migrants to the transnational destinations in America and Australia this book is a model of how to write diaspora into modern Chinese history The Cantonese Pacific comes alive in this highly readable book that is sure to capture our imagination Evelyn Hu DeHart Brown University A perceptively conceptualized and well researched case study of an emigrant community in the Pearl River Delta that extended its reach to Sydney the Hawaiian Islands and San Francisco Williams offers a refreshing qiaoxiang perspective through which to understand the experiences of Chinese immigrants in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries Yong Chen University of California Irvine This welcome study of Chinese mobility among settler societies of the Pacific places the family and the village at its heart just as its subjects did over the century under review to 1949 A path breaking study based on first hand research John Fitzgerald Swinburne University of Technology Ancestor Worship in the Diaspora Chinese and China Universes Khun Eng Kuah, 2024-04-16 Kuah explores the centrality of ancestors and ancestor worship of the Chinese in the Diaspora Chinese and China universes Building on the original work and book on Rebuilding the

Ancestral Village Singaporeans in China this book goes beyond the premise of remaking the ancestral home Ancestor worship and the ancestors together with selected cultural practices constitute an important aspect of the broad Chinese culture shared by these two groups of Chinese and leads to the making of a collaborative cultural basin This book takes the audience on an ancestor worship journey to uncover the complexity of ancestors and ancestral souls crossing transnational spaces their choices of ancestral soul homes the significance of the lineage ancestral house and the engagement of women through food offering contesting patriarchy It also explores the increasing role of the Mainland Chinese state in appropriating ancestor and ancestor worship as a cultural icon and during the Qingming festival as a socio moral capital and cultural bridge to foster closer ties with the Diaspora Chinese in its attempt to bring them into its Chinese civilizational polity The book also takes the audience on a photographic journey to visually experience the various rituals and the vibrancy of the ritual performances conducted during the different stage from pre communal to communal ancestor worship An essential read for scholars of Chinese society and religion Chinese migration and diaspora studies Transforming Chinese Cities
