

General Revelation

- It is possible for anyone to know God through general revelation.
- This can happen in a number of ways:
 - Reflecting on nature, and drawing conclusions [e.g. the order and beauty must have been designed by a God]
 - Use of our conscience [develops from an early age, and although subject to influences, all humans have a sense of this = must be 'in-built']
 - Reflecting on scriptures [the culmination of human reflection on God and what He wants – often believed to be the word of God written down, although most Christians would accept some human interpretation]
 - Reflecting on the lives of important figures (e.g. Jesus, Mother Teresa, etc) [people who have acted according to what they believe God wanted, and inspire others to do the same]

Avery Dulles

Revelation Theology A History:

Revelation Theology Avery Dulles, 1969 Revelation Theology Avery Robert Dulles (card.), 1970 Theology as History and Hermeneutics Laurence W. Wood, 2005 This book offers in style and content an exciting new perspective on contemporary theology and its future in post modern times I welcome this new perspective The style is agreeable unpolemical and engages in dialogue with the best of Barth and Bultmann Ricoeur and Pannenberg Cobb and Moltmann showing what they have to offer to the larger theological community and transferring it like a ferry boat into the post modern age The purpose is to offer an evangelical theology which is at the same time genuinely evangelical and relevant for post modern ways of thinking Wood writes with admirable clarity Jürgen Moltmann University of Tübingen God and History in the Book of Revelation Michael Gilbertson, 2003-07-24 This is an interdisciplinary study which constructs a dialogue between biblical interpretation and systematic theology It examines how far a reading of the Book of Revelation might either support or question the work of leading theologians Wolfhart Pannenberg and Jürgen Moltmann on the theology of history exploring the way in which the author of Revelation uses the dimensions of space and time to make theological points about the relationship between God and history The book argues that Revelation sets the present earthly experience of the reader in the context of God's ultimate purposes by disclosing hidden dimensions of reality both spatial embracing heaven and earth and temporal extending into the ultimate future Dr Gilbertson offers a detailed assessment of the theologies of history developed by Pannenberg and Moltmann including their views on the nature of the historical process and the use of apocalyptic ideas in eschatology Christian Theology Alister E. McGrath, 2011-01-14 Alister McGrath's Christian Theology An Introduction is one of the most internationally acclaimed and popular Christian theology textbooks in use today This 5th edition has been completely revised and now features new and extended material numerous additional illustrations and companion resources ensuring it retains its reputation as the ideal introduction to Christian theology Fully updated 5th edition of the bestselling textbook incorporating expanded material numerous student features and new illustrations Features new sections on Copernicanism and Darwinism Includes extended discussions of Augustine's doctrine of creation Trinitarian theologies of religion and the relation of Christianity to other faiths May be used as a stand alone volume or alongside the Christian Theology Reader 4th edition for a complete overview of the subject Retains the chapter structure of the 4th edition ensuring comparability with earlier editions and courses based on these Accompanied by a revised instructor's website featuring expanded resources including study questions and answers visit www.wiley.com/go/mcgrath for more details and to register for access The Revelation of God in History John F. Haught, 2009-03-01 A History of the Theology of the Disciples of Christ Hiram Van Kirk, 1907 Theology, History, and Biblical Interpretation Darren Sarisky, 2015-01-29 The Christian Bible serves as the sacred scripture of the Christian community It is read regularly by many people around the world today as it has been for centuries But how should one interpret this text This reader presents a variety of perspective on how to relate historical and theological considerations when approaching the Bible It encourages students and scholars to ponder how historical and theological categories shape one s view of three crucial realities the text of the Bible the human subject who reads the text and the nature of the exchange between the two in the practice of reading As historical and theological categories are applied to these realities are they mutually exclusive or can they be combined in some way This reader encourages students and scholars to explore these important questions by bringing together a selection of some of modernity s most influential discussions of the issues as well as some of the present day s most distinguished attempts to weigh in on the debate

The "Sense of the Faith" in History John J. Burkhard, OFM Conv., 2022-01-15 While taught by Vatican II the sense of the faith sensus fidei has had little official impact in the Catholic Church What would the church look like if it took this conciliar teaching to heart To address this neglect John Burkhard locates the historical roots of the teaching and its emergence at Vatican II It attempts to better understand the sense of the faith in the light of other fundamental teachings of the council and challenges the hierarchical church to invite all the faithful to rightfully participate in the prophetic ministry of the whole church closely allied with Pope Francis s call for a more synodal church

Bonhoeffer as Biblical Interpreter Jameson E. Ross, 2021-08-12 By oscillating between Dietrich Bonhoeffer s explicit hermeneutical reflections and his actual practice of interpreting biblical texts Jameson E Ross shows that Bonhoeffer s interpretive acts consist of a theologically self reflective hermeneutic in which Scripture is for interpretation underscoring how essential the interpreter s Spirit given freedom actions theology context and needs are for reading Scripture Offering a fresh vision for methodological discussions in theology this book is a valuable resource for graduate and postgraduate students and researchers on modern theology political theology and ethics and biblical exegesis
