Consciousness A Comprehensive Defense of Contemporary Substance Dualism two distinguished philosophers deliver a unique and powerful defense of contemporary substance dualism which makes the claim that the human person is an embodied fundamental immaterial and unifying substance Multidisciplinary in scope the book explores areas of philosophy cognitive science neuroscience and the sociology of mind body beliefs The authors present the most comprehensive up to date and rigorous non edited work on substance dualism in the field as well as a detailed history of how property and substance dualism have been presented and evaluated over the last 150 years Alongside developing new and updated positive arguments for substance dualism they also discuss key metaphysical notions and distinctions that inform the examination of substance dualism and its alternatives Readers will also find A thorough examination of the recent shift away from standard physicalism and the renaissance of substance dualism Comprehensive explorations of the likely future of substance dualism in the twenty first century including an exhaustive list of proposed research projects for substance dualists Practical discussion of new and rigorous critiques of significant physicality alternatives including emergentism and panpsychism Extensive treatments of philosophy of mind debates about the roles played by staunch faint hearted naturalism and theism in establishing or presuming methodology epistemic priorities and prior metaphysical commitments Perfect for professional philosophers The Substance of Consciousness will also earn a place in the libraries of consciousness researchers philosophical theologians and religious studies scholars

The Cambridge Handbook of Sociocultural Psychology

Alberto Rosa, Jaan Valsiner, 2018-07-12 Sociocultural psychology is a discipline located at the crossroads between the natural and social sciences and the humanities This international overview of the field provides an antireductionist and comprehensive account of how experience and behaviour arise from human action with cultural materials in social practices The outcome is a vision of the dynamics of sociocultural and personal life in which time and developmental constructive transformations are crucial This second edition provides expanded coverage of how particular cultural artefacts and social practices shape experience and behaviour in the realms of art and aesthetics economics history religion and politics Special attention is also paid to the development of identity the self and personhood throughout the lifespan while retaining the emphasis on experience and development as key features of sociocultural psychology

The Breakdown of Cartesian Metaphysics Richard A. Watson, 1998-01-01 Combines historical research and philosophical analysis to cast light on why and how Cartesianism failed as a complete metaphysical system Far more radical in its conclusions than his 1966 study The Downfall of Cartesianism a slightly revised version of which forms the main body of the current work Watson argues that Descartes's ontology is incoherent and vacuous his epistemology deceptive and his theology unorthodox indeed that Descartes knows nothing
