Wisteria House Susan J. Montgomery,2022-01-25 Wisteria House is a North Andover Massachusetts landmark named for the vigorous vine that has flourished on the veranda for more than 150 years More properly known as the Field Hodges House it belonged to only two families The last owner Sarah Moore Field died in 1988 leaving her home completely furnished and packed to the rafters with the accumulated belongings of three generations and hoping that it would become a historic house museum It did not A variety of circumstances required a more creative solution Wisteria House Life in a New England Home 1839 2000 is a key element of that solution It is a permanent record of the lives lived in a particular house in a particular town at a particular time based on the buildings furnishings clothing personal effects photographs correspondence and financial papers of two upper middle class families The text and illustrations address gender roles childhood and education household economy health and medicine work and leisure and community history The themes of public history preservation and stewardship underpin the narrative The story of the Field Hodges Houses lies at the intersection of well meaning devoted amateurs trying to save a beloved old house and professionals charged with the dispassionate consideration of the financial viability and public relevance necessary for a successful historic house museum The book is unique in that it is the final component of a preservation project After the building and grounds were secured the significant collections safely in the hands of public institutions financial obligations met and the intent of a Last Will and Testament fulfilled Wisteria House preserves the history itself As an example of stewardship the entire project occupies a notable position in the current debate over the future of historic house museums in America Herd Register American Guernsey Cattle Club,1911
