The Making of a Museum Judith Nasby, 2021-10-13 Judith Nasby founding director and curator of the Macdonald Stewart Art Centre animates the story of the gallery from its humble beginnings in the hallways of a university campus in 1916 to its latest incarnation as the internationally recognized Art Gallery of Guelph The book is beautifully illustrated with eighty images of artworks in the permanent collection beginning with the gallery's first acquisition Tom Thomson's 1917 masterpiece The Drive the last large canvas he painted before his tragic death As curator Nasby oversaw the creation of one of the most comprehensive sculpture parks in Canada and the amassing of a permanent collection of some nine thousand artworks In The Making of a Museum Nasby reveals how the museum developed its internationally recognized collection of contemporary Inuit drawings and wall hangings that toured four continents She discusses the development of the collection's specializations in contemporary works by Canadian silversmiths historical European etchings Woodland and Northeastern Indigenous beadwork and others that arose from curatorial collaborations such as molas by Kuna women artists from Panama and contemporary paintings and indigenous woodcuts from Chongqing China Nasby recounts her long career as founding director and curator peppering the hundred year history of cultural development on the University of Guelph campus and in the city with humorous anecdotes and personal insights to reveal how arts institutions can be created through dedication serendipity and perseverance When Modern Became Contemporary Art Charles Green, Heather Barker, 2024-09-19 This book is a portrait of the period when modern art became contemporary art It explores how and why writers and artists in Australia argued over the idea of a distinctively Australian modern and then postmodern art from 1962 the date of publication of a foundational book Australian Painting 1788 1960 up to 1988 the year of the Australian Bicentennial Across nine chapters about art exhibitions curators and critics this book describes the shift from modern art to contemporary art through the successive attempts to define a place in the world for Australian art But by 1988 Australian art looked less and less like a viable tradition inside which to interpret our art Instead vast gaps appeared since mostly male and often older White writers had limited their horizons to White Australia alone National stories by White men like borders had less and less explanatory value Underneath this a perplexing subject remained the absence of Aboriginal art in understanding what Australian art was during the period that established the idea of a distinctive Australian modern and then contemporary art This book reflects on why the embrace of Aboriginal art was so late in art museums and histories of Australian art arguing that this was because it was not part of a national story dominated by colonial then neo colonial dependency It is important reading for all scholars of both global and Australian art and for curators and artists Library Catalog of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York : Supplement Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.).

Gaehtgens,2018-07-10 As the site of royal coronations Reims cathedral was a monument to French national history and identity But after German troops bombed the cathedral during World War I it took on new meaning The French reimagined it as a martyr of civilization as the rupture between the warring states Despite a history of mutual respect the bombing of the cathedral caused all social scientific artistic and cultural ties between Germany and France to be severed for decades The resulting battle of words and images stressed the differences between German Kultur and French civilisation Artists and intelligentsia caricatured this entrenched cultural dichotomy influencing portrayals of the two nations in the international press This book explores the structure s breadth of meaning in symbolic art historical and historical arenas including competing claims over the origins of Gothic art and architecture as national style and issues of monument preservation and restoration It highlights how vulnerable art is during war and how the destruction of national monuments can set the tone for international conflict once again a timely and pressing issue Thomas W Gaehtgens articulates how these nations began to mend their relationship in the decades after World War II starting with the courageous vision of Charles de Gaulle and Konrad Adenauer and how the cathedral of Reims was eventually transformed into a site of reconciliation and European unification
