Roger Ebert's Movie Home Companion Roger Ebert, 1990 Rule of Thumb Todd Rendleman, 2012-04-26 With a critical eye that mirrors his subject's Todd Rendleman explores the values temperament character and style that have made Roger Ebert the most trusted and influential film critic in America Introducing the one critic whom so many moviegoers recognize argue with and love Rule of Thumb illuminates Ebert's critical strengths and blind spots His sensibilities are further appreciated through comparisons to incisive provocative colleagues like Pauline Kael and John Simon While exploring their critical clashes the author offers fresh assessments of a host of movies from modern classics like Last Tango in Paris and Blue Velvet to films that deserve another glance like Music Box In Dreams and Bliss Few are in a position to write a firsthand memoir of one of the world's great film critics but Rendleman accomplishes just this smartly intertwining his own coming of age cinematic sensibility with a witty critical analysis of his subject All told his achievement is noteworthy he offers a unique view of a celebrated personality while revealing himself as a writer of insight and dash

The Moviegoing Experience, 1968-2001 Richard W. Haines, 2010-06-28 The experience of going to the movies be it a single screen theater twin multiplex or drive in is affected by many different factors that have shifted over the years Just as movies emerged from silent to talking black and white to color there has invariably been change in the way movies are made copied distributed and viewed This change in the moviegoing experience for better or for worse is worth studying This work examines the American moviegoing experience from 1968 to 2001 the way in which movies are made and regulated including the demise of the Production Code and the emergence of the ratings system as well as changes in lighting cinematography and coloring techniques The projection practices of the past and present during and after the presence of the Projectionists Union and the advent of the platter which allowed for automated projection are discussed How home video and cable affected the content of films after the eighties and the history of computerized special effects leading to the development of digital cinema projection are included The work also covers the changing types of venues over the last third of a century and other aspects that affect positively or negatively the entire moviegoing experience

The Films of Fred Schepisi Brian McFarlane, 2021-11-15 Fred Schepisi is one of the crucial names associated with the revival of the Australian film industry in the 1970s The Films of Fred Schepisi traces the lead up to his critical successes in feature filmmaking via his earlier award winning success as a producer in advertising commercials in the 1960s and the setting up of his own company Unlike some directors he derived from this experience a sure sense of the commercial aspects of filmmaking as well as its aesthetic considerations The volume also considers stories of his early education in a Catholic seminary which he drew on in his semiautobiographical film The Devil's Playground the success of which launched him as an exciting new feature director The volume expands on Schepisi's success story to chart his development as a director in demand in other countries notably in the US and the UK as well as continuing to make major films in Australia Brian McFarlane argues that Schepisi's career is symptomatic of Australian directors who have made their presences felt on the international stage Whereas other key directors of the Australian film revival such as Peter Weir and Bruce Beresford have been the subject of book length critical studies Schepisi's career has not to date been so explored McFarlane takes a critical account of Schepisi's film output including such standouts as The Chant of Jimmie Blacksmith Plenty Roxanne Six Degrees of Separation Mr Baseball and Last Orders and he augments analysis with interviews with the director By discussing the production histories and both critical and popular receptions McFarlane's study shines a new light on Schepisi's work and his rise to prominence in the global film industry

Roger Ebert's Movie Yearbook 2003 Roger Ebert, 2002-12-02 Every single new Ebert review

Steven Spielberg Virginia Meachum, 1996 Steven Spielberg has been responsible for directing and producing some of Hollywood's most memorable films such as Jaws E.T. and Schindler's List This biography takes a look at the individual behind the camera by exploring the struggles he encountered growing up and progressing up to the present day happiness he shares with both his family and the recognition of his enormous filmmaking talent

Center Stage Gary C. Woodward, 2007 Exploring political communication as theater Center Stage shows how American civic culture is both enriched and diminished by the ways journalists organize narratives about civic life This up to date text focuses on issues such as politics as representational theater economic forces shaping political media and growth of new media Covering contexts from the presidency and Congress to political art Center Stage suggests additional pathways for imagining our national life including Internet supported activism and innovative uses of documentary film

Sex, Religion, Media Dane S. Claussen, 2002-10-16 Each chapter in this unique volume explores intersections of sex religion and media in our society An interdisciplinary cast of contributors examines a wide variety of themes including entertainment producers roles in disseminating sexual and religious content news coverage of stories about sex and religion religious conservatives efforts to influence media coverage of sex and values and how religious consumers are influenced by and react to sexual content in media
