Consumer Behavior over the Life Course George P. Moschis, 2019-01-31 This book examines consumer behavior using the life course paradigm a multidisciplinary framework for studying people's lives structural contexts and social change It contributes to marketing research by providing new insights into the study of consumer behavior and illustrating how to apply the life course paradigm's concepts and theoretical perspectives to study consumer topics in an innovative way Although a growing number of marketing researchers either implicitly or explicitly subscribe to life course perspectives for studying a variety of consumer behaviors their efforts have been limited due to a lack of theories and methods that would help them study consumers over the lifecycle When studying consumers over their lifespan researchers examine differences in the consumer behaviors of various age groups e.g. children baby boomers elderly etc or family life stages e.g. bachelors full nesters empty nesters etc inferring that consumer behavior changes over time or linking consumption behaviors to previous experiences and future expectations Such efforts however have yet to benefit from an interdisciplinary research approach This book fills this gap in consumer research by informing readers about the differences between some of the most commonly used models for studying consumers over their lifespan and the life course paradigm and providing implications for research public policy and marketing practice Presenting applications of the life course approach in such research topics as decision making maladaptive behaviors e.g. compulsive buying binge eating consumer well being and cognitive decline this book is beneficial for students scholars professors practitioners and policy makers in consumer behavior consumer research consumer psychology and marketing research

Emotions as Key Drivers of Consumer Behaviors: A Multidisciplinary Perspective, 2nd edition Debora Bettiga, Giuliano Noci, Omneya Yacout, 2025-09-16 Consumers not only make rational decisions but also emotional ones Research now recognizes the significance of diverse neglected factors such as emotions affect arousal and pleasure in appraisal and has identified processes and behaviors that do not fit with the traditional view of acting as a result of a purely deliberate process Consumers behaviors and choices are grounded both in consumer beliefs and judgements and in experiences and emotions Individuals more broadly bring their perceptions values feelings and cognitive schemes to bear in interpreting the world In this context unconscious physiological manifestations can offer indications as to how people evaluate filter and react to external stimuli What is expressed by the conscious mind indeed does not represent a full and perfect representation of the actual needs and wishes of individuals Understanding consumer behaviors has long been a challenging endeavor due to different variables affecting decision making mechanisms and the difficulty of measuring them It requires indeed a comprehension of both the cognitive information processing mechanisms and of the affective and experiential systems of individuals Moreover it demands an appreciation of the rich and deep interplay between cognitive and affective processes

Understanding consumers emotions can inform practitioners on how to effectively communicate with their target audience whether internal or external in order to elicit attention engagement and positive emotional responses and to build emotional connections Human stress engagement cognitive and emotional responses may be taken into account in the development of products and services by understanding consumers responses and experience with them This has a deep impact at the organizational level in terms of marketing strategies putting the consumer at the center of the whole organization This Research Topic aims to disseminate knowledge on the role of emotions in consumer behavior throughout the purchasing process while also allowing for dialogue between disciplines such as psychology organizational behavior marketing neuroscience bioscience and design Authors are encouraged to submit empirical theoretical and systematic review papers on themes including but not limited to the role of emotions in consumer behavior throughout the purchasing process neurophysiological methods to detect consumers emotions affective drivers of choice hedonic consumption and individual experience characterization classification and measurement of emotions the effect of positive emotions and negative emotions on the appraisal process the role of anticipated and transient emotions in consumer choices customer centric marketing strategies consumers expression of emotions on social media consumer emotions during online service encounters consumer emotions after negative service incidences antecedents to brand love and brand hate consumer emotions in ethical consumption contexts
