ABSTRACT

The present study aims to investigate the current initiative and practices of Non Government Organizations (NGOs) in sustainable socio-economic development of the rural poor people of Bangladesh. NGOs in Bangladesh have virtually grown in vast numbers since the independence. It has been observed that from the late seventies, NGOs have been playing an increasingly important role in the nation's development process. The study used both primary data and secondary information. Primary data have been collected for this study using random sampling from 10 villages of 2 districts of Bangladesh. A number of techniques have been utilized to collected data from the respondents such as household survey, focus group discussions, in depth interviews and observations. The final valid sample (Sample 1 and Sample 2) size of respondents stood to 819 (750+69) who are the beneficiaries and officials of different NGOs located on those 10 villages of 2 districts. Mostly descriptive statistics have been used to conduct data analysis in this in the Global South Palash Kamruzzaman, 2018-12-07 In recent years civil society has been seen as a key route for democracy promotion and solving development problems in low income countries. However the very concept of civil society is deeply rooted in European traditions and values. In pursuing civil society reform in non Western countries many scholars along with well meaning international agencies and donor organisations fail to account for non Western values and historical experiences. Civil Society in the Global South seeks to redress this balance by offering diverse accounts of civil society from the global South authored by scholars and researchers who are reflecting on their observations of civil society in their own countries. The countries studied in the volume range from across Africa Latin America Asia and the Middle East to give a rich account of how countries from the global south conceptualise and construct civil society. The book demonstrates how local conditions are often unsuited to the ideal type of civil society as delineated in Western values for instance in cases where numerous political racial and ethnic sub groups are fighting for autonomy. By disentangling local contexts of countries from across the global South this book demonstrates that it is important to view civil society through the lens of local conditions rather than viewing it as something that needs to be discovered or manufactured in non Western societies. Civil Society in the Global South will be particularly useful to high level students and scholars within development studies sociology anthropology social policy politics international relations and human geography. Grassroots Development, 1997

Comparative CSR and Sustainability Gabriel Donleavy, Carlos Noronha, 2022-12-30 This book breaks new ground by providing a structured and cohesive set of contributions on the actions developments problems and theories of corporate social responsibility CSR. With new case studies from the UN's Least Developed Countries LDCs contributors in this book investigate how firms in Eastern and Western countries are responding to and making use of evolving CSR guidelines. The book addresses the following questions: Is CSR simply greenwashing or an authentic commitment to responsible corporate citizenship? Has globalization drawn CSR conduct in LDCs closer to that of industrialized countries? Stakeholder theory actor network theory and a new orbital theory of accountability are applied to give coherence to the case studies. Other chapters address greenwashing in reports the impact of CSR in socially stigmatized occupations an analysis on what responsibility precisely entails in CSR and the interface between law and CSR. The book also considers the impact of COVID 19 on the hospitality industry and includes a contribution from Ukrainian scholars one written while their city of Kharkiv was under attack by Russian forces This book will be a useful reference to those interested in discussions on crises climate change and SDGs and realizing sustainable goals through CSR Developing Sustainable Agriculture in Pakistan Iqrar Ahmad Khan, Muhammad Sarwar Khan, 2018-04-17 Agriculture plays a pivotal role in the economy and development of Pakistan providing food to consumers raw materials to industries and a market for industrial goods Unfortunately agricultural production is stagnant due to several barriers including a fixed cropping pattern reliance on a few major crops a narrow genetic pool poor seed quality and a changing climate In addition the high cost of production weak phytosanitary compliance mechanisms and a lack of cold chain facilities makes Pakistan agriculturally uncompetitive in export markets Despite all these issues agriculture is the primary industry in Pakistan and small farmers continue to dominate the business Small farmers grow crops for subsistence under a fixed cropping pattern and a holistic approach is required to develop agriculture to improve the livelihoods of the rural populace This book presents an exhaustive look at agriculture in Pakistan Chapters provide critical analyses of present trends inadequacies in agriculture strategic planning improvement programs and policies while keeping in view the natural resources plant and animal related agricultural production technologies input supplies population planning migration and poverty and balanced policies on finance credit marketing and trade Africa's Economic Partnership with China Mussie Delelegn Arega, 2022-11-30 This book examines how increasing Africa China relations in the fields of trade development finance and investment have impacted productive capacities and structural economic transformation in sub Saharan Africa SSA The book argues that statistical and empirical evidence shows that China's influence has not substantially altered the fundamentals in Africa and instead outlines a framework of policy conclusions and recommendations to help achieve transformational growth and development Despite increased Chinese investments in transport energy communications and manufacturing sub Saharan Africa is yet to see tangible economic and development benefits according to the multidimensional Productive Capacities Index PCI External trade is dogged by the same problems as during the colonial era with primary commodities dominating exports to China and industrial or manufacturing products dominating imports thereby leaving the region exposed to external economic shocks The book considers whether there are lessons to be learned from the experience of Asian countries such as Vietnam proposing pragmatic coordinated non ideological and non confrontational policy approaches to development This book will be of interest to researchers policymakers advisors academics and practitioners with an interest in development in Africa and China's increasing role in the continent Wild Sardinia Tracey Heatherington, 2011-07-01 Winner of the 2010 Victor Turner Prize in Ethnographic Writing presented by the American Anthropological Association Shared concern for nature can be a way of transcending national ethnic religious and cultural boundaries yet conservation efforts often pit the interests of historically rooted or indigenous peoples against the state and international environmental organizations eroding local autonomy while saving rural land for animals and tourists Wild Sardinia's examination of the cultural politics around nature conservation and the traditional Commons on an Italian island illustrates the complexities of environmental stewardship Long known as the home of fiercely independent shepherds often typecast as rustics bandits or eco vandals as well as wild mouflon sheep magnificent eagles and rare old oak forests the town of Orgosolo has for several decades received notoriety through local opposition to Gennargentu National Park Interweaving rich ethnographic description of highland central Sardinia with analysis grounded in political ecology and reflexive cultural critique Wild Sardinia illuminates the ambivalent and open ended meanings of many Sardinians acts and memories of resistance to environmental projects This groundbreaking case study of the tension between living cultural landscapes and the emerging ecological imaginaries envisioned through policy discourses and new media the global dreamtimes of environmentalism has relevance far beyond its Mediterranean locale
