America His writings have shaped the reception of Benjamin's work in Latin America and have been central to the effort to identify the tasks and responsibilities of the kind of critical theory that would interrupt social violence In this book Oyarzun examines some of the key concepts in Benjamin's work including his concepts of translation experience history and storytelling and relates them to his own systematic reflection on the nature and implications of doing justice What is meant by the words justice was done The passive voice is important here On the one hand justice does nothing it is not an agent it can only prevail or fail and if it fails it does so without limit On the other hand the passive voice alludes to the agents of an action while covering them up the allusion is the masking of the identity and traces of the person who accomplishes the action And this cover up can be dangerous it can cover up the executioners who are subjects that everyone can confirm anonymously without their being recognized and without their wanting to be recognized Justice argues Oyarzun can only be done in the active effort to do justice or as Benjamin would say in the striving to turn the world into the highest good This book by one of Chile's most distinguished philosophers will be of value to anyone interested in Benjamin's work and in the development of critical theory in Latin America Overcommitted Rachel Balducci, 2020-04-10 Are you often pulled in so

Rethinking Vocation Eric Robinson, 2023-09-07 What does it mean to be called How does one discern his or her calling There has been much discussion about these topics within the church and perhaps much confusion as well What if we could root the nature of the believer's calling and vocation from a missional perspective This book seeks to understand how a deeper understanding of God's mission can help believers discern the work to which they are called and equip them for missional witness in and through their work Importantly rooting our understanding of vocation and calling in God's mission gives space for new emphases within the conversations related to faith and work including theologically and contextually grounded emphases on creativity vocational freedom and vocational discernment along with innovative educational models which can support believers as they navigate their work as participants in God's mission When believers connect their gifts talents and creativity with God's work in and for the world in a way that is contextually relevant it opens up opportunities for transformative witness for both believers and for the organizations they serve
