My Writing Goals For 2004:

So, You Want to Write! Ann McIndoo, 2006 180 Days Crystal E. Emerson, 2011-09-15 Have you emotionally suffered through sabotage and administrative loopholes in your place of employment which resulted in wrongful discharge Crystal E Emerson has written an extraordinary and poignant documentation of truth She has experienced the unethical behavior of administrators and other professionals while working in a public school district in the state of Pennsylvania During the 2003-2004 academic year Crystal experienced divided professional loyalties and lived and worked through this emotional dichotomy for 180 days of employment This was a test of personal and emotional strength and a time to trust her instincts The law assumes that public school administrators will behave in an ethical manner The PSEA Pennsylvania State Education Association members assume that union representatives will support them during times of professional adversity This book is a personal account of a professional position in which these two assumptions have failed to occur There is a need for all public school administrators to abide by more strict laws There is a need to implement a law that requires all observations and evaluations performed by public school administrators to video record the session this video recording should be submitted to the state department of education due to a mandating law Such a law would help teachers in extreme situations who have been subjected to heinous actions of administrative personnel It is Crystals hope that her 180 day experience of emotional adversity sabotage harassment and undermining has not occurred in vain Never before has a book been so poignant and honest This is an account of utter emotional and professional strength You will be enticed as you enjoy reading 180 DAYS Voices, Identities, Negotiations, and Conflicts: Writing Academic English Across Cultures Le-Ha Phan, Bradley Baurain, 2011-01-27 Provides insights into the process of knowledge construction in EFL ESL writing from classrooms to research sites from the dilemmas and risks NNEST student writers experience in the pursuit of true agency to the confusions and conflicts academics experience in their own writing practices Tranquilista Kimberly Wilson, 2010 Encourages women to seek empowerment through spirituality philanthropy creativity fashion honesty and community building A Useful Guide to Goal Setting , Building Genre Knowledge Christine Tardy, 2009-07-15 Adopting an interdisciplinary perspective BUILDING GENRE KNOWLEDGE provides a unique look into the processes of building genre knowledge while offering a dynamic theory of those processes that is inclusive of both monolingual and multilingual writers a necessary move in today's linguistically diverse classrooms It will therefore be of great interest to researchers and practitioners in both first and second language writing studies Internationalizing Teaching, Localizing Learning Paul McPherron, 2016-12-27 Based on ethnographic and policy data collected over a ten year span at a university in the People's Republic of China this book analyses the history of English Language Teaching ELT policies in Chinese higher education The book uses the university as a lens in which to investigate the creative imaginations and divergent re appropriations of teaching methods learning materials and language use in the Chinese ELT context Book chapters move beyond mere descriptions of tensions and point to the local understandings and practices of English teachers both local and foreign and students Working together these teachers and students are constantly articulating new social and political conditions and meanings outside and inside given discourses and traditions of ELT The book s main argument is that these multiple stakeholders must be given a more prominent role in shaping policy and curriculum at universities and other English language contexts around the world
