Mystic Moderns James H. Thrall, 2020-01-21 Mystic Moderns examines the responses of three British authors Evelyn Underhill 1875 1941 May Sinclair 1863 1946 and Mary Webb 1881 1927 to the emerging modernity of the long early twentieth century moment encompassing the First World War As they explored divergent but overlapping understandings of what mystical experience might be these authors rejected claims that modernity s celebration of the secular and rational left no place for the mystical rather they countered sensitivity to a greater reality could both establish and validate personal agency and was integral to their identities as modern women Their preoccupations with the dynamism of human connection drew on prevailing ideas of vital energy or life force developed by Arthur Schopenhauer and Henri Bergson in ways that channeled modernity s erotic energy of change By using their fiction to describe new self authenticating forms of mysticism separate from either the prevailing orthodoxy of establishment Christianity or the extreme heterodoxy of their era s enthusiasm for paranormal experimentation they also contributed to the rise of a generic concept of spirituality Mystic Moderns thus offers historical perspective on contemporary claims for self constructed non institutional spiritual experience associated with the claim I m spiritual not religious Working as they did within the shadow of the First World War Underhill Sinclair and Webb were in the end attempting to determine what might be of authentic value for a modern age marked by ubiquitous death While not themselves utopian authors each was touched by her era s complicated hunger for the best of all possible worlds Their constructions of how an individual should be and act in the midst of modernity thus simultaneously projected visions of what that modernity itself should become

Mysticism Evelyn Underhill, 1912

Uttering the Word Armando Maggi, 1998-01-01 Employing contemporary theoretical perspectives Uttering the Word provides the first detailed analysis of the language and thought of Maria Maddalena de Pazzi 1566 1607 an important but neglected Renaissance mystic Borrowing from Lacan de Certeau and Deleuze Maggi analyzes de Pazzi s unique mystical discourse and studies how the Florentine visionary interprets the relationship between orality and writing authorship and audience sexual identity and language

Mystic in the New World: Marie de l'Incarnation (1599-1672) Anya Mali, 2021-11-01 As one of the first female missionaries to the New World and the author of a classic mystical autobiography Marie de l'Incarnation has long been seen as an exemplary type reflecting the mood and aims of the Catholic Reformation In contrast to studies which portray her against the backdrop of religious trends in Catholic Reformation France this book argues that the New France wilderness was the crucial context for the formation of her spiritual identity Marie de l

Incarnation brought her traditional notions to bear on her encounter with the Amerindians but was soon compelled to adjust her views on the natives and the nature of religious experience A close textual analysis of her writings makes it clear that her mysticism was informed by the images of her tradition but also gave new meaning to old concepts Beyond its relevance for those interested in this mystic the book addresses the broader issue of shifting attitudes and boundaries in early modern religious life and demonstrates the need for more variegated typologies of mystical experience in studies on spiritual literature

Field & Stream, 2004-09 FIELD STREAM America's largest outdoor sports magazine celebrates the outdoor experience with great stories compelling photography and sound advice while honoring the traditions hunters and fishermen have passed down for generations

World Views and Perceiving God Joseph Runzo, 1994-01-12 This collection of essays presents a systematic analysis of some of the foremost issues in the philosophy of religion The focus is on the epistemology of religion the most significant area of recent interest in the field After developing a religious epistemology in the first half of the book that epistemology is both further expanded and explicitly applied to salient issues in the contemporary discussion The central question throughout the essays is how our world views affect our perception especially our perception of God The first essays set out a general epistemology of perception The next two sets of essays build upon this in assessing the cognitive value of religious experience and analyzing the proper epistemic foundations for belief in God Then in view of the role of faith developed in those essays the final essays address the dual challenges to traditional theism of theological non realism and of religious pluralism

Satan's Rhetoric Armando Maggi, 2001-09 Reading innumerable treatises on demonology written during the Renaissance including Thesaurus exorcismorum the most important record of early modern exorcisms Maggi finds repeated attempts to define the language exchanged between the fallen progeny of Adam and the most notorious fallen angel of them all Satan Using points of departure taken from de Certeau and Lacan Maggi shows that Satan articulates his language first and foremost in the mind More than speaking the devil tries to make human beings understand his language and speak it themselves

The Medieval Mystical Tradition in England Marion Glasscoe, 1987 These papers are the proceedings of the fourth international Exeter Symposium They promote enquiry into and understanding of the medieval mystics and the cultural context to which they belong Here historians literary critics theologians philosophers and bibliographical scholars explore ways in which the contemplative tradition was mediated and perceived in the very early and very late medieval period and ask fundamental questions about the nature of contemporary understanding of this subject
