Mystical Rites Of Expiation And Redemption:

The Reparable and the Irreparable Johann Michel, 2022-12-19 Since the mid twentieth century Western societies have seen an unprecedented increase in movements demands and policies in favor of reparations The historical catastrophes that shook the last century are both the immediate origin of this groundswell and its founding paradigm The Reparable and the Irreparable Being Human in the Age of Vulnerability places reparation within a wider contemporary context and describes it in its full anthropological depth Repair is a global phenomenon that does not present itself in a unified way Ideas of repair and reparation are expressed at different levels for instance one can mend a damaged object heal a wound redress an injury or make amends for an offence Johann Michel explores how repair and reparation tell us about human beings natural vulnerability our moral fallibility and our social incompleteness but also about the many capabilities we draw upon to mitigate these shortcomings It is from the heart of human finitude that repair and reparation draw meaning and the irreparable whether due to time or to a debt that can never be repaid haunt any policy of reparation Such are the challenges to be addressed by a philosophy of repair and reparation constructed in renewed dialogue with the social sciences

Sacrifice Imagined Douglas Hedley, 2011-09-08 Sacrifice Imagined is an original exploration of the idea of sacrifice by one of the world's preeminent philosophers of religion Despisers of religion have poured scorn upon the idea of sacrifice as an index of the irrational and wicked in religious practice Nor does its secularised form seem much more appealing One need only think of the appalling cult of sacrifice in numerous totalitarian regimes of the twentieth century Yet sacrifice remains a part of our cultural and intellectual imaginary Hedley proposes good reasons to think that issues of global conflict and the ecological crisis highlight the continuing relevance of the topic of sacrifice for contemporary culture The subject of sacrifice has been decisively influenced by two books Girard's The Violence and the Sacred and Burkert's Homo Necans Both of these are theories of sacrifice as violence Hedley's book challenges both of these highly influential theories and presents a theory of sacrifice as renunciation of the will His guiding influences in this are the much misunderstood Joseph de Maistre and the Cambridge Platonists
