New Growth/2 Mark Busby, 1993 New Growth Lyman Grant, 1989 Texas Women Writers Sylvia Ann Grider, Lou Halsell Rodenberger, 1997 A critical survey of over 150 years of Texas women writers including fiction and nonfiction authors poets and dramatists Texas in Poetry 2 Billy Bob Hill, 2002 And of course one poem about Texas that is magnificent in its awfulness Lasca with memorable lines like Scratches don't count In Texas down by the Rio Grande The Magic of Blood Dagoberto Gilb, 1994 In this dynamic collection of short stories including eight from Winners on the Pass Line 1985 Dagoberto Gilb captures the texture of the Southwest's working class in clear ironic and bitingly realistic fiction about regular people going about their complex lives Woodwork Miles Wilson, 2018-04 These stories from four decades are grounded in the geographical cultural and psychological American West Ranging from realism to fables from childhood to senescence from a faltering rancher to the rich and rocky road of fatherhood Woodwork is filled with indelible characters keenly rendered This is not fast food fiction but a nourishing feast Reading the West Michael Kowalewski, 1996-02-23 The American West of myth and legend has always exerted a strong hold on the popular imagination and the essays in Reading the West examine some of the basis of that fascination Reading the West first published in 1996 is a collection of critical essays by writers independent scholars and critics on the literature of the American West in the last two centuries It showcases new ways of reading and understanding western writing Arguing for the importance of place in literature these essays explore what makes representative literary works western They also explore the multicultural and ecological dimensions of western writing This volume helps enrich our understanding of a distinguished body of literary work which has sometimes been unjustly ignored It deals not only with literature but with the changing conception of the West in the American imagination Let's Hear It Sylvia Ann Grider, Lou Halsell Rodenberger, 2003 A collection of 22 stories by Texas women writers that weave a story of their own the story of women's writing in the Lone Star State from 1865 to the present Authors include Berverly Lowry Carolyn Osborn Annette Sanford Denise Chavez Katherine Anne Porter Judy Alter and Joyce Gibson Roach A Companion to the Regional Literatures of America Charles L. Crow, 2008-04-15 The Blackwell Companion to American Regional Literature is the most comprehensive resource yet published for study of this popular field The most inclusive survey yet published of American regional literature Represents a wide variety of theoretical and historical approaches Surveys the literature of specific regions from California to New England and from Alaska to Hawaii Discusses authors and groups who have been important in defining regional American literature The Muse in the Machine T. R. Hummer, 2011-08-15 Music race politics and conscience In these eight essays written over the span of a decade and a half T R Hummer explains how for him such abiding concerns revolve around the practice of poetry and the evolution of a culturally responsible personal poetics Hummer writes about the suicide of poet Vachel Lindsay the culture wars at the National Endowment for the Arts the 1991 Persian Gulf War the divided soul of his native American South and the salving transcendent practice of musicianship Inevitably entwined with a personal or cultural component Hummer's criticism is thus grounded in experience that is always familiar and often straight to the heart in its rightness In one of those statements of poetic purpose that goes hand in hand with a residency guest editorship or lecture tour Hummer once wrote that poetry inhabits and enunciates an incommensurable zone between individual and collective between body and body politic an area very ill negotiated by most of us most of the time Our culture with its emphasis on the individual mind and body teaches us very little about how even to think about the nature of this problem E pluribus unum is a smokescreen what pluribus what unum And yet this phrase is an American mantra as if it explained something This is a quintessential Hummer moment a writer has just given himself a good reason to quit What Hummer knows must happen next is what The Muse in the Machine is all about

John Graves, Writer Mark Busby, Terrell Dixon, 2009-12-03 Runner up Violet Crown Award Writer's League of Texas 2008 Renowned for Goodbye to a River his now classic meditation on the natural and human history of Texas as well as for his masterful ability as a prose stylist John Graves has become the dean of Texas letters for a legion of admiring readers and fellow writers Yet apart from his own largely autobiographical works including Hard Scrabble From a Limestone Ledge and Myself and Strangers surprisingly little has been written about Graves's life or his work John Graves Writer seeks to fill that gap with interviews appreciations and critical essays that offer many new insights into the man himself as well as the themes and concerns that animate his writing The volume opens with the transcript of a revealing often humorous symposium session in which Graves responds to comments and stories from his old friend Sam Hynes his former student and contemporary art critic Dave Hickey and co editor Mark Busby Following this is a more formal interview of Graves by Dave Hamrick who draws the author out on issues relating to each of his major works John Graves's friends Bill Wittliff Rick Bass Bill Broyles John R Erickson Bill Harvey and James Ward Lee speak to the powerful influence that Graves has had on fellow writers In addition to these personal observations nine scholars analyze essential aspects of Graves's work These include the place of Goodbye to a River within environmental literature and how its writing was a rite of passage for its author Graves as a prose stylist and a literary rather than polemical writer the ways in which Graves's major works present different aspects of a single narrative about our relationship to the land the question of gender in Graves's work and Graves's sometimes contentious relationship with Texas Monthly magazine Mark Busby introduces the volume with a critical overview of Graves's life and work and Don Graham concludes it with a discussion of Graves's reception and literary reputation A bibliography of works by and about Graves rounds out the book John Graves Writer confirms Graves's stature not only within Texas letters but also within American environmental writing where Graves deserves to be more widely known

Larry McMurtry and the West Mark Busby, 1995 This is the first major single authored book in almost twenty years to examine the life and work of Texas foremost novelist and to develop coherent patterns of theme structure symbol imagery and influence in Larry McMurtry's work The study focuses on the novelist's relationship to the Southwest theorizing that his writing exhibits a deep ambivalence toward his home territory The course of his career demonstrates shifting attitudes that have led him toward away from and then back again to his home place and the cowboy god that dominates its mythology The book utilizes original materials from five library special collections as well as interviews with McMurtry his family and his friends such as Ken Kesey The Portable Handbook of Texas Roy R. Barkley, Mark F. Odintz, Texas State Historical Association, 2000 Presents a historical survey of Texas from prehistoric times to 2001 followed by alphabetically arranged entries that provide information on various aspects of the history and culture of the state including profiles of major communities and biographies of over five hundred notable Texans Western American Literature ,1995 The American Humanities Index Stephen H. Goode, 1997 Sign Languages James Hannah, 1993 In the haunting beautifully told stories of Sign Languages James Hannah depicts a very real world in which people face the limitations of language as they seek communion with one another On a cross country car trip a father realizes he does not have the words to talk to the six year old daughter he scarcely knows A serial killer trapped within the spiraling deterioration of his own mind expresses him self with savage violence Lost in the woods Charles emerges at a rural farmhouse where he discovers fellowship without the benefit of words in Sign Language An ancient recluse tells his story in the brilliant bittersweet Histoire de mon temps recalling his ritual of gleaning the roadside and constructing his life from the abandoned objects of others Whether urban professionals or societal outcasts Hannah s characters are as real as your neighbor next door They are people you know and people you hope never to meet But in every instance Hannah reveals the threads that link them to one another and to us Though words often fail we do find ourselves connected by devotion by mutual need sometimes by love In the unforgettable stories of Sign Languages James Hannah eloquently relates the severe and simple truth of our lives that in a stark sometimes violent world we can find redemption The Cumulative Book Index ,1990 A world list of books in the English language Writers' and Publishers' Guide to Texas Markets Georgia Kemp Caraway, 1991 A Directory of American Poets and Fiction Writers, 1999-2000 Poets & Writers, Inc, 1999-01-07 The Texas Review ,1989
