Intertextual Masculinity in French Renaissance Literature David P. LaGuardia, 2016-05-06 Intertextual Masculinity in French Renaissance Literature is an in depth analysis of normative masculinity in a specific corpus from pre modern Europe narrative literature devoted to the subject of adultery and cuckoldry The text begins with a set of general questions that serve as a conceptual framework for the literary analyses that follow why were early modern readers so fascinated by the figure of the cuckold What was his relation to the real world of sexual behavior and gender relations What effect did he have on the construction of actual masculinities To respond to these questions David LaGuardia develops a theoretical approach that is based both on modern critical theory and on close readings of records and documents from the period Reading early modern legal texts penance manuals criminal registers and exempla collections in relation to the Cent nouvelles nouvelles Rabelais's Tiers Livre and Brantôme's Dames galantes LaGuardia formulates a definition of masculinity in this historical context as a set of intertextual practices that men used to relay and to reinforce their gender identities By examining legal and literary artifacts from this particular period and culture this study highlights the extent to which this supposedly normative masculinity was historically contingent and materially conditioned by generic practices

Homer and the Question of Strife from Erasmus to Hobbes Jessica Wolfe, 2015-01-01 From antiquity through the Renaissance Homer's epic poems the Iliad the Odyssey and the various mock epics incorrectly ascribed to him served as a lens through which readers translators and writers interpreted contemporary conflicts They looked to Homer for wisdom about the danger and the value of strife embracing his works as a mythographic shorthand with which to describe and interpret the era's intellectual political and theological struggles Homer and the Question of Strife from Erasmus to Hobbes elegantly exposes the ways in which writers and thinkers as varied as Erasmus Rabelais Spenser Milton and Hobbes presented Homer as a great champion of conflict or its most eloquent critic Jessica Wolfe weaves together an exceptional range of sources including manuscript commentaries early modern marginalia philosophical and political treatises and the visual arts Wolfe's transnational and multilingual study is a landmark work in the study of classical reception that has a great deal to offer to anyone examining the literary political and intellectual life of early modern Europe

of French writer Francois Rabelais Dispositio Paul J. Smith, 2007 Drawing on the classical concept of rhetorical dispositio this study gives new interpretations of a number of literary texts of the French Renaissance Rabelais Du Bellay Montaigne and others The often problematic ordering of these texts is studied from a variety of perspectives historical theoretical and cultural The Shaping of Text John Porter Houston, 1993 The Shaping of Text pays homage to the work of the late John Porter Houston who wrote extensively on style rhetoric and narrative and poetic techniques in Western European literature It is appropriate that the essays in this volume focus on the form of the literary work and the ways in which form determines meaning William Calin's essay on the saint's life analyzes the use of antithesis as a poetic and structural device that illustrates the saint's fundamental understanding of the relationship between the ephemeral reality of his physical existence and the absolute timeless reality to which he aspires Raymond LaCharite's study of Rabelais focuses on the author's self-conscious awareness of this relationship and of Renaissance preoccupation with reading as both an act of creation and interpretation George Joseph's study of three Renaissance poets focuses on the use of paradox as both a figure of speech and as a genre that serves both as a structure and as a basis for the interaction in the poetry David Rubin's essay on La Fontaine emphasizes the ways in which the register of style in the Fables is used to set the tone and control the meaning of the language In the chapters devoted to nineteenth and twentieth century literature one can see the continuing closer relationship between the book as a work of art and the reality in which it interacts Suzanne Nash analyzes the strategy Mme de Stael uses in writing De l'Allemagne a book written less to present an accurate portrayal of Germany than to promote her own republican ideals for France Ross Chambers's essay probes the question of the theme of melancholy in Romantic writing and its relationship to the social and political structures of the period Edward Kaplan shows how a growing ethical social concern can be seen in Baudelaire's revised Les Fleurs du Mal Rima Reck and Edward Kaplan reflect the growing use of literature as a vehicle for influencing public opinion Stirling Haig analyzes Flaubert's careful use of style and his awareness that reality is ultimately shaped by the beholder's perspective Finally Virginia La Charite's chapter on Proust returns to the idea of a structure within a structure in this case the architecture of the cathedral as a metaphor of synthesis an aesthetic device that gives an intelligible structure to Proust's enormous but intricately complex mass of details If John Porter Houston focused on form and style it is because he understood the semiotic nature of all things that a writer's style is a subtle form of refined communication or as Houston wrote style is an absolute manner of seeing things for Proust a question of vision and so constitutes the ultimate reality of literature

Laughter in the Middle Ages and Early Modern Times

Albrecht Classen, 2010-09-22 Despite popular opinions of the dark Middle Ages and a gloomy early modern age many people laughed smiled giggled chuckled entertained and ridiculed each other This volume demonstrates how important laughter had been at times and how diverse the situations proved to be in which people laughed and this from late antiquity to the eighteenth century The contributions examine a wide gamut of significant cases of laughter in literary texts historical documents and art works where laughter determined the relationship among people In fact laughter emerges as a kaleidoscopic phenomenon reflecting divine joy bitter hatred and contempt satirical perspectives and parodic intentions In some examples protagonists laughed out of sheer happiness and delight in others because they felt anxiety and insecurity It is much more difficult to detect premodern sculptures of laughing figures but they also existed Laughter reflected a variety of concerns interests and intentions and the collective approach in this volume to laughter in the past opens many new windows to the history of mentality social and religious conditions gender relationships and power structures
