Race And Ethnicity In Multiethnic Schools A Critical Case Study:

Race and Ethnicity in Multi-ethnic Schools James Ryan, 1999 This text explores the representation of race ethnicity in a multiethnic school Employing a critical case study approach it appeals to the wider social context to explain the unequal struggle over the meaning of race and ethnicity in the school In doing so it examines how stereotyping curriculum identity and language practices provide advantages for some and penalize others The book also provides suggestions for how educators might find ways to introduce discourses that make it possible for traditionally marginalized students and members of the community to have their voices heard and to shape meanings that work in their interest Resources in Education, 2001-10 China's Mongols at University Zhenzhou Zhao, Wing On Lee, 2010-04-09 Minority students in China often receive preferential treatment for access to universities However very little is known about minority student experiences and perceptions on campus after they are accorded what is called meaningful access to university The Mongols emerged as a distinct ethnic group in China starting in the 11th century and in the centuries that followed conquered a large part of the world However in modern times this nomadic people's influence has declined and even their survival in China has been threatened This decline is evidenced by the fact that increasing numbers of Mongols have abandoned their native language and traditional customs especially those who live in cities How do Mongol university students who form the backbone of the Mongol intellectual community identify themselves in a modern Chinese context How do they react as university students to the way in which their culture is recognized and represented Do Mongol students suffer from injustice in the cultural dimension of campus life China's Mongols at University Contesting Cultural Recognition seeks to answer these questions Zhenzhou Zhao addresses these issues by comparing the university discourse on minority culture policy institutional structure and daily life and the Mongol student discourse concerning their experiences perceptions of recognition and dedication to self representation on campus Additionally Gao compares three universities in China Located in Inner Mongolia Autonomous Region Beijing and Hubei Province respectively each of these universities represents one of three types of higher education accessible to minority students in China universities located in ethnic areas standard universities and universities for nationalities China's Mongols at University explores and discusses an intrinsic connection between marketization and globalization and the disadvantages faced by minority groups This book argues that China must move from a policy of preferential treatment
