Race Evolution Behavior:

Race, Evolution, and Behavior J. Philippe Rushton, 1995 This volume is sure to be controversial as Rushton attempts nothing less than a paradigmatic change in the way social scientists approach their work especially those concentrated in the study of racial differences Race Evolution and Behavior must be read by sociologists anthropologists genetic scientists psychologists and black studies specialists

Race, Evolution, and Behavior J. Philippe Rushton, 2000 Race, Evolution, and Behavior J. Rushton, 2013-07-28 New edition A masterpiece of modern racial science grounded in irrefutable fact Testing for racial differences in behavior has been much neglected over the past sixty years And when not subject to neglect to strongly negative imputations among professionals and politicians alike According to J Philippe Rushton substantial racial differences do exist and their pattern can only be explained adequately from an evolutionary perspective In this book the author reviews international data and finds a distinct pattern People of East Asian ancestry and people of African ancestry are at opposite ends of a continuum with people of European ancestry intermediate albeit with much variability within each broad grouping Rushton s thesis is that when fully modern humans migrated out of Africa perhaps only 100 000 years ago the colder Eurasian climate selected for larger brains more forward planning greater family stability and increased longevity with concomitant reductions in sex hormone speed of maturation reproductive potency and aggressiveness Rushton s theory emphasizes a trade off between parenting and mating and brings into focus the concept of a coordinated life history of characteristics evolving together to replicate genes more effectively The selection for large brains and parenting skills was taken furthest in east Asia Rushton s theory explains differentiation in intelligence and predicts other seemingly unrelated race effects such as differences in frequency of twinning The capacity to unify disparate phenomena is usually considered a virtue in theories Rushton s gene based evolutionary models explain ethnocentrism and racial group differences and may provide a catalyst for understanding individual differences and human nature This volume is sure to be controversial as Rushton attempts nothing less than a paradigmatic change in the way social scientists approach their work especially those concentrated in the study of racial differences Race Evolution and Behavior must be read by sociologists anthropologists and black studies specialists

Evolution and Literary Theory Joseph Carroll,1995 Over the past two decades poststructuralism in its myriad forms has come to dominate literary criticism to the exclusion of virtually any other point of view Few scholars have escaped the coercive authority of its programmatic radicalism In Evolution and Literary Theory Joseph Carroll vigorously attacks the foundational principles of poststructuralism and offers in their stead a bold new theory that situates literary criticism within the matrix of evolutionary theory

Race in Mind Alexander Alland,2002-10-18 In Race in Mind Alexander Alland challenges the idea that intelligence is related to race offering critiques of the biological determinism of Carlton Coon Arthur Jensen Cyril Burt Robert Ardrey Konrad Lorenz William Shockley and others Presenting evolutionary genetics in understandable and accessible language Alland demonstrates that biologically race cannot explain human variation Written in a lively conversational style Alland imparts real substantive scientific arguments and cuts through the ideological posturing and jargon that so often characterizes our discussions about race showing us a more nuanced and scientifically valid way to understand the diversity that is the human condition

Dismantling Contemporary Deficit Thinking Richard R. Valencia, 2010-09-13 Deficit thinking is a pseudoscience founded on racial and class bias It blames the victim for school failure instead of examining how schools are structured to prevent poor students and students of color from learning Dismantling Contemporary Deficit Thinking provides comprehensive critiques and anti deficit thinking alternatives to this oppressive theory by framing the linkages between prevailing theoretical perspectives and contemporary practices within the complex historical development of deficit thinking Dismantling Contemporary Deficit Thinking examines the ongoing social construction of deficit thinking in three aspects of current discourse the genetic pathology model the culture of poverty model and the at risk model in which poor students students of color and their families are pathologized and marginalized Richard R Valencia challenges these three contemporary components of the deficit thinking theory by providing incisive critiques and discussing competing explanations for the pervasive school failure of many students in the nation s public schools Valencia also discusses a number of proactive anti deficit thinking suggestions from the fields of teacher education educational leadership and educational ethnography that are intended to provide a more equitable and democratic schooling for all students

Socioeconomic Status, Parenting, and Child Development Marc H. Bornstein, Robert H. Bradley, 2014-04-04 This volume presents cutting edge thinking research on linkages among SES parenting child development The authors represent an array of different disciplines they approach the issues of SES parenting child dev from a variety of perspectives Race and Intelligence Jefferson M. Fish, 2013-05-13 In recent years reported racial disparities in IQ scores have been the subject of raging debates in the behavioral and social sciences and education What can be made of these test results in the context of current scientific knowledge about human evolution and cognition Unfortunately discussion of these issues has tended to generate more heat than light Now the distinguished authors of this book offer powerful new illumination Representing a range of disciplines psychology anthropology biology economics history philosophy sociology and statistics the authors review the concept of race and then the concept of intelligence Presenting a wide range of findings they put the experience of the United States so frequently the only focus of attention in global perspective They also show that the human species has no races in the biological sense though cultures have a variety of folk concepts of race that there is no single form of intelligence and that formal education helps individuals to develop a variety of cognitive abilities Race and Intelligence offers the most comprehensive and definitive response thus far to claims of innate differences in intelligence among races Encyclopedia of Animal Behavior , 2019-01-21 Encyclopedia of Animal Behavior Second Edition Four Volume Set the latest update since the 2010 release builds upon the solid foundation established in the first edition Updated sections include Host parasite interactions Vertebrate social behavior and the introduction of overview essays that boost the book s comprehensive detail The structure for the work is modified to accommodate a better grouping of subjects Some chapters have been reshuffled with section headings combined or modified Represents a one stop resource for scientifically reliable information on animal behavior Provides comparative approaches including the perspective of evolutionary biologists physiologists endocrinologists neuroscientists and psychologists Includes multimedia features in the online version that offer accessible tools to readers looking to deepen their understanding The Evolution of Mind Steven W. Gangestad, Jeffrey A. Simpson, 2016-01-26 In the past two decades an explosion of research has generated many compelling insights as well as hotly debated controversies about the evolutionary bases of human nature This important volume brings together leading proponents of different theoretical and methodological perspectives to provide a balanced look at 12 key questions at the core of the field today In 43 concise accessible chapters followed by an integrative conclusion the contributors present viewpoints informed by human behavioral ecology evolutionary psychology and gene culture coevolutionary approaches Topics include the strengths and limitations of different methodologies metatheoretical issues and debates concerning the evolution of the human brain intellectual abilities culture and sexual behavior Human-Earth System Dynamics Rongxing Guo, 2018-05-16 This book explores the factors and mechanisms that may have influenced the dynamic behaviors of earliest civilizations focusing on both environmental geographic factors on which traditional historic analyses are based and human behavioral factors on which anthropological analyses are usually based It also resurrects a number of common ancestral terms to help readers understand the complicated process of human and cultural evolution around the globe Specifically in almost all indigenous languages the words wa and any variants of it were originally associated with the sound of crying of and certainly were selected as the common ancestral word with the meanings of house home homeland motherland and so on by early humans living in different parts of the world This book provides many neglected but still crucial environmental and biological clues about the rise and fall of civilizations ones that have largely resulted from mankind s long lasting Win Stay Lose Shift games throughout the world The narratives and findings presented at this book are unexpected but reasonable and are what every student of anthropology or history needs to know and doesn t get in the usual text Professor Guo explores the dynamics of civilizations from the beginnings to our perplexingly complex world There are lots of thought provoking ideas here on the rise and decline of civilizations and nations Anyone wishing to understand global developments should give this book serious consideration John Komlos University of Munich Germany and Duke University USA It is interesting to see a Chinese perspective on the questions of deep history that have engaged Jared Diamond Yuval Harari and David Christian Guo argues that understanding cyclical threats has been the key to human progress which is driven by the dialectic of material privation and human ingenuity Peter Rutland Wesleyan University USA

Race, Monogamy, and Other Lies They Told You, Second Edition

Agustín Fuentes, 2022-05-10 A compelling takedown of prevailing myths about human behavior updated and expanded to meet the current moment There are three major myths of human nature humans are divided into biological races humans are naturally aggressive and men and women are wholly different in behavior desires and wiring Race Monogamy and Other Lies They Told You counters these pervasive and pernicious myths about human behavior Agust n Fuentes tackles misconceptions about what race aggression and sex really mean for humans and incorporates an accessible understanding of culture genetics and evolution that requires us to dispose of notions of nature or nurture Presenting scientific evidence from diverse fields including anthropology biology and psychology Fuentes devises a myth busting toolkit to dismantle persistent fallacies about the validity of biological races the innateness of aggression and violence and the nature of monogamy sex and gender This revised and expanded edition provides up to date references data and analyses and addresses new topics including the popularity of home DNA testing kits and the lies behind incel culture the resurgence of racist nativist thinking and the internet s influence in promoting bad science and a broader understanding of the diversity of sex and gender
