Race In The College Classroom Pedagogy And Politics:

Race in the College Classroom Maureen T. Reddy, Bonnie TuSmith, 2002 Winner of the 2003 American Educational Studies Association Critics Choice Awards Winner of the 2003 Gustavus Myers Outstanding Book Award Did affirmative action programs solve the problem of race on American college campuses as several recent books would have us believe If so why does talking about race in anything more than a superficial way make so many students uncomfortable Written by college instructors from many disciplines this volume of essays takes a bold first step toward a nationwide conversation Each of the twenty nine contributors addresses one central question what are the challenges facing a college professor who believes that teaching responsibly requires an honest and searching examination of race Professors from the humanities social sciences sciences and education consider topics such as how the classroom environment is structured by race the temptation to retreat from challenging students when faced with possible reprisals in the form of complaints or negative evaluations the implications of using standardized evaluations in faculty tenure and promotion when the course subject is intimately connected with race and the varying ways in which white faculty and faculty of color are impacted by teaching about race

Ed.D. Programs as Incubators for Social Justice Leadership Antonio L. Ellis, 2016-02-10 This book shares the thoughts of mostly North American scholars on many interrelated topics that have not previously been linked in academic research The focus of the book is the belief that the Ed D can prepare highly competent justice oriented scholars who will be engaged with communities Among these future leaders the contributors envision educators who not only lead public schools but also private foundations not for profit organizations and community centers An outstanding feature of this volume is that each chapter highlights existing and emerging issues such as but not limited to candidate recruitment and admission policies program funding fees and student expenses academic support services faculty recruitment compensation evaluation and promotion models on site on line instruction internship policy opportunities for graduate student employment publishing and conference engagement student supervision protocols and dissertation and capstone project parameters In addition the book explores cultural and socio political contexts public private sector relationships and the kinds of legislation that frame Ed D theory policy and practice from a social justice perspective At its best higher education is an indispensable space for spotlighting challenging and addressing injustice This important volume offers us the conceptual methodological empirical and pedagogical tools necessary for understanding the relationship between doctoral education and social justice work Antonio Ellis has assembled an impressive array of scholars who help us understand the promise and possibility of Ed D programs Marc Lamont Hill Host for the Black Entertainment Network Contributor for CNN and Distinguished Professor of African American Studies at Morehouse College This volume helps to clarify what is meant by social justice in school leadership settings and provides both philosophical and theoretical perspectives as well as strategies and curricular content that can assist in developing a common sense understanding of social justice The development of a mental frame of reference is critical to being able to transfer that understanding and curricular content into beliefs and practices As a professor of educational leadership and a college administrator I am most pleased to find a volume that provides perspectives and strategies which can be employed by academicians teaching in leadership programs and practitioners as they lead and prepare others to become leaders Zollie Stevenson Jr Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs and Associate Professor Philander Smith College Black Male Outsider Gary L. Lemons, 2008-01-10 This fascinating book traces the development of the author's consciousness as a black male pro feminist professor Gary L Lemons explores the meaning of black male feminism by examining his experiences at the New York City college where he taught for more than a decade a small private liberal arts college where the majority of the students were white and female Through a series of classroom case studies he presents the transformative power of memoir writing as a strategic tool for enabling students to understand the critical relationship between the personal and the political From the insightful inclusion of his own personal narratives about his childhood experience of domestic violence to stories about being a student and teacher in majority white classrooms for most of his life Lemons takes the reader on a provocative journey about what it means to be black male and pro feminist Diversity's Promise for Higher Education Daryl G. Smith, 2020-08-11 Building sustainable diversity in higher education isn't just the right thing to do it is an imperative for institutional excellence and for a pluralistic society that works Updated Edition Daryl G Smith has devoted her career to studying and fostering diversity in higher education In Diversity's Promise for Higher Education Smith brings together research from a wide variety of fields to propose a set of clear and realistic practices that will help colleges and universities locate diversity as a strategic imperative and pursue diversity efforts that are inclusive of the varied and growing issues apparent on campuses without losing focus on the critical unfinished business of the past To become more relevant to society the nation and the world while remaining true to their core missions colleges and universities must continue to see diversity like technology as central not parallel to their work Indeed looking at the relatively slow progress for change in many areas Smith suggests that seeing diversity as an imperative for an institution's individual mission and not just as a value is the necessary lever for real institutional change Furthermore achieving excellence in a diverse society requires increasing institutional capacity for diversity working to understand how diversity is tied to better leadership positive change research in virtually every field student success accountability and more equitable hiring practices In this edition which is aimed at administrators faculty researchers and students of higher education Smith emphasizes a transdisciplinary approach to the topic of diversity drawing on an updated list of sources from a wealth of literatures and fields The tables and figures have been refreshed to include data on faculty diversity over a twenty year period and the book includes new information about gender identity embedded bias student success the growing role of chief diversity officers the international emergence of diversity issues faculty hiring and important metrics for monitoring progress Drawing on forty years of diversity studies this third edition also includes more examples of how diversity is core to institutional excellence academic achievement and leadership development updates issues of language examines the current climate of race based campus protest addresses the complexity of identity and explains how to attend to the growing kinds of identities relevant to diversity equity and inclusion while not overshadowing the unfinished business of race class and gender

Guyana Diaries Kimberly D Nettles,2016-07 The author an African American researcher explores the impact of work family politics and local culture on the lives of members of a women s work collective in the Caribbean and in the process discovers how differences in class and nation can overshadow the gender and race she shares with her subjects

Experiences of Racialization in Predominantly White Institutions Rachel Endo,2020-09-02 Centered on the narratives from ethnically and racially diverse scholars of color with experience studying and working in predominantly White institutions in the United States this volume offers critical reflection on common assumptions policies and practices which limit or preclude racial diversity and inclusion in various types of educational contexts and settings Scholars at different stages of their careers and from varied sociocultural backgrounds offer powerful critiques of contemporary experiences of disproportionality mis labelling and exploitation among others Exploring both personal and professional repercussions of these lived inequalities the candid insights of racialized challenges and imbalances are linked to the schooling experiences of minoritized K 12 learners and their families This book proposes solutions to promote equitable and inclusive environments for faculty and scholars from racialized backgrounds in higher education with a specific focus on universities with education programs Students scholars and researchers across a broad number of fields including Educational Leadership Ethnic Studies Teacher Education Higher Education may benefit from the discussions provided in this work

Autobiographical Writing Across the Disciplines Diane P. Freedman,Olivia Frey,2004-01-23 An anthology of the personal autobiographical essays of scholars who have made the life story an important part of their disciplinary research

Transforming the Ivory Tower Brett C. Stockdill,Mary Yu Danico,2012-03-15 People outside and within colleges and universities often view these institutions as fair and reasonable far removed from the inequalities that afflict society in general Despite greater numbers of women working class people and people of color as well as increased visibility for LGBTQ students and staff over the past fifty years universities remain ivory towers that perpetuate institutionalized forms of sexism classism racism and homophobia Transforming the Ivory Tower builds on the rich legacy of historical struggles to open universities to dissenting voices and oppressed groups Each chapter is guided by a commitment to praxis the idea that theoretical understandings of inequality must be applied to concrete strategies for change The common misconception that racism sexism and homophobia no longer plague university life heightens the difficulty to dismantle the interlocking forms of oppression that undergird the ivory tower Contributors demonstrate that women LGBTQ people and people of color continue to face systemic forms of bias and discrimination on campuses throughout the U S Curriculum and pedagogy evaluation of scholarship and the processes of tenure and promotion are all laden with inequities both blatant and covert The contributors to this volume defy the pressure to assimilate by critically examining personal and collective struggles Speaking from different social spaces and backgrounds they analyze antiracist feminist and queer approaches to teaching and mentoring research and writing academic culture and practices growth and development of disciplines campus activism university community partnerships and confronting privilege Transforming the Ivory Tower will be required reading for all students faculty and administrators seeking to understand bias and discrimination in higher education and to engage in social justice work on and off college campuses It offers a proactive approach encompassing institutional and cultural changes that foster respect inclusion and transformation Contributors Michael Armato Rick Bonus Jose Guillermo Zapata Calderon Mary Yu Danico Christina Gomez David Naguib Pellow Brett C Stockdill Linda Trinh V Memory Ireland Oona Frawley, 2012-03-29 In the second volume of a series that will ultimately include four the authors consider Irish diasporic memory and memory practices While the Irish diaspora has become the subject of a wide range of scholarship there has been little work focused on its relationship to memory The first half of the volume asks how diasporic memory functions in different places and times and what forms it takes on As an island nation with a history of emigration Ireland has developed a rich diasporic cultural memory one that draws on multiple traditions and historiographies of both home and away Native traditions are not imported wholesale but instead develop their own curious hybridity reflecting the nature of emigrant memory that absorbs new ways of thinking about home How do immigrants remember their homeland How do descendants of immigrants remember a land they rarely visit How does diasporic memory pass through families and how is it represented in cultural forms such as literature festivals and souvenirs In its second half this volume shifts its attention to the concept of memory practices ways of cultural remembering that result from and are shaped by particular cultural forms Many of these cultural forms embody memory materially through language music and photography and because of their distinctive expressions of culture give rise to distinctive memory practices Gathering the leading voices in Irish studies this volume opens new pathways into the body of Irish cultural memory demonstrating time and again the ways in which memory is supported by the negotiations of individuals within wider cultural contexts Contributors include Aidan Arrowsmith Hasia Diner Joep Leerssen Paul Muldoon Nuala N Dhomhnaill Teaching for a Culturally Diverse and Racially Just World Eleazar S. Fernandez, 2014-02-25 Cultural and ethnic diversity is the reality of our world and much more so in this age of heightened globalization Yet do our ways of doing theological education match with our current reality and hopes for a colorful and just tomorrow How shall we do theological formation so it helps give birth to a culturally diverse racially just and hospitable world This edited volume gathers the voices of minoritized scholars and their white allies in the profession in response to the above questions More particularly this volume gathers the responses of these scholars to the questions What is the plight of theological education Who are the teachers Who are our students What shall we teach How shall we teach How shall we form and lead theological institutions It is the hope of this volume to contribute to the making of theological education that is hospitably just to difference s and welcoming of our

diverse population which is our only viable future When we embody this vision in our daily educational practices particularly in the training of our future religious leaders we may help usher in a new colorful and just world Affirmative Action Tim J. Wise, 2005 First Published in 2005 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Racial Battle Fatigue in Higher Education Kenneth J. Fasching-Varner, Katrice A. Albert, Roland W. Mitchell, Chaunda Allen, 2014-12-23 Racial Battle Fatigue is described as the physical and psychological toll taken due to constant and unceasing discrimination microaggressions and stereotype threat The literature notes that individuals who work in environments with chronic exposure to discrimination and microaggressions are more likely to suffer from forms of generalized anxiety manifested by both physical and emotional symptoms This edited volume looks at RBF from the perspectives of graduate students middle level academics and chief diversity officers at major institutions of learning RBF takes up William A Smith's idea and extends it as a means of understanding how the academy or higher education operates Through microaggressions stereotype threat underfunding and defunding of initiatives offices expansive commitments to diversity related strategic plans with restrictive power and action and departmental climates of exclusivity and inequity diversity workers faculty staff and administration of color along with white allies in like positions find themselves in a badlands where identity difference is used to promote institutional values while at the same time creating unimaginable work spaces for these workers Teaching for Diversity and Social Justice Maurianne Adams, Lee Anne Bell, 2016-01-22 For twenty years Teaching for Diversity and Social Justice has been the definitive sourcebook of theoretical foundations pedagogical and design frameworks and curricular models for social justice teaching practice Thoroughly revised and updated this third edition continues in the tradition of its predecessors to cover the most relevant issues and controversies in social justice education in a practical hands on format Filled with ready to apply activities and discussion questions this book provides teachers and facilitators with an accessible pedagogical approach to issues of oppression in classrooms The revised edition also focuses on providing students the tools needed to apply their learning about these issues Features new to this edition include A new bridging chapter focusing on the core concepts that need to be included in all SJE practice and illustrating ways of getting started teaching foundational core concepts and processes A new chapter addressing the possibilities for adapting social justice education to online and blended courses Expanded overview sections that highlight the historical contexts and legacies of oppression opportunities for action and change and the intersections among forms of oppression Added coverage of key topics for teaching social justice issues such as establishing a positive classroom climate institutional and social manifestations of oppression the global implications of contemporary SJE work and action steps for addressing injustice New and revised material for each of the core chapters in the book complemented by fully developed online teaching designs including over 150 downloadables activities and handouts on the book's Companion Website www.routledge/textbooks.com/textbooks__author_teachingfordiversity A classic for teachers across disciplines Teaching for Diversity and Social Justice presents a thoughtful well constructed and inclusive foundation for engaging students in the complex and often daunting problems of discrimination and inequality in American society Women of Color in Higher Education Gaëtane Jean-Marie, Brenda Lloyd-Jones, 2011-08-18 Focuses on African American Hispanic American Native American and Asian Pacific American women whose increased presence in senior level administrative and academic positions in higher education is transforming the political climate to be more inclusive of women of color Faculty Identities and the Challenge of Diversity Mark A Chesler, Alford A Young Jr, 2015-11-17 This book focuses on understanding the experiences of faculty members of various races ethnicities and genders and their classroom encounters with students in the United States It illustrates some of the dynamics for faculty members facing the challenges and opportunities the diversity presents The Rowman & Littlefield Handbook on Workplace Diversity and Stratification Tsedale M. Melaku, Angie Beeman, Christoph Winkler, 2023-11-01 Organizations and institutions use diversity and inclusion mantras to signal opportunity and access for all However the real world results are often underwhelming and people are demanding that organizations recognize the value that diversity brings to a workplace and be held accountable to the diversity and inclusion mission statements on their websites The Rowman Littlefield Handbook on Workplace Diversity and Stratification provides a comprehensive yet concise overview of important issues themes and research regarding workplace diversity and stratification The book analyzes present day and future implications of diversity in the workplace and offers concrete ways of developing policies and practices that will make diversity an intrinsic part of any organizational culture Taking an interdisciplinary approach the book covers topics including racism sexism socio economic status LGBTQ workers education intersectionality neurodiversity religion and allyship Practical contemporary and relevant this is an excellent resource for anyone interested in understanding what workplace diversity and stratification mean for everyday people institutions and society as a whole Cultural Studies in the Classroom and Beyond Jaafar Aksikas, Sean Johnson Andrews, Donald Hedrick, 2019-11-26 This edited volume seeks to combine and highlight the theoretical and practical aspects of teaching by exploring and reflecting on the ways in which Cultural Studies is taught and practiced at both the undergraduate and graduate levels in the US and internationally Contributors create a space where connections among Cultural Studies practitioners across generations and locations are formed Because the alliances built by Cultural Studies practitioners in the U S and the global north are deeply shaped by the global south Third World perspectives this book extends an invitation to teachers and practitioners in and outside of the US including those who may offer a transnational perspective on teaching and practicing Cultural Studies This volume promises to be a trailblazing collection of first rate essays by leading and emerging figures in the field of Cultural Studies Assessing the Teaching of Writing Amy E. Dayton, 2015-03-15 Although fraught with politics and other perils teacher evaluation can contribute in important positive ways to faculty development at both the individual and the departmental levels Yet the logistics of creating a valid assessment are complicated Inconsistent methods rater bias and overreliance on student evaluation forms have proven problematic The essays in Assessing the Teaching of Writing demonstrate constructive ways of evaluating teacher performance taking into consideration the immense number of variables involved Contributors to the volume examine a range of fundamental issues including the political context of declining state funds in education growing public critique of the professoriate and demands for accountability resulting from federal policy initiatives like No Child Left Behind the increasing sophistication of assessment methods and technologies and the continuing interest in the scholarship of teaching The first section addresses concerns and advances in assessment methodologies and the second takes a closer look at unique individual sites and models of assessment Chapters collectively argue for viewing teacher assessment as a rhetorical practice Fostering new ways of thinking about teacher evaluation Assessing the Teaching of Writing will be of great interest not only to writing program administrators but also to those concerned with faculty development and teacher assessment outside the writing program

Learning to Speak, Learning to Listen Susan E. Chase, 2011-03-15 Over the past three decades colleges and universities have committed to encouraging embracing and supporting diversity as a core principle of their mission But how are goals for achieving and maintaining diversity actually met What is the role of students in this mission When a university is committed to diversity what is campus culture like In Learning to Speak Learning to Listen Susan E Chase portrays how undergraduates at a predominantly white urban institution which she calls City University a pseudonym learn to speak and listen to each other across social differences Chase interviewed a wide range of students and conducted content analyses of the student newspaper student government minutes curricula and website to document diversity debates at this university Amid various controversies she identifies a defining moment in the campus culture a protest organized by students of color to highlight the university's failure to live up to its diversity commitments Some white students dismissed the protest some were hostile to it and some fully engaged their peers of color In a book that will be useful to students and educators on campuses undergoing diversity initiatives Chase finds that both students willingness to share personal stories about their diverse experiences and collaboration among student organizations student affairs offices and academic programs encourage speaking and listening across differences and help incorporate diversity as part of the overall mission of the university
