Race, Ethnicity and Education David Gillborn, 2003-09-02 This book is a major new investigation into the issues of race ethnicity and education following the educational reforms during the late 1980s It provides an up to date and critical introduction to current issues and major research findings in the field exploring the teacher pupil relationship through a detailed account of life in an inner city comprehensive It reveals the influence of different racist stereotypes and highlights the especially disadvantaged position of Afro Caribbean pupils within a school Features Draws on a wide variety of research projects in ethnic schools to examine achievement curriculum content language use assessment and testing under the National Curriculum Uses material collected during two years of research to consider young people's school experiences and issues relating to classroom discipline

Race and Ethnicity in Multi-ethnic Schools James Ryan, 1999 This book explores the representation of race and ethnicity in a multiethnic school Using a critical case study approach it examines how stereotyping curriculum identity and language practices provide advantages for some and penalize others

Social Justice Education in European Multi-ethnic Schools Cinzia Pica-Smith, Rina Manuela Contini, Carmen N. Veloria, 2018-11-20 Europe is a multi ethnic society experiencing a rise of anti immigration racist xenophobic discourses and right wing political rhetoric and movements proposing legislation to further solidify structural inequality and institutionalized systems of oppression that fuel educational inequities Social Justice Education in European Multi ethnic Schools brings together researchers in the fields of sociology and education to examine debates in multicultural education Drawing on critical theory the book takes an in depth look at how these challenges are being addressed or not addressed in educational contexts and in the proposed framework of intercultural education adopted as a conceptual and educational framework by the European Union over the last two decades The book begins with an analysis of the sociological models and theories of migration and their connection to multiculturalism and interculturalism It engages in the current debate between multiculturalism and interculturalism bringing to light the political rhetoric that fueled narratives about the failures of multiculturalism which ushered in the intercultural framework It puts forth a critical analysis of interculturalism linking it to neoliberalism and policies of civic integration and the concept of governmentality Advocating for a transformative framework informed in social justice education that aims to promote more equity in schools it critically analyzes and discusses intercultural education the pedagogical extension of interculturalism as per the European documents highlighting its goals pedagogies tensions and challenges Social Justice Education in European Multi ethnic Schools will be of great interest to academics researchers and scholars in the fields of intercultural multicultural and transformative education

Race, Ethnicity, and Multiculturalism Peter M. Hall, 1997 This book examines how teachers administrators and educational institutions contribute to racial and ethnic inequality and offers policy and practice suggestions for change It reviews the literature the national societal and cultural contexts definitions of race and ethnicity family influences and then explores the topic in relation to teachers classrooms school programs school organization and district policy making The book concludes with recommendations on how to integrate current school restructuring with multicultural education

Racial Categorization of Multiracial Children in Schools Jane A. Chiong, 1998-05-21 Multiracial students have unique needs that are not being met in schools because teachers and school personnel assume that those needs are the same as those of monoracial minority children Children of multiple races are in fact invisible in the schools On school and federal forms they are racially categorized based on one race only and such categorizations are not limited to documents Schools and teachers may unknowingly transmit monoracial identity messages to multiracial students which is problematic for some students who may want to identify with more than one race Our racial categorization process reflects the deficiencies of the concept of race in American culture and needs to be renegotiated The multiracial child is a microcosm of the American cultural identity Current racial categorization of multiracial children reflects a society that is still renegotiating its own racial and ethnic identities and these children bear the burdens of the difficulties As America continues to become increasingly populated by diverse peoples what it means to be American is in transition Americans are moving away from a fixed notion of the American cultural identity toward an expanded more inclusive resolution Working with Multiracial Students Kendra R. Wallace, 2006-09-01 Working with Mixed Heritage Students offers a collection of writings that bridges the social science and educational literature related to mixed heritage identity development and schooling in diverse contexts As such it is the first book of its kind to provide a direct focus on multiracial ethnic identity and formal education in the United States based on the scholarship of educational researchers The two common threads linking the chapters are the flexible yet situated nature of ethnic and racial identities among mixed heritage students and the importance of theorizing social contexts when interpreting and representing identity community and belonging In addition to exploring general themes of identity development Working with Mixed Heritage Students addresses theoretical and methodological issues in conducting research on topics related to mixed heritage students as well as implications for teacher preparation and educational practice Ultimately the authors brought together in this volume share a focus on recently mixed heritage students of first or second or third generation multiracial and multiethnic descent This diversity of perspectives on such a complex topic creates a tension within the book one that naturally emerges through interdisciplinary collaboration But it is hoped that this tension is just one of many that will lead to further reflection dialogue and action by researchers and educators working with like populations

The Influence of K-12 Schooling on the Identity Development of Multiethnic Students, 2004 This study examined the influence of K 12 schooling on the racial and ethnic identity development of 23 self identified multiethnic students attending high schools across the San Francisco Bay Area All of the students participated in a semi structured interview nine participated in one of two focus groups and five completed a writing activity I approached this study with a postpositivist realist conception of identity Mohanty 2000 Moya 2000a b that takes seriously the fluidity and complexity of identities as well as their epistemic and real world significance In defining racial and ethnic identity formation I borrowed Tatum s 1997 understanding of it as the process of defining for oneself the personal significance and social meaning of belonging to a particular racial and or ethnic group p 16 The findings from this study indicate that the formal aspects of schooling e g curriculum and diversity education initiatives rarely directly influence the racial and ethnic identity development of multiethnic students They do however shape all students racial and ethnic understandings and ideologies which in turn shape the informal aspects of schooling e g interactions with peers and racial and ethnic divisions within the student body which exert direct influence over multiethnic students experiences and identities Of course schooling is not alone in shaping the racial and ethnic understandings and ideologies of the general student body other influences such as family and neighborhood context cannot be discounted Nevertheless the findings indicate that schools are sites of negotiation that these negotiations influence multiethnic students identities and that these negotiations occur in the context of and are shaped by both formal and informal aspects of schooling including but not limited to school demographics curricula race and ethnicity based student organizations and interactions between all members of the school community Policy and Practice in Multicultural and Anti-Racist Education Peter Foster,2019-08-13 This fascinating case study first published in 1990 of how policies work out in a real school setting is placed in the context of the wider debate about multi cultural anti racist education This book also makes suggestions for the shaping of future policy This book should be of interest to lecturers and students of education and sociology Race, Ethnicity and Gender in Education Joseph Zajda,Kassie Freeman,2010-03-23 Race Ethnicity and Gender in Education Cross cultural which is the sixth volume in the 12 volume book series Globalisation Comparative Education and Policy Research presents scholarly research on major discourses of race ethnicity and gender in education It provides an easily accessible practical yet scholarly source of information about the international concern in the field of globalisation and comparative education Above all the book offers the latest findings to the critical issues concerning major discourses on race ethnicity and gender in the global culture It is a sourcebook of ideas for researchers practitioners and policymakers in education globalisation social justice equity and access in schooling around the world It offers a timely overview of current issues affecting research in comparative education of race ethnicity and gender It provides directions in education and policy research relevant to progressive pedagogy social change and transformational educational reforms in the twen first century The book critically examines the overall interplay between the state ideology and current discourses of race ethnicity and gender in the global culture It draws upon recent studies in the areas of globalisation equity social justice and the role of the State Zajda et al 2006 2008 It explores conceptual frameworks and methodological approaches applicable in the research covering the State globa sation race ethnicity and gender

Multiethnic Moments Susan Clarke,2006-09-15 When courts lifted their school desegregation orders in the 1990s declaring that black and white students were now integrated in America s public schools it seemed that a window of opportunity would open for Latinos Asians and people of other races and ethnicities to influence school reform efforts However in most large cities the multiethnic moment passed without leading to greater responsiveness to burgeoning new constituencies Multiethnic Moments examines school systems in four major U S cities Boston Denver Los Angeles and San Francisco to uncover the factors that worked for and against ethnically representative school change More than a case study this book is a concentrated effort to come to grips with the multiethnic city as a distinctive setting It utilizes the politics of education reform to provide theoretically grounded empirical scholarship about the broader contemporary politics of race and ethnicity emphasizing the intersection of interests ideas and institutions with the differing political legacies of each of the cities under consideration      Diversity and Multiculturalism Shirley R. Steinberg, 2009 This reader demands that we understand diversity and multiculturalism by identifying the ways in which curriculum has been written and taught and by redefining the field with an equitable lens freeing it from the dominant cultural curriculum The book problematizes the issue of whiteness for instance as not being the opposite of blackness or person of color but rather a meta description for our dominant culture Issues are also addressed that are usually left out of the discussion about diversity and multiculturalism this reader includes essays on physical diversity geographic diversity and difference in sexualities This is the quintessential collection of work by critical scholars committed to redefining the conversation on multiculturalism and diversity
