Leading legal lights weigh in on key issues of race and the law collected in honor of one of the originators of critical race theory Penetrating essays on race and social stratification within policing and the law in honor of pioneering scholar Derrick Bell Kirkus Reviews starred review When Derrick Bell one of the originators of critical race theory turned sixty five his wife founded a lecture series with leading scholars including critical race theorists

many of them Bell's former students. Now these lectures given over the course of twenty-five years are collected for the first time in a volume. Library Journal calls it potent and Kirkus Reviews in a starred review says it powerfully acknowledges the persistence of structural racism. To what extent does equal protection protect asks Ian Haney Lopez in a penetrating analysis of the gaps that remain in our civil rights legal codes. Sherrilyn Ifill, president and director counsel of the NAACP Legal Defense Fund, describes the hypersegregation of our cities and the limits of the law's ability to change deep-seated attitudes about race. Patricia J. Williams explores the legacy of slavery in the law's current constructions of sanity. Anita Allen discusses competing privacy and accountability interests in the lives of African American celebrities. Chuck Lawrence interrogates the judicial backlash against affirmative action. And Michelle Alexander describes what caused her to break ranks with the civil rights community and take up the cause of those our legal system has labeled unworthy. Race Rights and Redemption, which was originally published in hardcover under the title Carving Out a Humanity, gathers some of our country's brightest progressive legal stars in a volume that illuminates facets of the law that have continued to perpetuate racial inequality and to confound our nation at the start of a new millennium. With contributions by Michelle Alexander, Anita Allen, Derrick Bell, Stephen Bright, Paul Butler, John Calmore, Devon W. Carbado, William Carter Jr., Emma Coleman Jordan, Richard Delgado, Annette Gordon-Reed, Jasmine Gonzales-Rose, Lani Guinier, Cheryl I. Harris, Ian Haney Lopez, Sherrilyn Ifill, Charles Lawrence, Kenneth W. Mack, Mari Matsuda, Charles Ogletree, Angela Onwuachi-Willig, Theodore M. Shaw, Kendall Thomas, Patricia J. Re-Turns, Entanglements and Collaborations Jelena Tošić, Sabine Strasser, Annika Lems, 2025-08-01. This collection marks the EASA Book Series 50th volume and celebrates collaborative forms of knowledge production in anthropology. It is organized around eight key themes and concepts that have marked anthropological debates in Europe over the past 20 years. Featuring engaging contributions, anthropologists from different generations and backgrounds come together to collaboratively reflect on questions that keep recurring throughout the book series. As a tribute to anthropology in and of Europe, the book is an experiment in collaboration as much as a testament to anthropology's vitality and relevance in a world which sees itself confronted by challenges of planetary dimension.

Diversifying the Teaching Force in Transnational Contexts Clea Schmidt, Jens Schneider, 2016-10-26. Diversifying the teaching force has become a priority in many migrant-receiving jurisdictions worldwide with the growing mismatch between the ethnic backgrounds, cultures, languages, and religions of teachers and those of students and families. Arguments for diversification tend to be couched in terms of disproportionate representation and students from minority backgrounds needing positive role models, yet research identifies other compelling reasons for diversification including the fact that teachers of migrant backgrounds often possess outstanding qualifications when multilingualism and internationally obtained education and experience are taken into account and the fact that all students including majority background students benefit from a diversity of role models in schools Nevertheless the process of diversification is fraught with complexity Depending on the context systemic discrimination an oversupply of teachers in the profession generally and outdated hiring policies and practices can all impede efforts to diversify the teaching force This volume comprises original research from Canada the U S Germany Ireland Scotland and England that problematizes issues of diversifying the teaching force and identifies promising practices A foreword written by Charlene Bearhead of the National Centre for Truth and Reconciliation questions the very purpose of education in and for diverse societies An introduction written by the editors defines key concepts and establishes a rationale for diversifying the teaching force in migrant receiving contexts Following this key international scholars offer empirical perspectives using a range of methodologies and theories rooted in critical social science paradigms The volume informs future research programming and policy development in this area
