Modern theology needs the rediscovery of the category of consolation This book is rich of consolations because it takes the cry of lament seriously Jurgen Moltmann A timely accessible and valuable book The recovery of the biblical traditions of loss and hurt is intrinsically worth doing more worth doing in an increasingly disestablished society Walter Brueggemann Columbia Theological Seminary Emeritus This cross disciplinary collaboration is poignant and compelling testimony to the personal and communal power of lament and its importance to the practice of ministry This book is the one that I have been waiting for Christie Cozad Neuger Brite Divinity School Few books in the literature of lament have drawn together so much material from the biblical theological and pastoral spheres as Rachel s Cry Patrick D Miller Princeton Theological Seminary Honesty with God is the doorway to authentic hope and faith This is one of the most liberating books I have read in a long time James Newton Poling Garrett Evangelical Theological Seminary This is the first book to bring scattered discussions together into one coherent whole with deep Christian insight and conviction with vivid examples and with learning which is as gracefully communicated as it is broad and deep in its substance I will be keeping it near at hand so as to return to it often Nicholas Wolterstorff Yale University Rachel s Cry is not only a timely book it is an urgently needed resource for people who long for a way to live with irrational suffering Unless we recover the prayer of lament we are in danger of being trapped in powerlessness cynicism and despair Herbert Anderson Catholic Theological Union Emeritus I found it difficult to put this book down Rachel s Cry convincingly argues that an authentic and empowering spirituality requires the language of lament and protest alongside praise and thanksgiving Nancy J Ramsay Louisville Presbyterian Theological Seminary Kathleen M Billman is dean of academic affairs and professor of pastoral theology and counseling at Lutheran School of Theology in Chicago Daniel L Migliore is Charles Hodge Professor of Systematic Theology at Princeton Theological Seminary      The Conciliator of R. theological commitment Protestants Catholics Jews and others The introductory articles and section introductions in the volume discuss the dramatic challenges that have shaped contemporary interpretation of the Old Testament and Apocrypha Individual book articles provide an introduction and commentary on key sense units that are explored through the lenses of three critical questions The text in its ancient context What did the text probably mean in its original historical and cultural context The text in the interpretive tradition How have centuries of reading and interpreting shaped our understanding of the text The text in contemporary discussion What are the unique challenges and interpretive questions that arise for readers and hearers of the text today The result is a commentary that is comprehensive and useful for preaching teaching and research
