Racial Classification And History:

Racial Classification and History E. Nathaniel Gates, 1997 This collection of essays and reviews represents the most significant and comprehensive writing on Shakespeare's A Comedy of Errors Miola's edited work also features a comprehensive critical history coupled with a full bibliography and photographs of major productions of the play from around the world In the collection there are five previously unpublished essays The topics covered in these new essays are women in the play the play's debt to contemporary theater its critical and performance histories in Germany and Japan the metrical variety of the play and the distinctly modern perspective on the play as containing dark and disturbing elements To compliment these new essays the collection features significant scholarship and commentary on The Comedy of Errors that is published in obscure and difficult accessible journals newspapers and other sources This collection brings together these essays for the first time

White Logic, White Methods Tukufu Zuberi, Eduardo Bonilla-Silva, 2008-05-02 Examines how the racial lenses of the social sciences and the subscription of social scientists to whites racial common sense have limited their understanding of racial matters and handicapped their capacity to appreciate the significance of the race effect they call it the racial stratification effect With an assemblage of leading scholars White Logic White Methods explores the possibilities and necessary dethroning of current social research practices and demands a complete overhaul of current methods towards a multicultural and pluralist approach to what we know think and question Readers in various social sciences will find useful the chapters in the collection but all will agree that the introductory and concluding chapters to the volume Towards a Definition of White Logic and White Methods and Telling the Real Tale of the Hunt Towards a Race Conscious Sociology of Racial Stratification are likely to become classics in the field of racial and ethnic relations

A Cultural History of Race in the Modern and Genomic Age Tanya Maria Golash-Boza, 2023-06-01 The period from the 1920s to the present is marked by the rise of eugenics the expansion and hardened enforcement of immigration laws legal apartheid the continuance of race pseudoscience and the rise of human and civil rights discourse in response Eugenics programmes in the early 20th century focused on sterilization and evolved into unimaginable horrors with the Nazi regime in Germany Countries in Europe and across the Americas have used immigration policies to shape the racial composition of their territories Legal apartheid has been slowly dismantled in the United States and South Africa yet continues to have enduring consequences Eugenics today persists in various permutations of race science Leaders and activists have drawn from civil and human rights discourses to fight back against the persistence of racial inequalities and racialized discourses in the 21st century We can look back on history and see that the Holocaust was a tragedy of historic proportions yet the tradition of scientific racism that led to the Holocaust continues We can look back and see that the internment of the Japanese during the Second World War was a horrific injustice yet detention camps filled with Central Americans continue to proliferate in the United States and refugee camps around the world are overflowing As this volume makes clear racism is an ideology that is adept at changing with the Western History is a measured rejoinder to the dominant narrative that considers the Graeco Persian Wars to be merely the first round of an oft repeated battle between the despotic East and the broadly enlightened West Samiei analyses the historiography which has skewed our understanding of this crucial era contrasting the work of Edward Gibbon and Goethe which venerated Classicism and Hellenistic history with later writers such as John Linton Myres Finally Samiei explores the cross cultural encounters which constituted the Achaemenid period itself and repositions it as essential to the history of Europe Asia and the Middle East

The Palgrave International Handbook of Mixed Racial and Ethnic Classification Zarine L. Rocha, Peter J. Aspinall, 2020-01-03 This handbook provides a global study of the classification of mixed race and ethnicity at the state level bringing together a diverse range of country case studies from around the world The classification of race and ethnicity by the state is a common way to organize and make sense of populations in many countries from the national census and birth and death records to identity cards and household surveys As populations have grown diversified and become increasingly transnational and mobile single and mutually exclusive categories struggle to adequately capture the complexity of identities and heritages in multicultural societies State motivations for classification vary widely and have shifted over time ranging from subjugation and exclusion to remediation and addressing inequalities The chapters in this handbook illustrate how differing histories and contemporary realities have led states to count and classify mixedness in different ways for different reasons This collection will serve as a key reference point on the international classification of mixed race and ethnicity for students and scholars across sociology ethnic and racial studies and public policy as well as policy makers and practitioners

Ideas of 'Race' in the History of the Humanities Amos Morris-Reich, Dirk Rupnow, 2017-04-24 This volume is concerned with the hitherto neglected role of the humanities in the histories of the idea of race Its aim is to begin to fill in this significant lacuna If in the decades following World War II and the Holocaust years that witnessed European decolonization and the African American civil rights movement the concept of race slowly but surely lost its legitimacy as a cultural political and scientific category for much of the nineteenth and the first half of the twentieth century concepts of race enjoyed widespread currency in numerous fields of knowledge such as the history of art history musicology or philosophy Bringing together some of the most distinguished scholars in their respective fields this is the first collective attempt to address the history of notions of race in the humanities as a whole

Bioterrorism: The History of a Crisis in American Society David McBride, 2022-07-30 Although at the start of the 21st century bioterrorism was newly feared by the public at large it is one threat that institutions have attempted to anticipate for years Originally published in 2003 and now with a new introduction this unique 2 volume collection provides a multi disciplinary resource on the challenges bioterrorism poses for American society and institutions from both legal and political institutions on one hand to public health and medical institutions on the other Volume one documents and analyses the challenge bioterrorism poses to these political economic and legal institutions putting bioterrorism into its historical context as a problem discussed and anticipated by government for decades Volume two documents the challenges bioterrorism poses to public health and public policy as a weapon of disease and fear The materials in these volumes provide case histories and discourse by specialists relating to the ways that the bioterrorism threat has been perceived and approached by US health and law institutions
