Racial Impact At The Crossroads:

Racial Impact at the Crossroads George J. Foxx, 2008-11 Have you ever been raped or robbed How about cheated out of something special and expensive What about discriminated against threaten and violated until you were helpless and hopeless and when you went for lawful help the Justice Department which is supposed to protect people instead protects the culprits It s like living a nightmare day after day year after year for 12 1 2 years never to wake up The horrors of disbelief and hurt anger to forgiveness deceit and obstruction and justice being delayed and denied Well I hope you never find yourself in this situation because you may not survive In this nightmare nothing or no one seems to come to your aid even after fighting in federal judicial system before 161 judges in 28 venues even the U S Supreme Court eight times just to be ignored What a horrible feeling The feelings only become more horrible when you know who the Evil Demon in the nightmare is the United States Navy Yes the Navy at the Crossroad Racial Impact. . . at the Crossroads George J. Foxx, Dr, 2003-04 Implications of Race and Racism in Student Evaluations of Teaching LaVada U. Taylor, 2021-05-07 Implications of Race and Racism in Student Evaluations of Teaching The Hate U Give highlights practices in higher education such as using student evaluations of teaching to inform merit increases contract renewals and promotion and tenure decisions The collection deconstructs student course feedback to reveal implications of race and racism inherent in student responses mirroring learned behavior situated within the social political context of US culture and K12 schools Learned behavior fostering racial hate given to students informing and shaping classroom experiences with BIPOC faculty To this end the work speaks to systemic racial inequity in higher education learning spaces and possibilities of reimagining student evaluations as a cry for a more just and equitable society Collisions at the Crossroads Genevieve

Carpio, 2019-04-16 There are few places where mobility has shaped identity as widely as the American West but some locations and populations sit at its major crossroads maintaining control over place and mobility labor and race In Collisions at the Crossroads Genevieve Carpio argues that mobility both permission to move freely and prohibitions on movement helped shape racial formation in the eastern suburbs of Los Angeles and the Inland Empire throughout the nineteenth and twentieth centuries By examining policies and forces as different as historical societies Indian boarding schools bicycle ordinances immigration policy incarceration traffic checkpoints and Route 66 heritage she shows how local authorities constructed a racial hierarchy by allowing some people to move freely while placing limits on the mobility of others Highlighting the ways people of color have negotiated their place within these systems Carpio reveals a compelling and perceptive analysis of spatial mobility through physical movement and residence Radicalism at the Crossroads Dayo F. Gore, 2012-10-01 With the exception of a few iconic moments such as Rosa Parks s 1955 refusal to move to the back of a Montgomery bus we hear little about what black women activists did prior to 1960 Perhaps this gap is due to the severe repression that radicals of any color in America faced as early as the 1930s and into the Red Scare of the 1950s To be radical and black and a woman was to be forced to the margins and consequently these women's stories have been deeply buried and all but forgotten by the general public and historians alike In this exciting work of historical recovery Dayo F Gore unearths and examines a dynamic extended network of black radical women during the early Cold War including established Communist Party activists such as Claudia Jones artists and writers such as Beulah Richardson and lesser known organizers such as Vicki Garvin and Thelma Dale These women were part of a black left that laid much of the groundwork for both the Civil Rights Movement of the 1960s and later strains of black radicalism Radicalism at the Crossroads offers a sustained and in depth analysis of the political thought and activism of black women radicals during the Cold War period and adds a new dimension to our understanding of this tumultuous time in United States history The Arc of the Universe is Long

The Behavior of Social Justice Natalie Parks, Francesca Barbieri, Ryan Sain, Shawn Thomas Capell, Beverly Kirby, 2024-10-01 This seminal work utilizes the principles of applied behavior analysis ABA to understand people s actions It provides a framework for the study of social injustices that moves beyond just condemning others for their oppressive behaviors outlining solutions that help work towards a more socially just society Divided across three main sections the book outlines the basic principles of applied behavior analysis considers key tenets of social justice work and examines how social justice work can be carried out on an individual and a wider institutional level The first section focuses on the principles of behavior and how it expounds on the causes reasons and purposes behind one s actions The subsequent sections pay particular attention to how prejudice stereotypes and bias play out in society and how prejudices and biases make us more likely to participate in social injustices The third section provides a behavioral description of various isms and discusses the difference between isms and individual behaviors before exploring common isms The book concludes with an analysis of the reasons behind their persistence followed by solutions that can be embraced by people Packed with case studies and reflective questions The Behavior of Social Justice is an essential reading for students and scholars of behavioral sciences psychology sociology and education as well as academics and researchers interested in the study of social justice

CrossRoutes, the Meanings of "race" for the 21st Century Paola Boi, 2003 This collection reflects the still urgent project of historical recuperation as well as an examination of literary representations and other cultural manifestations of the Black Diaspora. Disciplinary work within the boundaries of African American Studies has been enhanced by more general considerations of the history of race and racism in globalized contexts. The articles assembled here reflect recent empirical research as well as challenging theoretical considerations. Contributions address particular formations of racialized modernity owed to the impact of the Atlantic slave trade and slavery and thus broaden the approach to the Middle Passage to improve our understanding of it as a constitutive transatlantic phenomenon in the widest possible sense.

Race in Society
Margaret L. Andersen, 2021-03-12
Comprehensive yet concise Margaret Andersen's Race in Society Second Edition is a topical introduction to race and ethnicity organized around four key questions: What does the idea of race mean and where does it come from? What are the consequences of the social construction of race? How is racial inequality structured into social institutions? What are different policies and approaches for change toward racial justice? In her accessible, student-friendly style, Andersen introduces readers to the current scholarship on race, including recent studies conducted during the COVID-19 pandemic and the protests following the murder of George Floyd. New to this edition: New coverage of the effects of COVID-19 included throughout the book, including its impact on anti-Asian racism, violent crime, racial disparities in health care, and people of color in low-wage service jobs. Expanded discussion of immigration, including US politics about immigration and national borders, displays the connection between immigration and racialization. Updated discussion of policing, police violence, and both historical and contemporary acts of vigilante justice against people of color. Updated information on residential and educational segregation, including new material on the racial achievement gap and the effects of school closures during the COVID-19 pandemic.

Bombs over Bikini
Connie Goldsmith, 2014-01-01
In 1946, as part of the Cold War arms race, the US military launched a program to test nuclear bombs in the Marshall Islands of the Pacific Ocean. From 1946 until 1958, the military detonated sixty-seven nuclear bombs over the region's Bikini and Eniwetok Atolls. The twelfth bomb, called Bravo, became the world's first nuclear disaster. It sent a toxic cloud of radiation over Rongelap Atoll and other nearby inhabited islands. The testing was intended to advance scientific knowledge about nuclear bombs and radiation, but it had much more far-reaching effects. Some of the islanders suffered burns, cancers, birth defects, and other medical tragedies as a result of radiation poisoning. Many of the Marshallese were resettled on other Pacific islands or in the United States. They and their descendants cannot yet return to Bikini, which remains contaminated by radiation. And while the United States claims it is now safe to resettle Rongelap, only a few construction workers live there on a temporary basis. For Bombs over Bikini, author Connie Goldsmith researched government documents, military film footage, and other primary source documents to tell the story of the world's first nuclear disaster. You'll meet the people who planned the test operations, the Marshall Islanders who lost their homes and suffered from radiation illnesses, and those who have worked to hold the US government accountable for catastrophically poor planning. Was the new knowledge about nuclear bombs and radiation worth the cost in
