Racist Murder Of Stephen Lawrence Media Performance And Public Transformation:

The Racist Murder of Stephen Lawrence Simon Cottle, 2004-10-30 Simon Cottle examines how the media coverage of the racist murder of an 18 year old black student prompted British society to re examine questions of in justice cultural identity and racism Victor Turner and Contemporary Cultural Performance Graham St John, 2008-04-01 Upon the 25th anniversary of his passing this collection addresses the wide application of Victor Turner s thought to cultural performance in the early 21st century From anthropology sociology and religious studies to performance cultural and media studies Turner s ideas have had a prodigious interdisciplinary impact Examining his relevance in studies of performance and popular culture media and religion along with the role of Edith Turner in the Turnerian project contributors explore how these ideas have been re engaged renovated and repurposed in studies of contemporary cultural performance Alternative and

Mainstream Media Linda Jean Kenix, 2011-11-01 This book is available as open access through the Bloomsbury Open Access programme and is available on www.bloomsburycollections.com Historically alternative media have been viewed as fundamental albeit at times culturally peripheral forces in social change In this book however Kenix argues that these media do not uniformly subvert the hierarchies of access that are so central to mainstream media in fact their journalistic norms and routines have always been based on the professional standards of the mainstream Kenix goes on to posit the perception of mainstream and alternative as a misconception She argues that although alternative media can and do construct distinct alternative communications they have always existed on the same continuum as the mainstream and the two will continue to converge Through comparative analysis this book argues that many alternative and mainstream media are merging to create a continuous spectrum rooted in commercial ideology Indeed much of what is now considered alternative media actually draws very little from principles of the independent press whereas many contemporary mainstream media now use communication techniques more commonly associated with media that do not operate for financial gain This book puts forward a controversial but convincing argument around the relationship between alternative and mainstream media drawing on examples from the UK US Australia and New Zealand to strengthen and develop the central premise

The Chicago Conspiracy Trial and the Press Nick Sharman, 2016-05-11 This book analyzes the newspaper coverage of one of America's most famous and dramatic trials the trial of the Chicago 8 Covering a five month period from September 1969 to February 1970 the book considers the way eight radical activists including Black Panther leader Bobby Seale antiwar activists Tom Hayden David Dellinger and Rennie Davis and leading Yippies Abbie Hoffman and Jerry Rubin are represented in the press How did the New York Times represent Judge Hoffman's decision to chain and gag Bobby Seale in the courtroom for demanding his right to represent himself To what extent did the press adequately describe the injustice visited on the defendants in the trial by the presiding Judge Julius J Hoffman The author aims to answer these questions and demonstrate the press's reluctance to criticize Judge Hoffman in the case until the evidence of his misconduct of the trial became overwhelming

Connecting After Chaos Stephen F. Ostertag, 2023-07-11 A riveting portrait of how one community used the power of culture to restore their lives and social connections in the years after a devastating natural disaster Natural disasters and other such catastrophes typically attract large scale media attention and public concern in their immediate aftermath However rebuilding efforts can take years or even decades and communities are often left to repair physical and psychological damage on their own once public sympathy fades away Connecting After Chaos tells the story of how people restored their lives and society in the months and years after disaster focusing on how New Orleanians used social media to cope with trauma following Hurricane Katrina Stephen F Ostertag draws on almost a decade of research to create a vivid portrait of life in settling times a term he defines as a distinct social condition of prolonged insecurity and uncertainty after disasters He portrays this precarious state through the story of how a group of strangers began blogging in the wake of Katrina and how they used those blogs to put their lives and their city back together In the face of institutional failure weak authority figures and an abundance of chaos the people of New Orleans used social media to gain information foster camaraderie build support networks advocate for and against proposed policies and cope with trauma In the efforts of these bloggers Ostertag finds evidence of the capacity of this and other forms of cultural work to motivate guide and energize collective action aimed at weathering the constant instability of extended recovery periods Connecting After Chaos is both a compelling story of a community in crisis and a broader argument for the power of social media and cultural cooperation to create order when chaos abounds

Media and Mass Atrocity Allan Thompson, 2019-04-05 When human beings are at their worst as they most certainly were in Rwanda during the 1994 genocide the world needs the institutions of journalism and the media to be at their best Sadly in Rwanda the media fell short Media and Mass Atrocity revisits the case of Rwanda but also examines how the nexus between media and mass atrocity has been shaped by the dramatic rise of social media It has been twenty five years since Rwanda slid into the abyss The killings happened in broad daylight but many of us turned away A quarter century later there is still much to learn about the relationship between the media and genocide an issue laid bare by the Rwanda tragedy Media and Mass Atrocity revisits the debate over the role of traditional news media in Rwanda where confronted by the horrors taking place international news media for the most part turned away and at times muddled the story when they did pay attention Hate media outlets in Rwanda played a role in laying the groundwork for genocide and then actively encouraged the extermination campaign The news media not only failed to fully grasp and communicate the genocide but mostly overlooked the war crimes committed during the genocide and in its aftermath by the Rwandan Patriotic Front The global media landscape has been transformed since Rwanda We are now saturated with social media generated as often as not by non journalists Mobile phones are everywhere And in many quarters the traditional news media business model continues to recede Against that backdrop it is more important than ever to examine the nexus between media and mass atrocity The book includes an extensive section on the echoes of Rwanda which looks at the cases of Darfur the Central African Republic Myanmar and South Sudan while the impact of social media as a new actor is examined through chapters on social media use by the Islamic State and in Syria and in other contexts across the developing world It also looks at the aftermath of the genocide the shifting narrative of the genocide itself the evolving debate over the role and impact of hate media in Rwanda the challenge of digitizing archival records of the genocide and the fostering of free and independent media in atrocity's wake The volume also probes how journalists themselves confront mass atrocity and examines the preventive function of media through the use of advanced digital technology as well as radio programming in the Lake Chad Basin and the Democratic Republic of Congo Media and Mass Atrocity questions what the lessons of Rwanda mean now in an age of communications so dramatically influenced by social media and the relative decline of traditional news media

Making Anti-Racial Discrimination Law Iyiola Solanke, 2012-08-21 Making Anti Racial Discrimination Law examines the evolution of anti racial discrimination law from a socio legal perspective Taking a comparative and interdisciplinary approach the book does not simply look at race and society or race and law but brings these areas together by drawing out the tension in the process in different countries by which race becomes a policy issue which is subsequently regulated by law Moving beyond traditional social movement theory to include the extreme right wing as a social actor the study identifies the role of extreme right wing confrontation in agenda setting and law making a feature often neglected in studies of social action In so doing it identifies the influence of both the extreme right and liberalism on anti racial discrimination law Focusing primarily on Great Britain and Germany the book also demonstrates how national politics feeds into EU policy and identifies some of the challenges in creating a high and uniform level of protection against racial discrimination throughout the EU Using primary archival materials from Germany and the UK the empirical richness of this book constitutes a valuable contribution to the field of anti racial discrimination law at both undergraduate and postgraduate level The book will interest specialists and academics in law sociology and political science as well as non specialists who will find this study stimulating and useful to expand their knowledge of anti racial discrimination law or pursue teaching goals policy objectives and reform agendas
