Serial Murder and Media Circuses Dirk C. Gibson, 2006-07-30 The Axman of New Orleans specialized in killing grocers of Italian descent in the 1910s apparently to promote jazz music Dorothea Puente was a little old landlady who murdered her tenants but kept cashing their government checks The Manson Family terrorized California in the 1960s as did the Hillside Stranglers a decade later Twelve serial murder cases occurring in eight decades between the 1890s and 1990s had one thing in common significant presence of the mass media This book examines these specific cases of serial murder and the way the media became involved in the investigations and trials of each Gibson argues that the American media plays a multidimensional and integral role in serial killings and their investigation and that this role is not generally a positive one Serial murder cases motivate the media in unfortunate ways and the result is that even typically respectable media organizations can be involved in such things as document theft or in interfering with the capture of serial murderers on the run This link between multiple murderers and mass communication is not accidental or coincidental rather the relationship between the press and serial killers is one of extraordinary importance to both parties Gibson examines the role of the media in serial murder cases the body of knowledge on serial murder as seen through the lens of mass communication the effectiveness of law enforcement responses to serial murderers and how they might be improved if the mass communication influence was better understood the magnitude of the serial murder problem and the interaction between the media the killers and serial murder investigations Specific examples and numerous quotes are provided throughout to illustrate this strange and detrimental relationship between media and serial murderers

The Evil 100 Martin Gilman Wolcott,2004 Who was the vilest of the vile the baddest of the bad For armies of armchair thrill seekers and shudder hounds everywhere The Evil 100 presents a cold heartless ranking of the world s 100 most malevolent people past and present Including well known figures from Stalin to Jack the Ripper to Bin Laden obscure characters like King Astyges who punished a servant by feeding the man his own son and evil organisations such as the Klu Klux Klan This makes for more than a simple catalogue of atrocities it is a serious examination of the darker side to human nature

The Serial Killer Files Paul Simpson,2017-05-18 There are many myths about serial killers that they are all dysfunctional loners all white males only motivated by sex that they all travel and operate across a wide area cannot stop killing are all insane or evil geniuses and that they all want to get caught Of course there are some serial killers who fit into these categories but the married Green River Killer was not a dysfunctional loner there are plenty of female and non Caucasian serial killers Dr Harold Shipman was certainly not motivated by sex many serial killings such as the Ipswich prostitute murders carried out by Steve Wright happen within a confined area the BTK Killer Dennis Rader stopped killing in 1991 but wasn t caught until fourteen years later Many serial killers may have a low animal cunning or be street smart but few of them are Mensa level geniuses Each of the thirty cases covered here is unusual in some respect perhaps in the way in which the killer carried out their crimes the choice of victims the way in which they were apprehended or the method of their execution The cases are presented alphabetically by country from Australia via Colombia Great Britain Indonesia Iran South Africa and elsewhere to the United States and then chronologically They come from across history and from all over the world The author has gone back as far as possible to contemporary source material newspaper accounts trial evidence interviews with perpetrators or survivors rather than rely on the increasingly blurred truth to be found online and in far too many collections
