The River Between the Stars: A Song of Exile and Harmony Margaret Nguyen,

The Organic Machine Richard White, 2011-04-01 The Hill and Wang Critical Issues Series concise affordable works on pivotal topics in American history society and politics In this pioneering study White explores the relationship between the natural history of the Columbia River and the human history of the Pacific Northwest for both whites and Native Americans He concentrates on what brings humans and the river together not only the physical space of the region but also and primarily energy and work For working with the river has been central to Pacific Northwesterners competing ways of life It is in this way that White comes to view the Columbia River as an organic machine with conflicting human and natural claims and to show that whatever separation exists between humans and nature exists to be crossed Rivers and Harbors, Flood Control, 1963 United States. Congress. House. Committee on Public Works, 1963 Geomorphic Analysis of River Systems Kirstie A. Fryirs, Gary J. Brierley, 2012-09-26 Filling a niche in the geomorphology teaching market this introductory book is built around a 12 week course in fluvial geomorphology Reading the landscape entails making sense of what a riverscape looks like how it works how it has evolved over time and how alterations to one part of a catchment may have secondary consequences elsewhere over different timeframes These place based field analyses are framed within their topographic climatic and environmental context Issues and principles presented in the first part of this book provide foundational understandings that underpin the approach to reading the landscape that is presented in the second half of the book In reading the landscape detective style investigations and interpretations are tied to theoretical and conceptual principles to generate catchment specific analyses of river character behaviour and evolution including responses to human disturbance This book has been constructed as an introductory text on river landscapes providing a bridge and or companion to quantitatively framed or modelled approaches to landscape analysis that are addressed elsewhere Key principles outlined in the book emphasise the importance of complexity contingency and emergence in interpreting the character behaviour and evolution of any given system The target audience is second and third year undergraduate students in geomorphology hydrology earth science and environmental science as well as river practitioners who use geomorphic understandings to guide scientific and or management applications The primary focus of Kirstie and Gary s research and teaching entails the use of geomorphic principles as a tool with which to develop coherent scientific understandings of river systems and the application of these understandings in management practice Kirstie and Gary are co developers of the River Styles Framework and Short Course that is widely used in river management decision making and training Additional resources for this book can be found at www.wiley.com/go/fryirs_riversystems The Meaning of Rivers T. S. McMillin, 2011-03-15 In the continental United States rivers serve to connect state to state interior with exterior the past to the present but they also divide places and peoples from one another These connections and divisions have given rise to a diverse body of literature that explores American nature ranging from travel accounts of seventeenth century Puritan colonists to magazine articles by twenty first century enthusiasts of extreme sports Using pivotal American writings to determine both what literature can tell us about rivers and conversely how rivers help us think about the nature of literature The Meaning of Rivers introduces readers to the rich world of flowing water and some of the different ways in which American writers have used rivers to understand the world through which these waters flow Embracing a hybrid essayistic form part literary theory part cultural history and part fieldwork The Meaning of Rivers connects the humanities to other disciplines and scholarly work to the land Whether developing a theory of palindromes or reading works of American literature as varied as Henry David Thoreau's A Week on the Concord and Merrimack Rivers and James Dickey's Deliverance. McMillin urges readers toward a transcendental retracing of their own interpretive encounters. The nature of texts and the nature of nature require diverse and versatile interpretation; interpretation requires not only depth and concentration but also imaginative thinking, broad-mindedness, and engaged connection-making. By taking us upstream as well as down, McMillin draws attention to the potential of rivers for improving our sense of place and time.

Afrotropical Streams and Rivers Tatenda Dalu, Frank Masese, 2024-11-09. The Afrotropical Streams and Rivers: Structure, Ecological Processes, and Management is a comprehensive guide that provides assessment of major rivers and tributaries in Africa. Unlike other books available, the editors present a thorough study of geomorphological, hydrological, biological, and ecological processes, incorporating a range of plant and animal communities while considering implications of human communities that depend upon them. This book, edited by a diverse cohort of researchers and/or scholars, is intended as an educational and practical guide for graduate students, researchers, and scientists who focus on the biodiversity conservation and management policy issues of the African river systems. Provides a comprehensive introduction to African freshwater rivers, their biota, and abiotic processes. Contains unique case studies on African streams and rivers. Organised around an interdisciplinary approach that covers the complex aspects of conservation and management of African river systems on the continent.

Energy In The 21st Century (4th Edition) John R Fanchi, Christopher J Fanchi, 2016-09-16. Energy in the 21st Century is a valuable source of information for students, decision makers, opinion leaders, and the general public. Oil and natural gas price volatility continue to affect both the supply and demand for energy. Advances in other technologies such as nuclear, wind, solar, and tidal technology are altering the comparative economics of competing energy sources. New government policies are changing the landscape of the global energy marketplace. From our reliance on fossil fuels to the quest for new sources of energy, Energy in the 21st Century provides a fact-based analysis of the most prominent energy issues of our time. The fourth edition updates data and includes more discussion of recent advances. Some of the highlights of the fourth edition are expanded discussion of climate change and anthropogenic climate change, the 2015 COP21 Paris Agreement on Climate Change, nuclear fusion reactor prototypes, tokamak ITER and stellarator W7-X, advances in solar thermal and solar photovoltaic power plants, space-based solar power, transparent photovoltaic cells, and hybrid solar-wind technology, tidal and wave energy converters, oil from algae, the EU Supergrid, the Goldilocks Policy for energy transition, and the Grand Energy Bargain. Energy in the 21st Century has been used as the text for the general college student population as well as energy overview for MBA students. Pedagogical material includes learning objectives at the beginning of each chapter, end-of-chapter activities, a comprehensive index, a glossary, and an Appendix to help with converting units. Points to Ponder are provided throughout the text and are designed to encourage the reader to consider material from different perspectives. China Micah S. Muscolino,2015 This book explores the interplay between war and the environment in Henan Province a hotly contested frontline territory that endured massive environmental destruction and human disruption during the conflict between China and Japan that raged during World War II In a desperate attempt to block Japan s military advance Chinese Nationalist armies under Chiang Kai shek broke the Yellow River s dikes in Henan in June 1938 resulting in devastating floods that persisted until after the war s end Greater catastrophe struck Henan in 1942 1943 when famine took some two million lives and displaced millions more Focusing on these war induced disasters and their aftermath this book conceptualizes the ecology of war in terms of energy flows through and between militaries societies and environments

Ultimately Micah Muscolino argues that efforts to procure and exploit nature's energy in various forms shaped the choices of generals the fates of communities and the trajectory of environmental change in North China Rivers and Harbors--flood Control, 1963 United States.
