The first generation of socially emancipated women have reached an important frontier; they have fulfilled all their roles: daughter, wife, mother, career woman. Yet with longer life expectancy and better health, they have no intention of retiring from the world. At the same time, these women are experiencing an often bewildering array of physical readjustments; their brains experience a growth very similar to that in adolescence; they enter menopause; their sexual and emotional rhythms change. Such momentous challenges raise three crucial questions that each woman must answer for herself: What matters? What works? What's next? Drawing on interviews, science, trend analysis, and her own struggles, Levine explores all the issues and offers countless stories of how others have answered those three questions. This is the inspiring handbook and companion for every woman entering these uncharted waters. Primary Care of Women Barbara Hackley, Jan M. Kriebs, Mary Ellen Rousseau, 2007 This text presents primary care information for the nurse-midwifery scope of practice, including management of primary care problems in essentially healthy women and the management/coordination of primary care for pregnant women with significant established medical conditions. The text covers prevention, including lifestyle changes and immunizations; screening; management of common health problems appropriate to nurse-midwifery practice; and the presentation and management of common health problems in pregnancy.
