Sea Island to City Clyde Vernon Kiser, 1932      Sea Island to City. A Study of St. Helena Islanders in Harlem and Other Urban Centers, Etc. [A Thesis.]. Clyde Vernon KISER, 1932      Sea Island to City Clyde V. Kiser, 1967      Sea Island to City Clyde V. Kiser, Julian Smith Duncan, 1932      A New Plantation World Daniel J. Vivian, 2018-03-01 In the era between the world wars wealthy sportsmen and sportswomen created more than seventy large estates in the coastal region of South Carolina By retaining select features from earlier periods and adding new buildings and landscapes wealthy sporting enthusiasts created a new type of plantation In the process they changed the meaning of the word plantation with profound implications for historical memory of slavery and contemporary views of the South A New Plantation World is the first critical investigation of these sporting plantations By examining the process that remade former sites of slave labor into places of leisure Daniel Vivian explores the changing symbolism of plantations in Jim Crow era America      Catalogue of Copyright Entries Library of Congress. Copyright Office, 1932      Making Gullah Melissa L. Cooper, 2017-03-16 During the 1920s and 1930s anthropologists and folklorists became obsessed with uncovering connections between African Americans and their African roots At the same time popular print media and artistic productions tapped the new appeal of black folk life highlighting African styled voodoo as an essential element of black folk culture A number of researchers converged on one site in particular Sapelo Island Georgia to seek support for their theories about African survivals bringing with them a curious mix of both influences The legacy of that body of research is the area s contemporary identification as a Gullah community This wide ranging history upends a long tradition of scrutinizing the Low Country blacks of Sapelo Island by refocusing the observational lens on those who studied them Cooper uses a wide variety of sources to unmask the connections between the rise of the social sciences the voodoo craze during the interwar years the black studies movement and black land loss and land struggles in coastal black communities in the Low Country What emerges is a fascinating examination of Gullah people s heritage and how it was reimagined and transformed to serve vastly divergent ends over the decades      First Fruits of Freedom Janette Thomas Greenwood, 2010-03-01 A moving narrative that offers a rare glimpse into the lives of African American men women and children on the cusp of freedom First Fruits of Freedom chronicles one of the first collective migrations of blacks from the South to the North during and after the Civil War Janette Thomas Greenwood relates the history of a network forged between Worcester County Massachusetts and eastern North Carolina as a result of Worcester regiments taking control of northeastern North Carolina during the war White soldiers from Worcester a hotbed of abolitionism protected refugee slaves set up schools for them and led them north at war s end White patrons and a supportive black community helped many migrants fulfill their aspirations for complete emancipation and facilitated the arrival of additional family members and friends Migrants established a small black community in Worcester with a distinctive southern flavor But even in the North white sympathy did not continue after the Civil War Despite their many efforts black Worcesterites were generally disappointed in their hopes for full fledged citizenship reflecting the larger national trajectory of Reconstruction and its aftermath

Daily Life during African American Migrations Kimberley L. Phillips, 2012-05-03 This book examines the century long migration of African Americans who moved within the South after the Civil War and then left to settle permanently in other regions irrevocably altering the political social and cultural history of the United States and considers these movements within the broader historical political and cultural context of the African Diaspora Daily Life during African American Migrations focuses attention to the everyday social cultural and political lives of migrants in the United States as they established communities far away from their former homes This book examines blacks labor and urban experiences social and political activism and cultural and communal identities while also considering the specificity of African Americans migration as part of their long struggle for freedom and equality The author merges information from black migration studies which focus on the internal movement of African American people in the United States with African Diaspora studies which consider peoples of African descent who have settled far from their native homes either voluntarily or through duress to document how these immigrants and their children create new communities while maintaining cultural connections with Africa The stories of the nine million African Americans who collectively left the South between 1865 and 1965 and the millions more who left the Caribbean and Africa not only document this long history of migration but also present compelling human drama

Black Exodus Alferdteen Harrison, 2010-01-06 With essays by Blyden Jackson Dernoral Davis Stewart E Tolnay and E M Beck Carole Marks James R Grossman and William Cohen and Neil R McMillen What were the causes that motivated legions of black southerners to immigrate to the North What was the impact upon the land they left and upon the communities they chose for their new homes Perhaps no pattern of migration has changed America's socioeconomic structure more than this mass exodus of African Americans in the first half of the twentieth century Because of this exodus the South lost not only a huge percentage of its inhabitants to northern cities like Chicago New York Detroit and Philadelphia but also its supply of cheap labor Fleeing from racial injustice and poverty southern blacks took their culture north with them and transformed northern urban centers with their churches social institutions and ways of life In Black Exodus eight noted scholars consider the causes that stimulated the migration and examine the far reaching results

Labor of Love, Labor of Sorrow Jacqueline Jones, 2009-12-29 The forces that shaped the institution of slavery in the American South endured albeit in altered form long after slavery was abolished Toiling in sweltering Virginia tobacco factories or in the kitchens of white families in Chicago black women felt a stultifying combination of racial discrimination and sexual prejudice And yet in their efforts to sustain family ties they shared a common purpose with wives and mothers of all classes In Labor of Love Labor of Sorrow historian Jacqueline Jones offers a powerful account of the changing role of black women lending a voice to an unsung struggle from the depths of slavery to the ongoing fight for civil rights
