Of Empires and Citizens Amaney A. Jamal,2012-09-09 In the post Cold War era why has democratization been slow to arrive in the Arab world This book argues that to understand support for the authoritarian status quo in parts of this region and the willingness of its citizens to compromise on core democratic principles one must factor in how a strong U S presence and popular anti Americanism weakens democratic voices Examining such countries as Jordan Kuwait Morocco Palestine and Saudi Arabia Amaney Jamal explores how Arab citizens decide whether to back existing regimes regime transitions and democratization projects and how the global position of Arab states shapes people s attitudes toward their governments While the Cold War s end reduced superpower hegemony in much of the developing world the Arab region witnessed an increased security and economic dependence on the United States As a result the preferences of the United States matter greatly to middle class Arab citizens not just the elite and citizens will restrain their pursuit of democratization rationalizing their backing for the status quo because of U S geostrategic priorities Demonstrating how the preferences of an international patron serve as a constraint or an opportunity to push for democracy Jamal questions bottom up approaches to democratization which assume that states are autonomous units in the world order Jamal contends that even now with the overthrow of some autocratic Arab regimes the future course of Arab democratization will be influenced by the perception of American reactions Concurrently the United States must address the troubling sources of the region s rising anti Americanism

Wired Citizenship Linda Herrera,2014-03-05 Wired Citizenship examines the evolving patterns of youth learning and activism in the Middle East and North Africa MENA In today s digital age in which formal schooling often competes with the peer driven outlets provided by social media youth all over the globe have forged new models of civic engagement rewriting the script of what it means to live in a democratic society As a result state society relationships have shifted never more clearly than in the MENA region where recent uprisings were spurred by the mobilization of tech savvy and politicized youth Combining original research with a thorough exploration of theories of democracy communications and critical pedagogy this edited collection describes how youth are performing citizenship innovating systems of learning and re imagining the practices of activism in the information age Recent case studies illustrate the context specific effects of these revolutionary new forms of learning and social engagement in the MENA region

Higher education for democratic innovation Bergan, Sjur, Gallagher, Tony, Harkavy, Ira, 2016-02-22 Democracy is increasingly the standard against which societies are measured The term democratic culture designates the set of attitudes and behaviours that citizens need to have for democratic institutions and laws to function in practice This is an important development from older perceptions of democracy which focused on institutions laws and procedures It is a recognition that democracy will not function unless citizens want it to function In all countries there are committed individuals aspiring to make their societies better democracies As the Secretary General of the Council of Europe Thorbjørn Jagland has said on several occasions our societies seek to address 21st century issues through 19th century institutions Through contributions by authors from Europe North America and other parts of the world this book explores how higher education can help find new ways to develop commitment to public space and societal engagement and make democracy more vibrant Industrial Islamism Utku Baris Balaban, 2025 A free ebook version of this title is available through Luminos University of California Press's Open Access publishing program Visit www.luminosoa.org to learn more Industrial Islamism analyzes the relationship since the end of the Cold War between the rise of political Islamism in Muslim majority countries and the rise of a new global middle class of industrial entrepreneurs Challenging common assumptions Utku Balaban questions the idea that political Islamism represents the antithesis of Western modernity and industrialization On the contrary the more enthusiastically a Muslim majority country industrializes the more Islamized its politics becomes The book focuses on Turkey historically the most industrialized Muslim majority country in the world with the most successful Islamist movement and a relatively competitive electoral system It provides a fine grained historical and ethnographic analysis at the local level of urban industrial control over workers in sweatshops and working class neighborhoods by this new global middle class whom Balaban calls the faubourgeoisie As the central actor behind Turkey's post Cold War industrialization the faubourgeoisie allies with the Islamist movement to control its workers and significantly influence national politics Against Racism Monica Moreno Figueroa, Peter Wade, 2022-03-22 Powerful narratives often describe Latin American nations as fundamentally mestizo These narratives have hampered the acknowledgment of racism in the region but recent multiculturalist reforms have increased recognition of Black and Indigenous identities and cultures Multiculturalism may focus on identity and visibility and address more casual and social forms of racism but can also distract attention from structural racism and racialized inequality and constrain larger antiracist initiatives Additionally multiple understandings of how racism and antiracism fit into projects of social transformation make racism a complex and multifaceted issue The essays in Against Racism examine actors in Brazil Colombia Ecuador and Mexico that move beyond recognition politics to address structural inequalities and material conflicts and build common ground with other marginalized groups The organizations in this study advocate an approach to deep social structural transformation that is inclusive fosters alliances and is inspired by a radical imagination South Asia Bulletin, 2006 A New Type of Womanhood Natasha Kirsten Kraus, 2008-08-18 Sociological analysis of the ideology and the reality of True Womanhood as manifest in 19th century NY state culture and politics as well as those feminist protests and legislative market developments which revised this contradiction The Making of the Middle Class A. Ricardo López, 2012-01-18 The contributors question the current academic understanding of what is known as the global middle class They see middle class formation as transnational and they examine this group through the lenses of economics gender race and religion from the mid nineteenth century to today Encountering Morocco David Crawford, Rachel Newcomb, 2013-05-15 Encountering Morocco introduces readers to life in this North African country through vivid accounts of fieldwork as personal experience and intellectual journey We meet the contributors at diverse stages of their careers from the unmarried researcher arriving for her first stint in the field to the seasoned fieldworker returning with spouse and children They offer frank descriptions of what it means to take up residence in a place where one is regarded as an outsider learn the language and local customs and struggle to develop rapport Moving reflections on friendship kinship and belief within the cross cultural encounter reveal why study of Moroccan society has played such a seminal role in the development of cultural anthropology The Global Crisis and Transformative Social Change P. Utting, S. Razavi, R. Varghese Buchholz, 2012-03-02 Global crises not only deeply impact the economy and people's livelihoods they also unsettle basic ideas and assumptions about the meaning and drivers of development This collection of theoretical and empirical studies explores the substance and politics of policy change following the 2007-8 crisis from the perspective of developing countries Challenges to the Cohesion of the Arab State Asher Susser, 2008 The relative weakness of the Arab state system and the spread of radical Islam threaten to undermine the cohesion of some key Arab states How are they coping with these challenges To what extent are their efforts succeeding in maintaining cohesion of the Arab States This work seeks to examine these crucial questions
