The City Is More Than Human Frederick L. Brown,2016-10-03 Winner of the 2017 Virginia Marie Folkins Award Association of King County Historical Organizations AKCHO Winner of the 2017 Hal K Rothman Book Prize Western History Association Seattle would not exist without animals Animals have played a vital role in shaping the city from its founding amid existing indigenous towns in the mid nineteenth century to the livestock friendly town of the late nineteenth century to the pet friendly livestock averse modern city When newcomers first arrived in the 1850s they hastened to assemble the familiar cohort of cattle horses pigs chickens and other animals that defined European agriculture This in turn contributed to the dispossession of the Native residents of the area However just as various animals were used to create a Euro American city the elimination of these same animals from Seattle was key to the creation of the new middle class neighborhoods of the twentieth century As dogs and cats came to symbolize home and family Seattleites relationship with livestock became distant and exploitative demonstrating the deep social contradictions that characterize the modern American metropolis Throughout Seattle s history people have sorted animals into categories and into places as a way of asserting power over animals other people and property In The City Is More Than Human Frederick Brown explores the dynamic troubled relationship humans have with animals In so doing he challenges us to acknowledge the role of animals of all sorts in the making and remaking of cities

It traces her beginnings as the child of freed blacks in antebellum Pennsylvania, her turbulent marriages, her search for communities and faith in New York City, and her eventual prominence as a camp fire missionary and as a world traveler of spiritual faith. This thoughtful individual study probes the complex relationship between herself and other contemporary reformers, black and white, and answers many questions left unanswered by Smith's own autobiography.

Trailblazing Black Women of Washington State Marilyn Morgan, 2022. Breaking glass ceilings, organizing clubs, and making history as the first in their fields, these trailblazing Black women paved the way for new generations. From Nettie Craig Asberry, founder of the Tacoma NAACP, to Dr. Dolores Silas, now honored by a school bearing her name, these women forged a path amid adversity. Black women were crucial to the war effort, working as Rosies at Boeing during World War II, and in the post-war years, Seattle musicians like Edyth Turnham and Her Knights of Syncopation were in high demand. These teachers, scientists, and politicians served on boards, led protests, and fought for civil rights across the state. Join author and historian Marilyn Morgan as she chronicles the incredible lives and contributions of Washington's Black women.

Pioneer Women Linda S. Peavy, Ursula Smith, 1998. Describes the lives of women of various backgrounds as they traveled west, established homes, worked inside and outside the home, and helped to develop settled society.

Emancipation John Clay Smith (Jr.), 1999. Emancipation is the first truly comprehensive reference book covering the first one hundred years of African Americans in the legal profession. Other legal historians and biographers must take Smith's work as a starting point for gauging the impact Black lawyers and institutions have had upon the evolution of the American legal profession.

Black Issues in Higher Education The sheer quantity of information contained in Emancipation is overwhelming; the impact of page after page of data, stories, and lives, and the thousands of detailed, extensive footnotes and documentation is simply overpowering. It is a monumental achievement.

Southern University Law Review A remarkable piece of scholarship. Emancipation contains a wealth of information previously unknown, even to those who consider themselves well informed about African American history. It will, I am sure, serve as the definitive authority on the history of Black lawyers for years to come.

St. Louis Post Dispatch Emancipation is an important and impressive work; one cannot read it without being inspired by the legal acumen, creativity, and resiliency these pioneer lawyers displayed. It should be read by everyone interested in understanding the road African Americans have traveled and the challenges that lie ahead.

From the Foreword by Justice Thurgood Marshall: J. Clay Smith Jr. is Professor of Law and formerly Dean at the Howard University School of Law. He has served as President of the Washington Bar Association and as National President of the Federal Bar Association. He was appointed U.S. Commissioner of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission by President Jimmy Carter and later served as Acting Chairman under President Ronald Reagan. He is the author of Rebels in Law: Voices in History of Black Women Lawyers.
