airplane aviation and women's growing desire for equality in American society. In Their Own Words takes up the writings of eight women pilots as evidence of the ties between the growth of American aviation and the changing role of women. Harriet Quimby 1875-1912, Ruth Law 1887-1970, and the sisters Katherine and Marjorie Stinson 1893-1977, 1896-1975 came to prominence in the years between the Wright brothers and World War I. Earhart 1897-1937, Louise Thaden 1905-1979, and Ruth Nichols 1901-1960 were the voices of women in aviation during the Golden Age of Aviation. Anne Morrow Lindbergh 1906-2001, the only one of the eight who legitimately can be called an artist, bridges the time from her husband's 1927 flight through the World War II years and the coming of the Space Age. Each of them confronts issues relating to the developing technology and possibilities of aviation. Each speaks to the importance of assimilating aviation into daily life. Each details the part that women might and should play in advancing aviation. Each talks about how aviation may enhance women's participation in contemporary American society, making their works significant documents in the history of American culture.

For the first time, Joyce Milton gives us the dual biography of the wonder couple Charles and Anne Morrow Lindbergh. Their love prevailed against a horrifying kidnapping and murder splashed throughout the media, their careers, and even the criticism they underwent following their involvement in the America First movement as the United States entered World War II. With new information presented about their son's kidnapper Bruno Hauptmann and Charlie's own role in the case, Milton gives her readers a lot to think about. Thoroughly researched, Milton exposes a new understanding of and view into the personalities and lives of Charles, Anne, and the time they lived in. Women in World History Anne Commire, 1999. Presents biographical profiles of significant women from throughout the history of the world, each with birth and death dates, when known, a time line, quotation, and references arranged alphabetically from Laa Lyud. American Women Writers Taryn Benbow-Pfalzgraf, 2000. World Authors, 1900-1950 Martin Seymour-Smith, 1996. Representing a broad range of ethnic diversity, these in-depth profiles present fascinating accounts of lives and careers, the circumstances under which works were produced, and their literary significance. Each profile also includes critical evaluation, a list of the author's principal works with date first published, a list of major critical works, and a portrait or photograph where available.
