Myth In The Works Of Chingiz Aitmatov:

Myth in the Works of Chingiz Aitmatov Nina Kolesnikoff, 1999-05-13 Myth in the Works of Chingiz Aitmatov examines the use of mythology in the work of the contemporary Kirghiz writer Chingiz Aitmatov Nina Kolesnikoff traces Aitmatov's reliance on myth beginning with his early stories which introduce mythological motifs and ending with his latest novels which juxtapose mythological and realistic narratives She particularly focuses on Aitmatov's two novellas which use myth as a structural element that influences all other components and determines the final structure In addition she traces the sources of his mythological influence to Central Asia including that of the Kirghiz tribe but she also uncovers elements of Greek mythology and the Bible Kolesnikoff explores the unexpected influence of the Bible on a writer from within the Muslim tradition yet the Bible provides a rich source for many of his latest novels She concludes by contending that Aitmatov's The White Steamship and Spotted Dog Running Along the Seashore represent the most successful examples of modern prose constructed in accordance with the general mythological traditions and structural principles The Myth of the Non-Russian Erika Haber, 2003-01-01 The Myth of the Non Russian explores the magical realist prose of two non Slavic authors writing in Russian in the Soviet Union in the 1970s 1980s Erika Haber argues that these authors juxtaposed their native myth with Soviet myth thus undermining the Soviet prescription of national conformity in art by suggesting a plurality of worlds and truths Myth, Metaphor and Meaning Jill K. Sigman, 1998 New Directions in Soviet Literature Sheelagh Duffin Graham, 1992-12-13 This is a selection of papers on Russian literature of the Soviet period presented at the IVth World Congress for Soviet and East European Studies in 1990 The ten articles range from the experimental prose and drama of the 1920s to studies of work by younger writers of the 1980s The articles include analyses of works by individual writers and examinations of general phenomena for example village prose or the way Stalin is presented in literature of the glasnost era

Culture Rosalind Marsh, 1998-11-01 The image of women in Russian culture has undergone profound changes from the origins of modern Russian literature in the eighteenth century until the Revolution of 1917 when women were a source of fascination for Russian writers to the socialist realism period during which public discussion of the representation of women in literature rapidly declined and the woman question was declared to have been resolved to a reappraisal of the position of women since the 1980s This collection of essays by leading western and Russian specialists contains new insights and updates previous research into the role of women in Russian culture in the last two centuries and contributes to two exciting and growing research areas the feminist critique of work by Russian male authors and the study of Russian women writers Moreover whereas most previous studies have concentrated on the aesthetic qualities of works by women writers this collection includes both close textual analysis and the discussion of biographical historical and political questions relating both to the representation of women and women's culture. The aim is not to present a unified manifesto but rather to bring together a spectrum of approaches and positions within their common focus on the relationship between women and culture in Russia.
