Trueba, Lilly Cheng, Kenji Ima, 2012-10-12 Presents the reality of Asian successes and problems and challenges faced by immigrants in the USA Case studies and episodes are presented and the book shows data that calibrates the differential success of various Asian populations and the need to assist those who are less successful Mobilizing an Asian American Community Linda

Trinh Võ, 2004 Focusing on San Diego in the post Civil Rights era Linda Trinh V examines the ways Asian Americans drew together despite many differences within the group to construct a community that supports a variety of social economic political and cultural organizations Using historical materials ethnographic fieldwork and interviews Linda Trinh V traces the political strategies that enable Asian Americans to bridge ethnicity generation gender language and class differences among others She demonstrates that mobilization is not a smooth linear process and shows how the struggle over ideologies political strategies and resources affects the development of community organizations V also analyzes how Asian Americans construct their relationship with Asia and how they forge relationships with other racialized communities of color V argues that the situation in San Diego illuminates other localities across the country where Asians face challenges trying to organize find sufficient resources create leaders and define strategies In Defense of Asian American Studies Sucheng Chan, 2005 In

Defense of Asian American Studies offers fascinating tales from the trenches on the origins and evolution of the field of Asian American studies as told by one of its founders and most highly regarded scholars Wielding intellectual energy critical acumen and a sly sense of humor Sucheng Chan discusses her experiences on three campuses within the University of California system as Asian American studies was first developed in response to vehement student demand under the rubric of ethnic studies Chan speaks by turns as an advocate and an administrator striving to secure a place for Asian American studies as a teacher working to give Asian American students a voice and white students a perspective on race and racism and as a scholar and researcher still asking her own questions The essays span three decades and close with a piece on the new challenges facing Asian American studies Eloquently documenting a field of endeavor in which scholarship and identity define and strengthen each other In In Defense of Asian American Studies combines analysis personal experience and indispensable practical advice for those engaged in building and sustaining Asian American studies programs

Glass Ceilings and Asian Americans Deborah Woo,2000 Throughout the history of the United States fluctuations in cultural diversity immigration and ethnic group status have been closely linked to shifts in the economy and labor market Over three decades after the beginning of the civil rights movement and in the midst of significant socioeconomic change at the end of this century scholars search for new ways to describe the persistent roadblocks to upward mobility that women and people of color still encounter in the workforce In Glass Ceilings and Asian Americans Deborah Woo analyzes current scholarship and controversies on the glass ceiling and labor market discrimination in conjunction with the specific labor histories of Asian American ethnic groups She then presents unique in depth studies of two current sites a high tech firm and higher education to argue that a glass ceiling does in fact exist for Asian Americans both according to quantifiable data and to Asian American workers own perceptions of their workplace experiences Woo s studies make an important contribution to understanding the increasingly complex and subtle interactions between ethnicity and organizational cultures in today s economic institutions and labor markets

Voices of Asian Americans in Higher Education Festus E. Obiakor,Ying Hui-Michael,2018-10-01 Voices of Asian Americans in Higher Education Unheard Voices is a unique and historical book Asian Americans are often portrayed as model minority yet their personal and educational experiences are often unheard In this book 10 Asian American educators and scholars present realistic pictures of America s higher education using personal narratives The contributors in this book come from different regions and teach in different colleges and universities and coincidentally they all endure the outsider category formerly as students and now as professors and leaders This outsider status can be emotionally overwhelming and psychologically unnerving This status hampers opportunities for Asian Americans to grow and maximize their fullest potential Though they develop different strategies to address their outsider label it does not make it comfortable But time and time again they have proven that they can succeed In this technological age we must value unending truths as we educate ourselves and others We hope that this book will be an educational and informational resource for students administrators and faculty in higher education and also educational policy makers and stakeholders

Educating Asian Americans Russell Endo,Xue Lan Rong,2013-03-01 The achievement schooling and the ethnic identities of Asian American students are among the core areas in the field of Asian American education yet there is much that remains to be uncovered verified contradicted and learned through sound research especially as the Asian American population rapidly increases in size and in the diversification of its characteristics The chapters in this book deal present cutting edge work in these three areas and contain innovative perspectives new qualitative quantitative data and discussions of the implications of findings for educational policies practices and programs These chapters cover such specific topics as academic achievement gaps between Asian American and White students contemporary school experiences of Southeast Asians and of undocumented

Asian American students perspectives on teaching immigrant and refugee students and the development of ethnic identities This work is authored by well known higher education faculty as well as emerging scholars Overall this material represents a valuable timely and useful contribution to the literature on Asian Americans that will be of interest to faculty administrators policymakers researchers and students

Research on the Education of Asian Pacific Americans Vol. 1 Clara C. Park, A. Lin Goodwin, Stacey J. Lee, 2002-02-01

As the first volume in a series sponsored by SIG Research on the Education of Asian and Pacific Americans of the American Educational Research Association and California Association for Asian and Pacific American Education this book sheds important light on the educational needs of Asian and Pacific American students in K-12 college Each chapter illuminates the unique issues confronting Asian and Pacific Americans and provides crucial information necessary to understand how Asian and Pacific American students learn and how educational practitioners should work with Asian and Pacific students This body of knowledge can inform researchers and practitioners as well as policy makers of effective instruction for Asian and Pacific American students at all levels The series intends to be a national voice for the education of Asian and Pacific Americans and provide an integrated view of new knowledge in the field of Asian and Pacific American education from scholar practitioners perspectives
